PATTERSON ADDRESSES REPUBLICANS

We have," he declared. He also stated that he believed that any additional tax on gasoline is unnecessary.

The republican nominee asserted that he believes in building state highways without any aid from the various counties, which would give the counties a better opportunity to use their funds for improving the market roads.

Speaks of Penitentiary—Speaking of the penitentiary situation, Mr. Patterson urged placing this institution within the jurisdiction of the state board of control, giving as his reasons for desiring this step, an urge to save the state money and to remove the penitentiary as far as possible from politics.

He pointed out that institutions now under the board of control are costing the state less money to maintain than is the penitentiary.

"I am in favor of fewer pardons," Mr. Patterson declared, "and if I am elected, which I expect to be, I will be, to use a slang expression, 'hardboiled' in the matter of pardons."

Not Evading Responsibility—Declaring that some of his opponents had raised a question of his desiring to evade responsibility by removing the penitentiary from the governor's hands, he said that he will invite responsibility where he believes it will benefit the state as a whole.

To prove this statement, Mr. Patterson declared that it is his desire to have the governor given authority by the legislature to supervise the preparation of the annual budget, with authority to appoint a budget director and to suspend all expenditures. "This would place the entire responsibility on the governor," he said. He likened this plan to the one under which the federal government is now operating.

Speaking of taxes, Mr. Patterson said there is only one way to reduce taxes—that is to spend less money for state government.

Others Speak—Throughout the meeting, the Coolidge administration was given praise by nearly every candidate who spoke. Mr. Peare introduced the following:

Colon R. Eberhard, candidate for the Union-Wallawa county joint senatorship, who pointed out the necessity of electing a legislature that will be in accord with the governor.

Fred E. Kiddle, candidate for the Union-Umatilla-Morrow county joint senatorship, who pledged himself to aid the Patterson administration if elected, and reiterated his belief that the legislature should pass laws and possibly repeal some now in force.

H. H. Weatherhead, seeking the Union county seat, his address home, who forewent a business administration if the republicans elect their candidates.

Praises Steiwer—Circuit Judge J. W. Knowles, seeking reelection, who spoke a word for Mr. Steiwer and scored his political enemies who had attempted, he alleged, to place this candidate in a dishonest light.

County Judge V. G. Coubs, also seeking reelection, who pointed to his record of economy as evidence of ability to successfully perform the duties of his office. Mr. Coubs also remarked that he would not be in favor of curtailing the auto revenue as yet. He said he believed the counties should receive 50 per cent of this revenue to be used in building county roads. He also advocated the placing of another cent tax on gasoline. It was these remarks that later prompted Mr. Patterson to explain his policy in reference to automobiles and highways.

Other speakers included C. T. McDaniel of Wallawa, George Huntington Curry, chairman of

PLANS ARE MADE FOR CONVENTION

Fred E. Kiddle Appointed General Committee Chairman by Legion

Fred E. Kiddle, past commander of post No. 42 of the American Legion and also past state commander, was chosen general chairman of the state American Legion convention to be held here next summer at a meeting of the executive committee last week when the first committees for the convention were formed. Hugh E. Brady was selected assistant general chairman.

A central or advisory committee was formed, consisting of all past commanders and past adjutants of the local post. The members of the committee are: Fred E. Kiddle, Roy Curry, Dr. J. L. Ingie, Dr. Ray Murphy, Ralph Huron, Ray Williams, Otis Palmer, past commanders. Harley Richardson, present commander, Fred Reid, Lynn Bohnenkamp, Ralph Winters, Chester Thompson and R. M. Scott, past adjutants.

This group will act as an advisory committee and the members will be chairman of the various other committees necessary for putting on the convention, which will be selected nearer to the time for the convention.

A letter from the Marshfield post, convention hosts this year, was read at the meeting. Similar plans as outlined by the local post were followed by the Marshfield legions and the total number of committees there was more than 100, which means that every member of the local post will have something to do before convention time.

Drum Corps to Stay Home—Because of the many plans being made by the local legion post to raise money for the convention, in which the members of the drum corps will play an important part, the drum corps has given up the trip to Salem for the state fair and will concentrate every effort on convention plans.

The corps received an invitation to the state fair more than a week ago and accepted, but after considering the amount of work to be done preparatory to the convention found it impossible to attend.

The Wallawa republican central committee, F. S. Ivanhoe, of La Grande and C. I. Caldwell, prominent Union republican,

Mr. McDaniel declared that he believed that Wallawa county would vote the republican ticket straight down the list.

Mr. Caldwell assured Mr. Patterson that Union county would be included in the Patterson list after election.

Mr. Ivanhoe pointed out that the duty of every republican is to support his ticket and scored those members of the party who do not follow this plan of voting.

Mr. Curry, who will be in La Grande this winter and who recently disposed of his newspaper interests at Arlington, declared that he has visited most Eastern Oregon points and gave as his opinion that the entire G. O. P. ticket will carry east of the Cascades.

Resolution Passed—The resolutions committee presented the following resolution which was adopted by an unanimous vote and signed by many present.

"Resolved: That the Union county republican central committee reaffirms its loyal support to the candidates on the republican ticket selected by the voters of the republican party at the last primary election. We feel it our duty and a pleasure to pledge anew our allegiance to the choice of the people.

"The nominees of the republican party are each and all men of unquestioned ability and experience. The past record of each of these men is a record of achievement.

"We unhesitatingly denounce the mud-slinging tactics of the democratic press and of a few unscrupulous politicians of no particular party affiliation, whose special motive seems to be to detract the attention of the voters from the real issues of the campaign, making unwarrantable insinuation without proof to substantiate the same.

"We urge the republican voters of Union county to cooperate with
