or more Saturday, the closing night.

"The kiddies of this city might as well start getting ready for Christmas," one of them said today. "We're going to have a tree this year that will make their eyes sparkle with joy and when Old Santa and his bag of gifts comes Christmas morning, after spending the night dropping down chimneys over the globe, we plan to have 2,000 youngsters at his 1925 party."

"We'll have enough left over to provide a nice supply of provisions for all the needy families here, too," he added.

The prizes, which have been on display in Pattison's show window, are being shown today in Lilly's Hardware windows.

and interests were incorrect as they appeared in last night's paper. The report should have read:

"Did the defendant make out and deliver to plaintiff after bankruptcy a new note in blank to take the place of the note sued upon in plaintiff's first cause of action (that is, the $12,000 note)?"

Answer: "Yes."

"Did the defendant authorize plaintiff's cashier to fill in the balance remaining due on such pre-bankruptcy note after having applied the proceeds of the sale of mortgaged property?"

Answer: "Yes."

"Did the defendant subsequent to the time he was adjudged a bankrupt orally promise and agree with the plaintiff to pay the note set out in plaintiff's first cause of action according to its terms, notwithstanding the bankruptcy proceedings?"

Answer: "No."

reported floods as far east as Santa Clara province.

P. A. Bonet, Cuban consul general of the Dominican Republic, who was a passenger on one of the trains said every village along the railway line from Mahoca in Santa Clara province westward was seriously damaged. The entire countryside as far as he was able to see on both sides of the track was a wreck.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—No Americans had been reported killed in the Cuban hurricane up to today, the American Red Cross was informed by the Cuban Red Cross.

56 Pictures Are Ordered Result Of Art Exhibit

La Grande school children are dancing on their toes in eagerness for the arrival of the 56 schoolroom pictures they earned through sale of tickets for the art exhibit at Human hall last week.

The youngsters took in $225 in admission fees, Mrs. Gladys Douglas, art supervisor, reports.

Third graders at Central school, of whom Mrs. Edna Kincald is teacher, rank as salesmen of the first class. They disposed of $13.80 worth of tickets.

Central school will get the special $10 prize picture. Its ticket sales totaled $127.30.

Of the 56 pictures being ordered, only one was exempt by the high school students. They have named an Indian picture, "Where the Sun Goes Down," as their choice.

The exhibit pictures are still in the custody of La Grande schools, waiting direction from the Colonial Art Print company as to their next destination.

Prince Nicholas Is Embarrassed

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 22 (AP)—Prince Nicholas of Rumania almost attended the Mayor's banquet last night in dress clothes as invisible as these told of by Hans Anderson in the Tale of "The Emperor's New Clothes."

A mix up in the handling of the royal baggage as it was taken from the special train here yesterday caused the prince at 7:30 to find himself late for dinner and sans dress clothes. There was consternation among the royal valets and a deadlock on the reception committee, which did not wish to go in to dinner without the prince.

The queen insisted the prince be momentarily excused, and led in the procession without her son at twenty minutes to eight.

Shortly afterward Lieutenant Colonel Vincent A. Carroll heard himself being paged, and hastened out to learn that he had been elected to supply the missing suit. Just then amid a flurry of valets the missing baggage was brought in. "Thanks awfully, old chap," or words to that effect murmured the prince to his double in figure.

He entered the dining room in some confusion, and explained to his mother two seats away, with great solemnity. Princess Ileana, in the manner of sisters, laughed until she put her hand to her mouth to stifle hysterics.

"No man has been closer to that office than I, not to have been president. I say to you that there is no office that I want less than that of president of the U. S. Let me tell you these things are convictions that I have and I don't care a continental if they destroy me politically and physically. I put righteousness ahead of politics, always," McAdoo declared.

Wife Refuses to Divorce Husband

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 22 (AP)—Miriam Nell Wright "will never divorce Frank Lloyd Wright as long as I live" but she "most certainly will" help press charges against the architect if her attorney's desire.

Mrs. Wright's declaration was made in Chicago while Wright and Mrs. Olga Milanoff were held here on federal warrants of arrest, to violate the Mann act. Hearing has been set for Oct. 30. The charges were filed late yesterday following the couple's arrest at a cottage at Lake Minnetonka near here. The government alleges Wright transported Mrs. Milanoff to the cottage from Wisconsin.

With tears trickling down her face, Mrs. Milanoff declared that despite all her troubles, she "would love Wright always."

Reviewing industrial conditions, Chairman Gary asserted no clouds appeared on the business horizon which might indicate that demand for steel products would be subsequently reduced in the near future.

Would Rather Be "Righteous" Than President

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Oct. 22 (AP)—William G. McAdoo, war time cabinet member and twice candidate for the democratic presidential nomination, would rather be "righteous" than president.

The former secretary of the treasury made the declaration here yesterday before the Pacific conference of the Methodist Episcopal church during an address in which he defended himself against accusations that he was promoting his possibilities for the presidency through advocacy of strict enforcement of the prohibition laws.

"No man has been closer to that office than I, not to have been president. I say to you that there is no office that I want less than that of president of the U. S. Let me tell you these things are convictions that I have and I don't care a continental if they destroy me politically and physically. I put righteousness ahead of politics, always," McAdoo declared.

Gary Optimistic On World Trade

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—Possibility of an amicable understanding between the steel manufacturers of Europe and America in world trade, was suggested by Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation, at the American Iron and Steel institute today.

"We have heard recently of considerable discussion relating to anticipated competition between the iron and steel manufacturers of the U. S. and foreign competitors," he said, "but it is believed should it become necessary, an international conference will be held between all these interests and a full, open discussion indulged in, after which a fair understanding could be reached."

Reviewing industrial conditions, Chairman Gary asserted no clouds appeared on the business horizon which might indicate that demand for steel products would be subsequently reduced in the near future.

Tremor Playing Pranks in South

OAKLAND, Cal., Oct. 22 (AP)—The earthquake which shook Oakland along with San Francisco this morning played some queer pranks.

In the Schlesinger department store, one of the largest in the city a wax model in one of the display windows, did a moss between the chimney and the Charleston when the first shock came. The model plunged through a large plate glass window into the street and was decapitated. The damage to model and window is estimated at $1,000.

Urges East Oregon Normal Institution

MONMOUTH, Ore., Oct. 22.—The annual meeting of the Monmouth and Independence commercial clubs was held here Tuesday night, with a banquet and program. The Eastern Oregon normal school was sponsored by President J. S. Landers, of the normal school here and C. L. Starr, Portland, Oregon, and the club voted a resolution favoring passage of the bill at the November session. Favorable reference was made to a proposal to make the local normal school a four-year teacher college. Ray Conway, Portland, spoke against the motor bus bills. Tribute was paid to the late Dean E. D. Ressler of the Oregon Agricultural college.

CALIFORNIANS VISITED BY EARTHQUAKES

and fire-proof construction. Golden Gate park, one of the largest in the country, was the refuge of hundreds within a few minutes after the first shock. The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company reported that the shakes were felt in virtually every town up and down the coast for 300 miles in California and for 100 or more miles inland.

Public Utilities Failure. Gas light and water services were not interrupted anywhere available reports showed.

Police and fire stations and newspaper offices were besieged by telephone inquiries from frightened residents who were told to go to parks of the buildings they were in were not substantial.

Inquiries developed the shakes were not felt in the northwestern states of Oregon and Washington, Fresno, Los Angeles and San Diego also escaped them.

OPERATORS CALM. SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22 (AP)—Through both the shocks which rocked San Francisco this morning the telephone operators of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company remained at their posts and kept calm. They gave alarmed inquirers cheerful advice and procured information for the Associated Press and made long distance connections as though nothing had happened.

"Aren't you girls afraid?" one operator was asked.

"I'll say we are," was the reply, "but we're sticking."

The first shock was peculiar. It started gradually gently swaying desks and tables. "Old timers familiar with such things, soon got suspicious, however, and jumped up from chairs and got away from objects that could fall or be thrown about. The swaying soon turned into jerks and then subsided gently for a second or two. This was followed by a rocking chair movement in which buildings swayed to and fro, perhaps not as much as they appeared to be moving, but enough to cause wild scrambles for stairways and exits.

The second shock did business right from the start, shaking buildings rapidly in a lateral movement.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22 (AP)—The seismic disturbances which joined a comparatively limited area in Northern California early today apparently were caused by a submarine disturbance centering approximately 70 miles southwest of here air line measurement, apparently in or near Monterey Bay.

This is the conclusion of Dr. Perry Bierly, assistant geologist at the observatory of the University of California at Berkeley.
