Colored Comedian In New Picture At Sherrys

G. Howe Black, the eccentric colored comedian who will be well remembered for his splendid work in the Chadwick fantasy starring Larry Senor, "The Wizard of Oz," will again appear in another picture for this producer, "Blue Blood," starting the famous athlete George Walsh, and which comes the Sherry theatre tonight.

Although Black has been associated with motion pictures for many years it was not until last year that he had a chance to show his true worth. Because of his splendid work in this production Chadwick officials offered him the part of George Walsh's valet in "Blue Blood," an important role needing a capable comedian to handle, and judging from reports from California Black is even better in this production than in "The Wizard."

His role in this picture requires much strenuous work. As valet to an athlete of George Walsh's caliber he is compelled to follow where his master leads, and the star does more climbing, leaping, fighting, and stunts in general than in any of his previous pictures, so please save a little sympathy for his faithful servant G. Howe Black.

Someday showing "Mister Wife."

latest fun special from the studio of Mr. Christie. It opens Sunday at the Sherry theatre, and presents Marie Prevost in the stellar role of Mabel. She is supported by Harrison Ford and Phyllis Haver, in featured roles and a large cast, including Sylvia Breamer, Harry Myers, Paul Nicholson, Carl Gorard, Maud Krux, William Delmonico and Arthur Hoyt.

This farce about a chemist, the gift of a husband to his wife just before the two are divorced, follows a long line of comedy ancestors. "Charley's Aunt," a byword in every household for laughter, was one of the Christie hits. "Reckless Romance," "Hold Your Breath," "Seven Days" and "Madam Behave" are some of the others.

As in the case of "Charley's Aunt," "Seven Days" and "Madam Behave," the basis for "Up In Mabel's Room" is a successful stage farce. Marie Prevost, one of the most pleasant and popular of the younger stars was obtained for the leading role of Mabel. In addition a brilliant cast of supporting players was chosen for the parts of the husbands, wivots, spinsters, bachelors and butlers who are mixed up in the development of the plot and in the fun which follows.

Comedy Showing, "Heavy Parade."

Florence Vidor Coming to Star Sunday

To the casual reader, "You Never Know Women" might sound like a comedy title. Said reader gets off a different note. "You Never Know Women" is the absorbing story Paramount has given Florence Vidor as her first vehicle. It will be shown at the Star Theatre Sunday and Monday.

Here are all the things moviegoers might want to know: Is it amusing and entertaining? Decidedly—Yes!

Is Miss Vidor's performance as good as the one she contributed in "The Great Invention and the Water"? Again—Yes!

The supporting cast—is it adequate? Lowell Sherman, Clive Brook, El Brendel, Roy Stewart and Joe Bonomo all appear to advantage.

What of the author and director? Three cheers for Ernest Vajda, and a "tiger" for Director William Wellman.

The plot? Leaves nothing to be desired. Briefly—Miss Vidor and Brook are part of a Russian vaudeville troupe on tour in this country. Although she doesn't know it, Brook worships the ground she walks on. Then—Lowell Sherman, wealthy and worldly, saves her from serious injury. Something that seems like love sets in. Thinking of the girl's happiness, Brook decides to disappear.

Everything works out all right in the end, but because of an unusual twist—as a word of warning—you'll be surprised! We were.

Musie and Humor Make Up Vaudeville Bill

Humorous moments, witty comedians and harmony singing and instrumental numbers comprise this aggregation of vaudeville entertainers coming to the Arcade theatre on Sunday.

The Crescent comedy four present a fast comedy reel act intermingled with harmony, impersonating four popular characters, Jew, Dutch, tough and eccentric. Murray and Berge will be seen in a nonsensical oddity built for laughing purposes only. Moore and Horton in "The Water and the Humpty Waite", have a comedy sketch with many laughable situations and scylling with a song or two between the laughs. Princess Elora, "The Yaqui Indian from Old Mexico" offers colorful bits and impressions in a cycle of foreign language song numbers.

Al Christie Comedy to Show Here Sunday

It is generally admitted that the name of Al Christie on a feature picture is an indicative of a big laughter special as the same name on two reel comedies years ago was indicative of a short but hilarious portion of a theatre's program.

"Up In Mabel's Room" is the

When the Receiver Hook Is Down Your "Voice Track" Is Clear

Just as a lowered semaphore signal tells the engineer that he may speed ahead, a telephone receiver hook that is all the way down signals the operator that your telephone line is clear for calls.

But when the receiver is accidentally left off the hook, or held up by books, papers, or other objects left under it, the operator gets a signal which indicates that your line is either in use or out of order. Then people cannot call you.

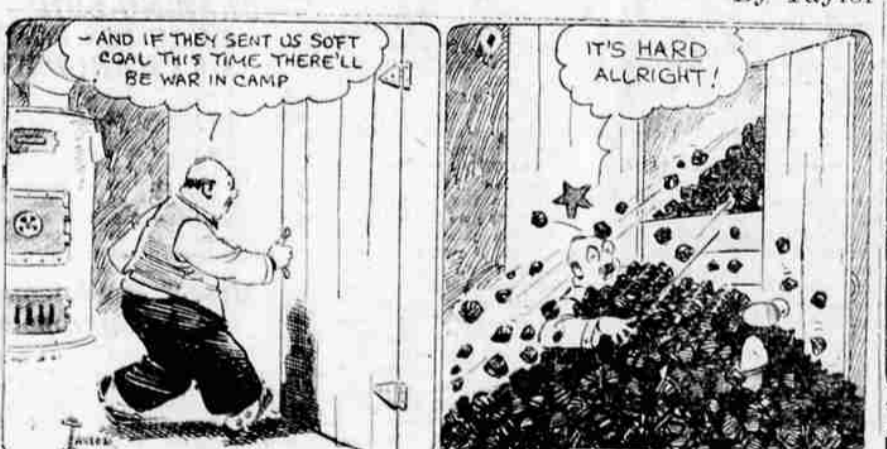

You will help in our effort to give you the best possible service by always making sure that your receiver hook is all the way down.
