AT THE THEATERS

Five Versatile Acts Promised For Sunday

A varied collection of five versatile vaudeville acts embracing comedy, novelty, music, mystery offerings, with comedy predominating, will be seen at the Arcade theatre on Sunday, the management promises.

The feature act of the bill is Marcellus Spencer & Company, who present an oriental mystic revue called "Night in India." Princess Kanmar will exhibit some of the dances of the far east. Harry Mayer in "Troubles in the Conservatory" is a blackface musical comedian of ability. Herbert & Hent in "Opportunity" will present a comedy skit with songs and patter. St. Elmo Dine, billed "The Novelty Act De Luxe," is comprised of an accordionist and a singer. Will Sonay, "The Upside-down Man," is known as the human enigma because of his ability to perform all kinds of juggling feats standing on his head.

"Tough Guy" At Sherrys This Evening
"The Tough Guy" surges from climax to climax in racing action. It is perhaps the most thrilling of all Thomson vehicles to date and certainly the most interestingly humorous. The warm sentiment developed between Fred and his almost humanly intelligent horse, Silver King, and the fine bond of companionship between Fred and a little orphan boy, feelingly portrayed by Billy Butts give "The Tough Guy" a glowing warmth.

It is this note of sentiment which enables Fred Thomson and Silver King to completely capture the hearts of thousands of movie fans. The cast which includes Lola Todd, Robert McKim and others is deserving of commendation as is the direction of David Kirkland. It's an F. B. O. production. Comedy showing "Till We Eat Again."

New War Film Achievement Of Hoffman's

The immortalization of a man—that is the cinematographic achievement of Renaud Hoffman, noted producer-director, who made the war epic, "The Unknown Soldier," which will be on view at the Sherry theatre for two days beginning Sunday next.

For the first time in motion picture history, the soul of a soldier and the bride and the mother he leaves behind, are portrayed with sincerity and fidelity.

Unlike most war pictures which chronicle the horrors and magnitude of conflicts between nations, "The Unknown Soldier" depicts simple and powerfully a truly human interest story of the typical American doughboy. Surrounding the young soldier's fateful struggle, is a wealth of powerful plot interest, involving a mother, a sweetheart, a flock of war buddies.

Their struggles, their hopes, their loves, their disappointments.

Laughs, Gasps Galore in Griffith Fare

If you want to laugh one minute and gasp the next—see Raymond Griffith in "You'd Be Surprised," which comes to the Star Theatre Sunday for a two-day run. It is undoubtedly Griffith's best picture since "Fatha to Paradise." As a "Sherlock Holmes," Ray goes through mental gymnastics in the untangling of a murder mystery which would do credit to any sleuth.

It's hard to say which the picture contains more of—laughs or thrills. Griffith, a coroner, tries to discover who killed the district attorney. Instead of solving the mystery he finds himself in the center of a dozen others, and also discovers that he has fallen in love with a girl whom everyone suspects as the criminal.

The picture's ending will have to remain a mystery because Mr. Griffith has asked those who see the picture to refrain from telling their friends the real murderer's identity.

Dorothy Sebastian, playing opposite Ray, makes a lovely foil for his emotions. Earle Williams, and Edward Martindel, the attorney. Some of the deaf mute scenes in "You'd Be Surprised" are said among the funniest ever filmed. Harry Langdon continues his

"La Boheme" Coming to Arcade Monday

"La Boheme," Lillian Glush's first American-made picture in some years, is the attraction commencing Monday at the Arcade theatre.

The much-heralded play, in which Miss Glush is seen in the tragic role of Mimì, famous wherever opera is loved, is one of the outstanding productions of the year from the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios and Miss Glush's interpretation of the role has created a furor in studio circles.

King Vidor, who directed "The Big Parade," directed the new picture, which was staged on a lavish scale. John Gilbert plays the leading male role as Rodolphe, the poet, with Renee Adore as the sprightly Musetta. Others in the cast are Roy D'Arcy, Edward Everett Horton, Gino Corrado, Karl Dane, George Hassell, Eugene Ponsy, Frank Currier, David Mir, Tosita Marziani and others of note.

WHEN WE THINK THE OTHER FELLOW KNOWS
Some people would be far better off if they used their own judgment rather than placing so much confidence in the judgment of the other fellow. The lack of self confidence has cost many a man a considerable sum. If we were able to think as fast as the other fellow can talk, likely our judgment would save us money.
