

L. D. S. Church Members in County Preparing for Harvest Festival

All the Latter Day Saints in Union county are uniting in the effort to make this year's Harvest Festival the biggest and best affair of its kind ever held in Eastern Oregon. Relief societies, Mutual Improvement associations, the Bee-Hive Girls—every organization in the church has a special responsibility to carry out.

The festival will last three days, Nov. 3-5, and will be held in the Eagles' hall, Mrs. Evelyn Rosenbaum, of La Grande, is chairman of the general committee, which includes members from the Baker, Union, Cove, Perry, Mt. Zion, Imbler and two La Grande wards.

Fancy Work Booths will be spread with fancywork in a score of varieties. Choice fruits and vegetables have been saved from some of the best gardens in the county to make a gorgeous showing at the festival. An old-fashioned country store will be stocked with the usual diversity of wares to be found there. Candy, popcorn and cold drinks will be offered at one stand, chili con carne and hot dog sandwiches at another. Cooked foods will be on sale throughout the fair. For entertainment the first evening three one-act plays will be staged by the Relief society. Thursday night, the M. I. A. will give another three playlets. Friday night, there will be a play by the girls from Baker, followed by dance.

RELGRADE (AP) — Artificial lips and creamy complexions are doomed in Yugoslavia. At least, the government has so ruled but Serbian women are likely to have something to say about it.

The decree forbidding women to apply rouge or powder to their faces is entitled "Bill to combat corruption and luxury," and is part of a governmental drive for economic reform. Church and state have united against female luxuries but the women are presenting a solid front.

The church has forbidden women to appear at religious services except in sober garments and without any artificial beautifiers. The States in order to enforce its policy has slapped an almost prohibitive customs tariff against cosmetics, most of which are imported from France.

Spend 8 Weeks To Make Frock For an Infant

By the Associated Press

Baby frocks are being made with a view to handing them down as heirlooms. Many of the dresses in English shops require the constant attention of two skilled needlewomen over a period of eight weeks. Each trick is stitched by hand and often there are twelve to the inch from yoke to hem.

OFFICE CAT
TRADE MARK REG.
By Junius

"The handsomest, keener and most brilliant man in the country owes us $1.50 on subscription, and we are expecting him to favor us with an early call," says a country editor. "That ought to get results."

Will: "You say he's a smart man?"

Bill: "Yes, instead of having a wrecking company to raze his old building, he hired a jazz band and held a Charleston dance on the premises."

He was looking for a rich wife, and thought he had found what he required.

"I love you," he said, "more than I can tell in words."

"Try figures," she replied, coldly.

"PUSSYCAT" BOW SCARES

Among many novelties of women's wear are long and narrow scarves, to be twisted round the neck and tied in a flyway "pussycat" bow under the chin. Made in leather, moleskin or some other close haired cloth, the tie is suitable for wear with the new trim, short-coated tailored suits for the fall season.

The attraction is in the bow and real art is necessary to fix it properly.

LYING MIRRORS OF MAYFAIR

London society women are up in arms over the "lying mirrors of Mayfair". The expression is their own. It was coined to designate the trick looking-glasses which have been placed in many fashion salons to make plump girls look slim.

These mirrors are slightly convex and give a delightful illusion of slenderness to the woman who is trying on a new frock. But they may not survive. The women have learned of the deception.

THOSE DARK MOVIES

Some people go
To cheer and hiss;
While others go
To neck and kiss.

"I think the Charleston is awful."

"I can't learn it either."

"Your medicine helped me wonderfully," wrote a grateful Oregon woman to a patent medicine company. "A month ago I was so weak I could not spank my baby, and now I am able to thrash my husband. Heaven bless you!"

Gladys: "No, but I keep my mouth shut after."
