spiritually discerned.

The prophet Isaiah had learned the secret of victorious living amidst often meager results and many disappointments. If we can share his insight, we too shall be able to sing on our way.

Isaiah suggests at least three reasons.

Isaiah was assured that he had received a very personal call to serve God. As a matter of fact, we are all called to be the Lord's children and co-workers. The important question is: 'Are we willing to recognize our divine call and dedicate our life to it?' Each one must decide that question for himself.

Isaiah saw the opportunities of his environment despite discouragements. We have really more reason than he had to rejoice in our opportunities to do the Lord's work in La Grande. First of all we need to discover the bigger opportunities of our individual life as Jesus Christ alone can reveal them.

Finally, Isaiah lived principally in terms of the future. The charm and inspiration of springtime consists largely in what it promises. Youth is the springtime of human life and the time of many great promises in the process of fulfillment. It is also true of Christianity. Let it be our mission to point one another to Christ and our daily prayer that he become the controlling power in the life of each of us.

Hughes of Joel Charles Binger, baby son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Binger, was an event at the First Presbyterian church Sunday morning, the pastor reported. Next Sunday will be Rally day in the Sunday school.

Rally day and promotion will be combined next Sunday at the Baptist church. A sermon directed to the young folk will be preached by Mr. Pollard.

Deny yourself. "Take up your cross" and "Follow Him" were points on which Mr. Meggers based his morning sermon yesterday at the Church of the Nazarenes. He gave a character test in the evening, and at the 7:30 p. m. service, delivered an evangelistic message.

Announces Church Night
Dr. Parker, at the Methodist church, announced the first church night gathering of the new year for 6 o'clock Thursday evening. Next Sunday will be promotion day, and Sunday, Oct. 2, will be celebrated as Rally day, he reported.

"Law Observance," in accordance with the celebration of Constitution week, was the theme of the sermon that the Rev. J. A. Hall preached at the Methodist church south. He announced Rally day exercises for the coming Sunday.

Chancel pews of oak, designed to harmonize with the architecture of the building, have been ordered for St. Peter's Episcopal church and are to be installed sometime the latter part of October. A choir of from 20 to 25 voices can then be accommodated.

Mr. and Mrs. John Shirley returned to La Grande last night from Salt Lake City, Utah, where they have been for the past two weeks. Henry Taylor, who accompanied them remained there with his grandmother.

Ill at Home—
Clyde Zimmerman is ill at his home here after a minor operation which he underwent Saturday.

while others anxiously sought relatives and friends in hospitals and morgues.

Water was knee deep in Miami and in Miami Beach all public utilities were disabled and restaurants were closed. Drinking water was served in half portions. Urgent appeals for food, water and clothing were answered by special relief trains that were dispatched to the storm area.

City Washed Away
Cleveland was believed washed away.

The hurricane was reported early today to be centered 50 or 60 miles south of Pensacola, where it was expected to strike this morning. All precautions have been taken there.

Looting broke out in the negro sections of Miami last night. Seven suspects were arrested. Three hundred special policemen were sworn in for voluntary duty and martial law was ordered. At Hollywood 200 special officers were added to the patrol force.

West Coast Escapes
Cutting a path from Miami to Fort Lauderdale, the hurricane attained a velocity of 120 miles an hour leaving wreckage in its wake. It roared across the everglades and passed into the Gulf of Mexico with only slightly diminished intensity. The west coast was not damaged seriously. Part Myers bore the brunt of the storm on the west coast. Its public utilities were put out of commission and it was isolated for several hours. Citrus fruit suffered some damage.

At St. Petersburg several thousand trees were uprooted and water flooded the outlying districts or Tampa.

Rolls Lake Waters.
Striking the vast expanse of Lake Okeechobee on its northwestern sweep from the east coast, the storm hurled enormous waves against the little city of Moorehaven, where it is estimated that at least 100 persons had been drowned.

Residents were forced to the top of buildings and 23 persons were drowned when a two-story frame structure collapsed. The drainage dam built around the town at a cost of hundreds of thousands of dollars was wrecked and the countryside flooded.

The tropical hurricane, originating in the Bahamas, struck Miami and that section of the east coast Friday midnight and raged for nine hours. A brief lull about 8 o'clock Saturday morning deceived hundreds into venturing forth to salvage their belongings, only to be struck by a more terrific wind than the first. While virtually every building in Miami bore marks from the hurricane the 18-story Meyer-Kizer bank building, recently completed at a cost of $1,000,000 was the only large structure seriously damaged. Its superstructure was twisted so badly it was feared the building would have to be razed.

Shipping Suffers.
Shipping, seeking haven in the Miami harbor, was hard hit, more than 150 small craft, including yachts and pleasure boats being lifted from the water and splintered on the shore.

Hurricane warnings remain displayed from Burwood, La., to Apalachicola, Fla., and storm warnings from the latter point to Tampa.

Casualties Listed.
Following is a partial list of the dead in the storm that swept the southern portion of Florida Friday night and Saturday:

Loyda Brookshire, Battle E. Window, Frank H. Schwartz, Frank Hopkins, Mrs. Toluia A. Roberts, Mrs. Ella Harrison, Mrs. Edith Baker, Mrs. Victoria Roberts, "Little Doc" Fisher, all of Miami; William W. Eoley, Miami Shores; Benjamin T. Watts, Hialeah; Anna Ballou, Bayton, Ohio.

Mr. House, Mrs. Whitehurst, A. J. Winneberg, A. D. Harrison, A. J. Harrison, Carolyn Ruth Beem, all of Miami.
