This is Prosecutor William H. Remy of Indianapolis, who is heading a grand jury investigation into charges of political corruption in the regime of D. C. Stephenson, former Klan grand dragon in Indiana. It was largely at Remy's instance that Stephenson was taken from prison.

Dr. Hoffman Opens Dental Business

All of the fixtures have been installed in Dr. George S. Hoffman's office in the Foley-Bouvy building over the L. and L. drug store and he began receiving patrons for the first time this morning.

The rooms have been entirely redecorated. The waiting room is very pleasingly finished in blue and gray, with gray wicker furniture, a blue rug and gray and blue drapes. A Rhein operating light will be received within the next week, when the dentist will be equipped to work evenings. Four daylight globes will afford plenty of light. Office hours now are from 9 o'clock until 12 and from 1 until 5.

NOT HIS BED
PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 28 (AP).—A middle aged man, thought demented, terrorized a woman and her nine-year-old daughter early today when he stalked into their home, climbed the stairs and went to bed with only a muttered "Excuse me," as he pulled off his boots and coat.

The woman, Mrs. J. C. Toudy, ran into the road in front of her home, clad only in her night garments, and shoes.

JUDGE BELT IS GUEST OF CLUB

Supreme Court Justice Meets with Episcopal Organization Here

Judge Harry S. Belt, justice of the supreme court of Oregon, accompanied George T. Cochran to La Grande last evening from Pendleton where court has been in session this week. Judge Belt wanted to see the highway between here and the neighboring city and upon arriving here was invited to speak before the meeting of the Washington club of St. Peter's Episcopal church, which met for the second time since organization.

The state justice gave an interesting talk on the ideals of manhood necessary for success. He was introduced by E. Marks, president of the club.

George T. Cochran also spoke, telling of the life of George Washington, his home at Mt. Vernon and his home life. The meeting was opened with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" and closed with the song "America."

Last night was the last for charter membership. Thirty-six members and two honorary members were listed.

CITY BUDGET ADOPTED BY COMMISSION

ready to cooperate. Only one bid was submitted on each of the two units of improvement work to be done on W avenue, and each approached closely the city engineer's estimate on the cost. Hartenbower and Spaeth were awarded the contract for storm sewers to be installed on W avenue between North Spruce and North Depot, the contract price being $2,795.75. The cost had been estimated at $2,867.95. The contract for sidewalks, curbing and macadam for the same stretch of street and sidewalks only for W avenue from Depot to North Ash was given Clyde R. Seltz on his bid of $7,509.53—$4.39 under the estimate.

On application by J. E. Black and Holger M. Larsen, a license without cost was issued the L. S. Ladies' association to hold a benefit dance at the Eagles' hall Friday evening Nov. 5, in connection with the harvest festival that is to get money for the purchase of a new auditorium piano.

Permission was granted J. E. Stearns, city recorder, to return to unsuccessful bidders the bonds posted with bids on the lighting improvement system.

Deeming it good advertising, the commission voted to buy a page in the annual issue of the Out and Trail booklets, the cost, $127.50; to cover the furnishing of 500 of the booklets to La Grande. Commissioner Charles Playle told the members that such guides were in great demand among the tourists. In the last year, he said, he has given away more than 2,000 of them on request at the service station.

Clinton S. Shultz appeared before the commissioners to ask why the quieting of his title to a lot on the corner of Cherry street and Adams avenue, ordered by the commission some 10 months ago, had not been carried out. He had had a chance to sell the property at a good price because he had no proper deed, he declared. President Hill asked the city manager to see George T. Cochran, city attorney, about the matter immediately on his return to La Grande.
