THE SECRET OF SUCCESS—"This book of the law shall not depart out of thy mouth; but thou shalt meditate therein day and night, that thou mayest observe to do according to all that is written therein: for then thou shalt make thy way prosperous and then thou shalt have good success." Jos. 1:8.

Some American cities are providing policemen with bullet-proof vests. But is that fair to the gunmen?

Bobbing Solomon's hair took away his athletic ability, but it seems to work the other way with women.

Old ladies are getting altogether too skittish. One of them takes an airplane ride on her 100th birthday, and another, on her centennial, gets arrested for drinking too much birthday present.

THE REAL COOLIDGE

In the exclusive Associated Press interview with President Coolidge published today in The Observer you will find a most interesting and most simple picture of the real Coolidge. For the first time in some months he is quoted directly and he talks, not of politics or administration problems and policies, but of personal things which, after all, concern most of us vastly more.

After reading this interview you will possibly be impressed for the first time with the fact that Coolidge is simple, straight-forward, honest, ordinary. He admits a desire as a boy to "keep store." He recites the warning of a New England father lest he sometime "come on the town." He denies any youthful ambition or thought of becoming president. He praises the influence of his mother in the sincere way expected of a true Puritan. He believes that either man or woman is laboring under a handicap when he or she is unmarried. He believes in a college education for young people, not as a means to a professional career, but as an aid to the better enjoyment of life.

And if these characteristics and these opinions as presented in today's interview constitute that thing called greatness, then Coolidge is great, but only for them. And with him in greatness are thousands and tens of thousands of other American citizens. Only in his simplicity, his thrift, his honesty, and his silence can the president claim distinction. Perhaps that is enough. It is combined to give us a character at the head of national affairs that has been sorely needed in the last few years, needed far more than brilliant intellect, wide experience, and trained mind.

Coolidge isn't an unusual man. People who know him intimately and can tell you of that intimate knowledge fully realize that he is very ordinary as leaders go. Schooled as a mediocre country lawyer, moulded by experience into a keen New England politician, thrust into the public eye through a police strike which was solved for him, not by him, as commonly believed—this is the man who heads the nation and talks quietly of personal things on the last day of his sojourn at White Pine Camp. He will probably never be recorded in history as a great president; but he is honest. He will never be known as an intellectual leader; but he is thrifty. He will never be recalled as a statesman; but he is earnest, loyal.

Perhaps these things, if fully realized, might be something of a disappointment to many admirers who have been given a false conception of the man who is president, but in them lie the reasons for his great personal popularity in America today. Unquestioned as he is with the conditions and needs of many parts of the country and unequipped to handle them, Coolidge inspires liking and respect and support because he is commonplace, human. And the country sometimes needs that kind of a man at the head of its government more seriously than it needs an executive genius.

PENSION ACT TO BE INTRODUCED

Senators McNary and La Follette to Present Bill to Congress

SALEM, Ore., Sept. 22. (AP)—A new federal pension act under which veterans of the Civil war will receive minimum pensions of $100 a month, and widows and married widows of veterans a minimum of $65 a month will be introduced by Senator McNary of Oregon, and Senator La Follette, Wisconsin, at the next session of congress, it was announced here today by R. H. Ryan, adjutant of the local post of the Grand Army of the Republic and author of the bill.

By simplifying procedure and standardizing the pension payments sufficient saving can be made in reductions of the clerical force now required to handle the pensions to offset the increased disbursements required for larger pensions, Mr. Ryan says.

The bill proposes payment of a pension of $100 to any person who served 90 days or more in the army, navy or marine corps during the Civil war, who was honorably discharged or who was discharged for disability incurred in the service at any time, upon reaching the age of 62 years. In the case of any such person becoming so incapacitated as to require regular personal aid and attendance of another person he would be paid a pension at the rate of $150 a month.

Widows or remarried widows of veterans eligible to pensions under the above regulations would be paid $65 a month at the age of 65 years and $75 a month for widows of 75 years of age or older. All veterans who served 90 days during the war or who were discharged for disabilities would be eligible to receive such pensions, except those who are inmates of a national or state soldiers' home.

Vitus Returns to Oregon Grid Squad

EGGERS, Ore., Sept. 22. (AP)—Vito Vitus, veteran halfback of the University of Oregon football team, who has been undecided about returning to school this fall, donned a suit yesterday and took a workout with the rest of the squad. His return fills out the backfield combination of last year, with the exception of quarter Lynn Jones at full and Vic Wetzel at the other half, are back again and going strong. Ira Woodie, freshman last year, seems to have the best chance at the quarter post left vacant by the graduation of Louis Anderson.

Fred Harrison, long range punter, also surprised everyone by coming out yesterday for the first time this season. A stiff scrimmage is billed for this afternoon, unless the rains are severe enough to interrupt. A miniature practice game is scheduled for tomorrow and a real Friday. Willamette university of Salem is to be met here Saturday afternoon.
