Hallow'en Tea At Hill Home Well Attended

A Hallow'en tea took place yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. T. Hill on First street—the annual missionary tea given by the women of the Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church. Approximately 50 persons, members and friends of the church, were in attendance.

The rooms were decorated for the occasion with bouquets of orchid chrysanthemums arranged in the living room, and in the dining room the Hallow'en color scheme, yellow and black, was carried out. Black owls were in each corner of the room over the dining fixtures and pumpkin jack-o-lanterns served as shades for the chandeliers. Tall yellow candles were also used in addition to baskets of yellow and orange flowers.

Mrs. W. C. Ross and Mrs. W. H. Pickens poured and Mrs. E. P. Mossman and Mrs. Ray P. Murphy cut tea. Refreshments were in the same colors. A pumpkin was in the center of the tea and the cake was yellow and white. Hallow'en candles in black and yellow were served.

The hostess committee assisted in the dining room and living room. Besides Mrs. Hill, those on the committee were Mrs. W. H. Bohnekamp Jr., chairman, Mrs. A. H. Hunter, Mrs. George Baker, Mrs. Robert Eakin, Mrs. Ruth, Mrs. W. P. Mohr and Mrs. O. E. Moran.

A musical program was enjoyed during the afternoon. Mrs. Edward L. Holmes played a piano group, "Clair de Lune" by Debussy and "A Sello's Hornpipe" by George Gershwin. Mrs. Blavia Ritter Sherwood, soprano, sang three selections, "Pages from Song" by Novello, "Love a Merchant" by Carver, and "A Little Child's Prayer" by Hope; and Mrs. Florence Lynch Miller, violinist, played two numbers, "A Love Song" by Elman and "Gypsy Dance" by Ernst. Mrs. Lynn Wright accompanied Mrs. Sherwood and Mrs. Miller at the piano.

Costume Party at Humphreys' Home

Hallow'en is always the season of many social events and the same is true this year. Practically every social organization in the city, especially the children's societies, are having Hallow'en parties, and several individuals are entertaining.

One of the season's parties was last night at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. C. M. Humphreys, when Miss Catherine Humphreys and Miss Dorothy Harrison entertained 17 of their school friends.

The boys and girls came in costume and after having their fortunes told by the Hallow'en witch, Mrs. G. B. Claycomb, the time was spent dancing. An uninvited guest, unknown to anyone present, puzzled the guests. When masks were removed the visitor was revealed as Mrs. E. P. Mossman.

The rooms of the Humphreys home were decorated for the occasion in Hallow'en style. Pumpkins of black and yellow, and pumpkin jack-o-lanterns were the principal features. Appropriate refreshments were served at a late hour. The boys selected their partners for supper by choosing noses, the girls hiding behind a screen and allowing only their noses to show through a hole.

The young people present were: Mary Vaughn Hendrickson, Margaret Douhan, Ruth Harrison, Dorothea Harrison, Lucille Gray, Mrs. Alvin Hawk and Catherine Humphreys, Gladys Wallingford, Peter Bowman, Wilfred Hendrickson, Hilda Leslie, Alfred Zwifel, Joe Fayer and Wilson Smart.

A Hallow'en party was enjoyed by the members of the Junior Christian Endeavor society of the First Presbyterian church and members of the Sunday school in the church basement last evening. Org. stunts, jack-o-lanterns and other symbols of Hallow'en were arranged about the rooms, where Hallow'en games were played. It was a masquerade party and as each guest entered Gustav Wissler announced them by a fictitious name which caused considerable merriment. Fortunes were also told by Mr. Wissler.

Mrs. Gustav Wissler, superintendent of the Junior C. E., was assisted in serving Hallow'en refreshments by Mrs. W. C. Ross, Mrs. Eva Wissler, Mrs. W. P. Mohr, Mrs. Guy Pratt, Mrs. Robert Eakin and Mrs. I. C. Bowers, superintendent of the Intermediate Christian Endeavor society.

The party closed with the C. E. song and benediction.

With 14 boy and girl playmates as her guests, Lillian Eaton entertained at a Hallow'en party at her home, 2063 First street, last evening.

Cats, witches and other weird symbols of the season made a setting for the games, fortunes and stories. Freddie Reeman was the fortune teller. Mrs. Mary Sullivan visited the party as a witch.

On the table, where refreshments were served, a huge jack-o-lantern was the centerpiece. The cakes were frosted in orange and black.

Island City Club Is Entertained

Members of the Island City club were entertained at a Hallow'en party last evening at the home of Mrs. Mitchell on Island City, with Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. and Mrs. Albert Wardell as hosts and hostesses.

An orange and black color scheme was used about the rooms. The two-course luncheon, served after the bridge games, was carried out in the same colors.

Seven tables were at play with Mrs. L. M. Hoyt, winning high score among the women players and the men's prize going to Carl Perrin.

The club will be entertained in two weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Hunter, with Mr. and Mrs. Dolan assisting.

Announcements

The Central council of parent-teacher associations will meet Monday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock in the Neighborhood club rooms, presided over by Mrs. C. L. McPherson, president.

The Women's society of the Baptist church will meet on Tuesday at the Shade cabin at Hillgard for a work meeting. The women will gather at the Baptist parsonage at 1 o'clock, when transportation will be furnished. In the evening the men of the church will join them at the cabin for a potluck supper, after which the evening will be spent socially.

The Art Research class will meet Monday afternoon at 8 o'clock with Mrs. Donald M. Pague, 1719 Fourth street.

The Educational auxiliary will not meet Tuesday evening of next week as scheduled on account of the election on that day. Instead the meeting will be held the following Tuesday evening. "The American Festival" will be the subject. It is a Thanksgiving program and is in charge of Mrs. H. E. Dixon.

Breakfast—Grapes, cereal, top milk, French toast, syrup, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Broiled tomatoes on toast, caramel custard, milk, tea.

Dinner—Ragout of mutton, boiled potatoes, creamed turnips, celery, fruit cup, graham bread, milk, coffee.

The fruit cup is a particularly happy choice for dessert. A peach, a banana, an apple, an orange, a banana and white seeded grapes are thoroughly chilled in a medium, syrup. A "dash" of whipped cream adds to festivity of the cup when serving.

Broiled Tomatoes on Toast

Four rounds of bread, 2 good-sized tomatoes, 4 thin slices of cheese, 1 tablespoon minced green pepper, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 2 tablespoons butter, 4 thin slices bacon, 4 sprigs parsley, salt, sugar, pepper, 2 tablespoons grated cheese.

Toast bread lightly and quickly and spread with butter. Place on a shallow pan and put a slice of cheese on each side. Peel tomatoes and cut in halves. Put a half of tomato on the cheese, salt side up. Sprinkle with sugar, salt and pepper, minced pepper and onion. Dot with butter and cover with grated cheese. Put bacon over top and place in a hot oven until the bacon is crisped and the tomato and cheese are cooked. Garnish with parsley and serve at once.

This recipe sounds fussy, but it's simple enough to serve for club refreshments if the "parfaits" are assembled and prepared in advance.

The bread is cut about half an inch larger than the tomatoes.
