BUTTER MART SLOW AND WEAK

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 31. (AP) —Nineteen cents is being paid for fancy dressed calves along the street this morning. Offerings are very scarce and the market strong. Butcher buyers are taking all choice light veal at 18½ cents with 18 cents paid for ordinary calves.

Stiff advances at the yards Monday with a light run of calves is also a bullish factor in the Front street trade. Veal receipts have been moderate for the past 10 days with a brisk demand for all arrivals.

Some of the retail butchers, unable to get their requirements along the street, have been quoting direct to country shippers and offering small premiums to get the calves.

Hogs Advance Also.

Country dressed hogs have not participated in the advance in calves. While receipts are only normal the demand is lacking and buyers are unwilling to go over 18½ cents for choice light stuff.

Live poultry is barely steady and the market is showing a slightly easier undertone. Receipts are plenty sufficient for the street's requirements. Poultry houses do not look for prices to hold much longer unless the receipts fall off.

The local butter market is slow and weak although there is little likelihood of a decline in prints for the time being. Most of the jobbers have plenty of butter in storage and are pulling this stock out of the cooler to meet requirements. Consequently the country surplus is dragging.

Fresh eggs continue firm and scarce with the meager offerings finding a ready demand.

Onion Market Better

The local onion market is showing more life. While there is little or no local stuff offered, recent rains at Walla Walla delayed harvest operations and strengthened that market. Portland dealers low asking $1 to $1.25 for Walla Walla Globes. Oregon pickling onions rule at 8 to 10 cents a pound.

The peach market is firmer with Elbertas at 60 to 75 cents and Crawfords at 90 cents to $1 a box. Fancy The Dalles Hales are bringing $1 strong.

Grapes continue in over supply and the market is badly "shot." Malagas, Tokays, Cornichons range from $1.25 to $1.75 a lug with wine grapes down to $1 a lug. Oregon Concords are quoted at 2 to 4 cents a pound.

The glut in the tomato market is over. Most of the soft overripe stock has been disposed of and fresh stock this morning was bringing more money at 65 to 85 cents a lug.

RAIL AND OIL GO UP TODAY; OTHER INDUSTRIES GAIN

NEW YORK, Aug. 31. (AP)—Strength and activity of the railroad and oil shares several of which touched new high levels overshadowed all other developments in today's stock market. Curious cross currents of prices again ran through the general industrial list with weakness cropping out in a number of the motor, chemical, motion picture, leather, paper and merchandising shares. Rail shares attracted a large public figure. Atchison, Chesapeake and Ohio common and preferred Southern Railway and Norfolk and Western sold at the highest prices ever recorded while Union Pacific, Baltimore and Ohio, Illinois Central, Canadian Pacific, Missouri Pacific, Rock Island and Delaware and Hudson sold at their best prices of the year, some of them touching the highest level in 20 years.

Good buying again developed in a number of specialties, particularly Foundation Company, United Drug, Commercial Solvents B and Remington Typewriter first preferred all of which sold three or more points above yesterday's final quotations.

The closing was strong. A number of public utilities joined the high priced rails in the buoyant upward swing in the late afternoon. Commercial Solvent B extended its rise to 6¼, Atlantic Coast Line to 6; Atchison to 6¼; Missouri Pacific and Nickel Plate 3 to 3½. American Express was up 4¾. Total sales approximated 1,500,000 shares.

13 MILLION FT. OF TIMBER SOLD

ROSEBURG, Ore., Aug. 31 (AP) —The government realized $33,512.55 in a timber sale conducted by the Roseburg land office Monday. Thirteen million out of seventeen million feet of timber offered for sale went to purchasers in Lane, Coos and Douglas counties. It had been feared that the recent forest fire losses in the state would reflect in the sale to be held today, but all except two of the tracts advertised were disposed of. As the government does not advertise timber for sale until an appropriation is made for it, there may still be some results shown from the fires, land office officials say, as the lumber companies will hesitate to buy if they fear fires. This is particularly true in sections where icendiarism has been prevalent.

The largest sale Monday was made to the Western White Cedar company of Marshfield, which bought a tract of 225 acres, carrying 534,000 feet of Port Orford cedar, which the government appraised at $7.50 per 1000. The price paid was $9,546.56.

Another large tract, appraised at more than $8000 remained unsold, the other tract for which no purchaser was found, being of lesser valuation.

The Penn Lumber company of McGlynn, bought a valuable 40 acre tract in Lane county paying $7370.96.

C. W. Ninemire, of Eugene, purchased the timber on 80 acres near Walton in Lane county for $3,809.56.

The Woodard Lumber company of Cottage Grove secured a total of 3,860,000 feet of timber on 160 acres of C and C lands near Cottage Grove in Lane county for $6730.94.

Timber on a tract of 40 acres, located near Ash, in Douglas county, went to Orval E. Baker for $526.05.

F. J. Sullivan of Myrtle Point, paid $2104.20 for timber on 40 acres of Coos Bay wagon road grant lands in Coos county.

A tract of 40 acres in Lane county was sold to Carl E. Fisher of Eugene, for $2424.34.

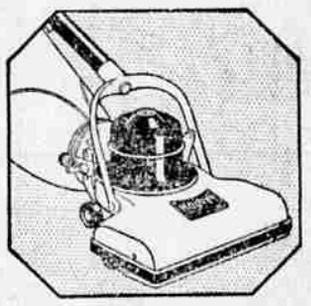
It BEATS ... as it Sweeps as it Cleans



Fall and Winter Weather Mean Dirty Shoes

Fall rains will be starting soon—the youngsters will be in school again, tracking in and out of the house regardless of the weather.

You can't prevent the carrying of dirt and mud into the home and onto your clean rugs—it's part of the routine of housekeeping. Mats outside will not take all the dirt off, and children forget about dirty shoes.

Keeping a house clean in the fall and winter is no easy matter unless you have a Hoover. Then most of the drudgery of sweeping and dusting is banished. With a powerful revolving brush that gets surface litter and beats the rugs as the air is forced through them, the Hoover saves you hours of work and protects the life of the rugs and fabrics in your home.

The NEW HOOVER is unexcelled in cleaning efficiency—easy to handle, cheap to operate, and a joy to use. A very simple payment plan makes owning one easy.
