Local News In Brief

Here From Elgin—
J. F. T. Galloway, in town yesterday from Elgin, spent last night at the Sommer hotel.

On Business Visit Here—
G. M. Richey, president of the Glass Drugs, Inc., is returning to Portland today after a few days spent looking after business interests in La Grande.

Library Will Close—
Because of Judge Ben B. Lindsey's lecture at the L. D. S. tabernacle this evening, the library will close its doors at 7:45 o'clock.

Have Baby Girl—
Mr. and Mrs. William Ziegler are the proud parents of a baby girl born to them Saturday at their home at 1502 V avenue. The little girl weighed seven and one-half pounds.

Have Baby Son—
An eight-pound baby son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Bud Theisen Friday at the Grande Ronde hospital. The mother and baby are getting along nicely. The little boy has been named Marion Edward.

Here From Baker—
W. C. Williams, resident engineer in charger of construction in Baker county for the state highway commission, was in La Grande this morning. He called at the highway offices here on official business.

Baby Boy Born—
Mr. and Mrs. George W. Gibson are the parents of a baby son born to them at the Grande Ronde hospital Wednesday of last week. The baby has been named Charles Rutledge. Both mother and baby are getting alone nicely.

Spent Sunday Here—
Mrs. Juneta Angelow and her daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Gray drove to La Grande from Lostine Sunday, where Mrs. Angelow has been visiting for some time. She left on the train that evening for Portland where she makes her home with Miss Alice Angelow.

Attending Augsburg Festival—
"I shouldn't care for the beer, but I'd like a chance at the beef," writes Julius Roesch in a postcard description to Claude C. Pratt of the October festival in Augsburg, Germany. The oxen are roasted whole and the beer served in steins no smaller than half-gallon measures, the La Grande traveler reports.

Mrs. Peebler Here—
Mrs. E. T. Peebler is visiting here at the home of Mrs. Clara Allen on Third street while she transacts business. Mrs. Peebler lived here for a number of years, but moved to Eugene, Ore., during the summer where she has since made her home. Her daughters, Mrs. Charles Tull and Miss Marjorie Peebler will be here Saturday for a short visit. They will return to Eugene the middle of next week.

Here on Legal Business—
J. D. Cook, a young attorney of the firm of Nichols, Halleck & Donald, at Baker, was in La Grande this morning to consult with Judge J. W. Knowles on a legal matter. As a member of the law firm representing the Central Railroad of Oregon, Cook was presented with a pass "over the entire road." Now he is trying to figure some way to make use of it. Cook came to Eastern Oregon from Burns, where he practiced for a year in association with his father.

In Wallowa County—
H. G. Smith, state highway engineer of this division, accompanied by Oscar Cutler, engineer in charge of maintenance, went to Wallowa county yesterday to look over quarry sites there for Rock Creek-Lostine resurfacing contract, which may be let at the next meeting of the state highway commission Oct. 26. This section is on the La Grande-Wallowa lake highway.

Brought Home Big Buck—
H. K. O'Brien, Red Williams, W. P. Sailer and W. D. Temple returned to their homes here last night after a weeks hunting trip in the Imnaha country. They brought with them an eight-point buck, one of the largest killed here this season. The deer weighs 258 pounds dressed. It was killed by Mr. Sailer and Mr. Temple, both men firing a shot to down him. The deer was on display at the Oregon hardware company's store today. They party was also successful in killing a three-point buck.

On Hunting Trip—
R. D. Hill left Saturday night on a few days deer hunting trip in the mountains. He will probably be home tomorrow. Mr. Hill is a mail carrier here.

On Way Home—
Gus Levy and Dave Stoddard were in the city this morning on their way home to Baker after a business trip to Portland.

Celebrating Anniversary—
L. A. Fuller, city mail carrier here, is in Portland for a few days. He left here Saturday night to join Mrs. Fuller, who is making her home there at present, to celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary.

Here From Alicel—
Kirk Wills, potato grower of Alicel, was in La Grande yesterday on business. Mr. Wills reports that his potato crop is good. He is getting more than 75 sacks of marketable potatoes to the acre. A good many of the growers in the valley are getting less than 50 sacks to the acre.

Making Surveys for Quarry Sites—
E. G. Bickmore, division office draftsman here for the state highway department, has gone to Baker and Malheur counties for about four days where he is making surveys for quarry sites for contracts to be let for highway work in that vicinity soon.

Mr. McKennon Home—
Floyd McKennon returned home this morning from Willamette valley points, where he has been doing organization work for the Guarantee Fund Life Insurance company, for a short visit before going to Southern Oregon for the same purpose. He stopped in Eugene to visit his daughter, Cleta, and son, Clair, who are students at the University of Oregon.

Leave Tonight For Salem—
Mrs. Ida French and son, Leo French, will leave tonight for Salem, Ore., where they will make their home during the winter. Mr. French is traveling for a shoe company with Western Oregon and Washington as his territory. Miss Louise French, who is employed as stenographer in the recorder's office at the state house, will make her home with her grandmother upon their arrivel there. The French home here has been rented to the Mumford family until May when they will probably return to La Grande. Mrs. French will meet her sister, Miss Bess Cameron, in Salem for a short visit. Miss Cameron was a nurse in France during the world war and since then has been in Paris. The two sisters have not met for a number of years. Miss Cameron will go from Salem to Los Angeles and from there to New York City.

Eugene Debs Is Near Death; End Due Any Moment

CHICAGO, Oct. 19 (AP)—Eugene V. Debs sank rapidly early today and the death of the aged socialist leader was momentarily expected at the suburban sanitarium where he has been confined for some time, suffering from a nervous breakdown and complications.

His wife and Theodore Debs, a brother, were at the bedside.

Mr. Debs is 71 years old.

Mr. Debs sank into unconsciousness late yesterday and since then has been in a state of coma.

The veteran socialist leader has suffered from heart trouble virtually throughout his life, and about a year ago kidney trouble developed.

Mr. Debs might last through the day, said Dr. S. C. Albrecht, who, with Dr. Harry Wiseman, is attending him, but death might come at any moment.

5 MINUTES USED BY U. S. BANK TO PRESENT ITS CASE of payment five years.

The bank claims that Miller made another oral agreement, in the presence of T. J. Scroggins, then cashier, and Mrs. Thelma Lyons, his stenographer, whereby he agreed too pay certain notes owing the bank.

Miller Denies Story

Miller denied absolutely on the stand today that such an oral agreement between him and the bank exists.

Besides Miller, defendant's witnesses on the stand this morning included F. L. Meyers, vice president of the La Grande National bank, Robert S. Eakin and Merton Kiddle, all of whom were called to identify signatures and payments.

There will be witnesses for the plaintiff, but they will be introduced in rebuttal, Colon R. Eberhard, of Cochran & Eberhard, the bank's attorneys, said this noon.

PENDLETON, Oct. 19 (AP)—The First State bank of Pilot Rock, Ore., yesterday voted to suspend business temporarily due to the inability of the farmers to meet payments of their loans. Depositors have 60 days in which to reorganize and open the bank, according to G. N. Hiekock, in charge of the banks affairs.

NAME WILLIAMS NATIONAL AIDE

Commander of Local Spanish War Veterans' Camp Highly Honored

H. E. Williams, commander of the James E. Page camp of Spanish War Veterans of La Grande, and past department commander for the state of Oregon, has been appointed national aide to the national commander in chief of Spanish-American war veterans. Mr. Williams received a letter yesterday from the United States headquarters of the organization informing him of the appointment.

Mr. Williams is a charter member of the Oregon department and was the second state commander. Since then he has held various offices in the state and local organizations.

Eastern Oregon will be his territory as national aide. He will work with and keep in touch with the national commander, Rice W. Means, whose headquarters are at Washington, D. C.

PIPERS HOST TO HIGHWAY DELEGATION

Jolly Pipers, appointed a committee to work in conjunction with the Blue Mountain Road association and the county court to solve the Elgin-Weston highway problem. Dr. W. P. McAdory is chairman and other members of the committee are: Ed Wright, Clarence Bean and F. E. Smith, of Elgin; and Karl J. Stackland, of Cove.

In addition to the addresses relative to highways, the proposed Eastern Oregon normal school and the La Grande armory were discussed.

Armory Bill Endorsed

Following a talk by Judge Hugh E. Brady, who set forth the merits of an armory for this city, the organization went on record favoring the bonding of the city by appropriating $28,000 which, with $12,000 already on hand, would match an expected $40,000 state appropriation.

Captain G. L. Dutton also spoke in favor of an armory, explaining, from the national guard standpoint, why such a building is necessary here.

Company E Drills

Shortly afterwards Company E, 186th Infantry, furnished a military drill on the floor of Zuber hall which was witnessed by the 120 persons present.

The American Legion also had a place on the program. E. R. Bingo, local attorney, spoke on the coming convention, pointing out the benefits that would result both to La Grande and Union county.

Fred E. Kiddle Speaks

Fred E. Kiddle, chairman of the convention committee, reported on the progress that has already been made and told of extending invitations to Gene Tunney, heavyweight champion of the world, and Commander Savage, of Chicago, to attend the 1927 convention of the Oregon legionnaires which will be held here. The Jolly Pipers expressed themselves as being entirely in sympathy with the legionnaires in their work and promised to help make the convention the best in Oregon history.

The banquet last night was served by the American Legion with the assistance of the Sommer hotel. Fred Currey presided as toastmaster and called upon the Rev. Oliver Riley to return thanks. A. T. Hill, president of the city commission, delivered the address of welcome and H. H. Weatherspoon, of Elgin, responded. Judge C. M. Humphreys, secretary of the Jolly Pipers, read the minutes of the Sept. 20 meeting at Elgin and a telegram from Sam Kozer, secretary of state and full fledged member of the organization, was read, expressing regrets that he was unable to attend. President Langdon, of Walla Walla, of the Blue Mountain Road association also sent his regrets.

Host Clint Haynes announced today that the pipers will meet the evening of Nov. 2—election night—in the La Grande Electric company for a radio program.

YOUTH, AGE CONTRASTED BY LINDSEY

tions. Any case where the crime is against a minor is tried before him. His is a court of protection, as well as of correction.

Believes in Divorce.

And from his experience with family troubles, does the judge believe in divorce?

Emphatically.

"It is the only way to preserve monogamy," he declared this morning.

"I believe in a uniform divorce law to this extent: Divorce procured in one state should be recognized in every other. But I do not believe in a divorce law identical throughout the 48 states. I want them to experiment.

"And some day a state is going to be brave enough, frank and free from its hyporcisy to make divorce procurable on mutual consent.

"Everybody knows that people get divorces because they do not love each other and do not want to live together any longer. But couples do not dare say so. If they did, we wouldn't let them get a divorce. And so they have to plot and practice hypocrisy.

"Which is more sinful? To live together in love without marriage, or to live in marriage with someone you hate?

Predicts Changes.

"Youth is going to make some changes in our conventions. Youth is frank, and honest. Youth lives for joy and beautiful. What youth needs most from us is to be taught control."

Judge Ben B. Lindsey will be a dinner guest tonight at the home of Judge and Mrs. Knowles. The two jurists became acquainted several years ago when the juvenile judge made his first lecture visit to La Grande. Carl G. Helm, district attorney, and Mrs. Helm also have been invited.

Judge Lindsey, although he usually accepts no daytime speaking engagements, may talk informally this afternoon before the members of the Neighborhood club.
