Double Wedding Solemnized at Imbler

A pretty double wedding uniting Miss Cloe Taylor and John L. Shirley and Miss Zelma Taylor and Odus Dixon was solemnized Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Perry, aunt and uncle of the brides, at Imbler. Bishop Leonard Hillis of Imbler, performed the ceremony.

The brides are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Taylor, of this city. Mr. Shirley is the son of Mrs. Stella Shirley and Mr. Dixon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Dixon, also of this city.

The Perry home was prettily decorated for the occasion in a pink and white color scheme.

The brides were lovely in gowns of pale pink. Their veils of white were held in place by orange blossom wreaths. Their bright bouquets were made up of pink and white sweetpeas.

After the ceremony a reception and wedding supper was held. While the four-course supper was being served Miss Marelda Henry sang "Oh Promise Me," and Miss Tiernee Stringham played a piano number. Toasts were given to the brides and to the grooms. During the last course the bride cut the wedding cake, Miss Cloe, the older of the two, cutting first.

The supper was served by Miss Tiernee Stringham, Miss Portia Westenskow, Miss Mabel Westenskow, and Miss Gladys Anderson, assisted by Mrs. Charles Clever and Mrs. Clay Fox.

Mr. and Mrs. Dixon drove to Wallawa lake yesterday for a short honeymoon trip. They will return to La Grande to make their home. Mr. Dixon is ETAONNUNUNUN Mr. Dixon being employed in Skanes store here.

Mr. and Mrs. Shirley, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Taylor and Henry Taylor, left this morning for Salt Lake City, Utah on a two weeks trip. Mr. and Mrs. Shirley will also make this city their home. He is employed with the Grande Ronde Lumber company here.

Picnic Honors College Students

About 50 persons—all but two relatives of the McKennon family—gathered at Riverside park yesterday afternoon for a picnic honoring Clela and Claire McKennon, Glen and Edna Ledbetter, Russell McKennon and Wellington Hamilton, who leave La Grande next week for school.

Clela and Claire, who are the daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McKennon will go to the University of Oregon; Glen Ledbetter will go to Oregon Agricultural college and Edna will go to Willamette university. They are children of Mrs. William Ledbetter, of Alsea. Russell McKennon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McKennon, will go to O. A. C. and Wellington Hamilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hamilton, will go to Oregon. Mr. and Mrs. L. L. McKennon, grandparents of all the students except one, were present for the picnic. Guests besides families of the students were Mr. Smith, of Portland, and Miss Lola McWilliams. A picnic lunch was served during the afternoon.

Miss Arline Conradt Entertains Twelve

Miss Arline Conradt entertained twelve of her friends Saturday afternoon honoring her twentieth birthday anniversary. Games were played in and out of doors during the afternoon with Miss Dorothy Starn, Miss Elma Johnson and Miss Alice Milne winning prizes. After dainty refreshments were served by the little hostess' mother the guests departed for their homes wishing Arline many more happy birthdays. Many lovely birthday gifts were received.

for a reception and dinner Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the basement of the church. A long table was arranged in the church basement and an excellent dinner was served. Mrs. H. Helvey explained the object of the gathering and called upon several for short talks.

A short time was spent visiting after dinner before the people returned to their various homes.

Sister Mary Says:

(By Sister Mary)
Breakfast—Stewed prunes, cooked cereal, thin cream, crisp graham toast, milk coffee.

Luncheon—Vegetable chowder, graham bread sandwiches, steamed oyster pudding, milk, tea.

Dinner—Stuffed baked fish, browned potatoes, creamed corn, pickled beets sliced peaches with cream sponge cake, eye bread, milk coffee.

Small potatoes are included in salted water for fifteen minutes. They are then drained and dipped in melted butter and baked in the oven with the fish until brown and thoroughly cooked.

Steamed Elderberry Pudding

One cup molasses, 1/2 teaspoon soda, one-half cup flour, one-half teaspoon grated nutmeg, 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder, 2 cups elderberries, 2 tablespoons melted butter, 1 egg, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Dissolve soda in a little warm water and stir into molasses. Add flour mixed and sifted with sugar, salt, spices and baking powder. Stir in berries and vinegar and melted butter. Beat egg until very light and add the last thing before pouring into well buttered mold. Cover mold and steam for three hours. Serve with lemon sauce.

"My dear, I think I shall spend the night at my sister's," came his wife's voice over the telephone. "Do you care?"

"Not at all," he replied heartily.

"Then, I had better take the first train home," she decided.

HEALTH

ARE CHILDREN PHYSICALLY FIT?

(By Andrew P. Biddle, M. D., Detroit)

Member Gorgas Memorial Institute

Eighteen million and more of our boys and girls are returning to school this week.

Hundreds of children, in many of our cities, will be gathered together, carrying diseased conditions inimical to themselves and dangerous to others. It will be well, therefore, for parents and teachers to give heed to the health of their charges. Especially is this true in the lower grades, where children are too young to draw attention to any abnormality or to a feeling of ill being.

For example, diseased tonsils often lead to running ears and subsequent deafness, to inflammatory rheumatism and heart disease. Bad teeth cause serious infection of the joints. An eye strain, which might have been easily corrected, will often cause headaches and hinder the child in his studies. Measles, diphtheria and scarlet fever leave in their wake many cases of deafness and injured eyes.

Impairments which may cause the afflicted child to fall behind the others.

The school child's health demands first consideration. For with health comes the desire to learn, the ambition to do well. A correction here and there may save thousands of others from a malady.

About the only thing around the house which father can claim for all his own is the Bible.

Virginia Hears Tale Of Two Kidnaped Girls

BRISTOL, Va., Sept. 6. (AP)—

Another mysterious kidnaping—this one of two young women who said they had been taken three miles out of Bristol and whipped severely with leather straps—was added to the series of similar incidents already under investigation in Virginia. The girls, Blanche

Stone, 22, and Lily Frick, 24, exhibiting scars which they said police had been raised on their backs by the whipping, said that they had been forced in an automobile, driven to an abandoned residence three miles away, strapped and then taken to the roadside and ordered to walk back to town.

She used to say, "No thanks, I'm not hungry!" Now she says, "No thanks, I'm overweight."

You are looking at history

The hawker of yesterday who cried his wares in the public places is now but vaguely remembered—swallowed up in yesterday's seven thousand years.

Today the news of gods for sale becomes an indelible record of human achievement.

You may take, for instance, the history of transportation in America and read that extraordinary tale of progress in an unbroken series of advertisements in the files of newspapers—advertisements that inform us of each progressive step from the sailings of sloops out of Boston for Philadelphia in the days of Franklin, to the flight of the Air Mail from Mitchel Field to San Francisco in our own day.

You may read the startling story of the revolution in household economy and the emancipation of the American wife and home-builder in the advertisements of the last twenty-five years.

But in today's papers you find an even more amazing record—the advertisements of radio outfits, automobile equipment, electrical appliances, foodstuffs, clothing, medicines—things which have raised our civilization to a plane higher than the world has ever known. Do you quite realize that in these advertisements you are examining a contemporary contribution to the recorded history of civilization?

It takes more than money to advertise
It takes honesty
