Mrs. A. W. Nelson Entertains at Bridge Luncheon

Mrs. A. W. Nelson was hostess to the members of the Alpha club at luncheon yesterday afternoon at 1:15 o'clock at her home on Cedar street. Yellow and pink was the color scheme used in decorating the five small tables, which were arranged about the luncheon. Refreshments were served after the card games.

Mrs. Charles Reynolds won the club prize at bridge and the guest prize went to Mrs. W. H. Reuter. Mrs. J. J. Stoddard received the low score.

Mrs. W. P. Perkins will be the next hostess to the club.

Mrs. Ed Straven was hostess for the Jolly Bridge club yesterday afternoon at her home on Washington avenue, when three tables were at play.

Members of the yellow chrysanthemum were arranged about the rooms, forming a setting for the card games, which were followed by a two-course luncheon.

Mrs. J. J. Pearson made high scores among the club members and high among the guests went to Mrs. Lee Stanford. Mrs. H. C. Williams received the consolation prize.

The club will meet again two weeks from yesterday with Mrs. W. C. Crow as hostess.

Four tables of bridge were at play last evening when Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Williamson entertained the members of the Synthesis Bridge club at their home on Oak street.

Mrs. W. H. Perry won first prize among the women club members, and the men's club prize went to Mr. Perry. Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Green received the guest prizes.

The home was decorated with bouquets of yellow chrysanthemum. The card games were followed by a two-course luncheon.

The club will meet again in two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. William Gable.

Members of the Evening Alpha club were entertained Wednesday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Charles Binger were host and hostess.

Five tables of bridge were at play, with Mrs. Adolph Stegert making high score among the women. The men's prize went to W. H. Leiman.

Refreshments were served after the card games.

The Monday Evening Dinner club met for dinner at 7 o'clock Monday evening at the Union hotel. Covers were laid for 28 and afterwards seven tables of bridge were the diversion.

Rubens' Paintings Topic of Meeting

Rubens, one of the great Flemish painters, and his contemporaries was the subject yesterday afternoon discussed by Mrs. H. H. Hanna and Mrs. Phil Thompson. When the art department of the La Grande Neighborhood club met in the club rooms.

The meeting was well attended. Mrs. Hanna told of Rubens' life and Mrs. Thompson discussed his contemporaries and Rubens' most famous paintings.

The annual bazaar to be held Nov. 15 and 20 was discussed Wednesday afternoon when the Ladies Aid society of the First Presbyterian church met in the community room of the church.

Mrs. John Theisen, president, presided over the meeting and called upon chairmen of various committees to report. All gave favorable reports and a bigger bazaar is anticipated this year.

Mrs. J. T. Richardson led in the devotional following the business hour, after which the remainder of the afternoon was spent visiting.

The hostess committee for the meeting consisted of Mrs. C. N. Palmer, Mrs. Robert Young, Mrs. D. B. Tanner, Mrs. Oscar Cutler, Mrs. Jess Tryon, Mrs. C. B. Miller, Mrs. H. H. Cleaver, Mrs. Ellen McKay, Mrs. E. E. Beatty, Mrs. Harriet Richardson, Mrs. Harry Huffman and Mrs. E. G. Kirby.

These women decorated the rooms, using autumn flowers and before adjournment served refreshments.

A program of interest was given yesterday afternoon when the Mother's Self Culture club met at the home of Mrs. John Hoaglin.

Several papers were given which were of interest to every mother present. Mrs. Roy McNeen discussed "The Modern Mother's Success Through Self Culture," and Mrs. Walter Palmer gave a paper entitled "Teaching Children Obedience."

Mrs. Hodgkin read an educational letter from Dr. A. A. Berle, editor of the Self Culture magazine, published in Chicago, which discussed wife's and children's future, also manners, as an asset in the battle of life, and school, as a social unit in the community.

After these papers there was a general discussion.

The next meeting of the club will be Nov. 18 at the home of Mrs. Otis Palmer.

Refreshments were served late in the afternoon.

Teacher Hostess To Her Students

GRANGE HALL. (Special).—Miss Mildred Stoddard, teacher here, was hostess to her pupils Friday afternoon at the school at a Halloween party. The room was decorated in keeping with the season.

After an interesting story told by the teacher the remainder of the afternoon was enjoyed at games.

Refreshments were served late in the afternoon.

MEDICAL SPRINGS (Special).—Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Bloom entertained at dinner Friday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Paul McCracken, of Portland, who are their houseguests. Covers were laid for six.

After dinner the party attended the dance at Keating.

MEDICAL SPRINGS (Special).—A Halloween party was held at the school building Friday evening for the children of the school and their parents, besides a few invited guests.

Games were the diversion of the evening, after which refreshments were served.

PROMISE (Special).—A party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fishman Saturday evening. Several friends of Mr. and Mrs. Fishman made up the guest list.

After the games those present enjoyed a taffy pull.

The bones of flying fish are hollow and filled with air, thus combining strength with lightness.

It was to Mrs. Theresa K. Werner, aunt of his former wife, Natcha Lambowa, that the late Rudolph Valentino bequeathed about $500,000 of his estate. Here is Mrs. Werner when she reached New York on the Aquatania en route to fight contest of his will in Los Angeles.

Sister Mary Says:

BREAKFAST—Baked pears, cereal, thin cream, scrambled eggs with bacon, crisp whole wheat toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Scalloped rice and mushrooms, hearts of lettuce with French dressing, graham bread, baked apple with date and nut meringue, milk, tea.

DINNER—Broiled sirloin steak, baked sweet potatoes, creamed onions, celery and apple salad, rye bread, orange cream pudding, milk, coffee.

Whether we gather mushrooms ourselves or purchase them from the market at a reasonable price, we always regard them as a luxury and delicacy. Their distinctive flavor greatly enhances a dish which is otherwise bland and uninteresting. The combination dish in the luncheon menu is an example of such a concoction.

Scalloped Rice and Mushrooms—One-half pound mushrooms, 5 tablespoons butter, 3/4 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk, 1 teaspoon salt, 3/4 teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons grated cheese, 1/2 cup rice.

Wash rice through several waters and let stand in cold water to cover for one hour. Drain and add slowly to 2 quarts of rapidly boiling water. The boiling should not stop while adding the rice. Boil hard for 20 minutes. Do not try to cover the sauce pan. Pour into a colander and pour several quarts of boiling water through the rice. Then rinse with cold water and drain. Peel mushrooms, break in small pieces and simmer 3 minutes in 3 tablespoons butter. Melt remaining 2 tablespoons butter in a sauce pan. Stir in flour and slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Season with salt and pepper and add cheese. When cheese is melted, add prepared rice and mushrooms. Mix lightly but thoroughly and turn into a buttered baking dish. Bake in a hot oven until top is brown. Serve in the baking dish.

PETAL SKIRT FROCK
England's nobility accepts its fashions from America as well as Paris. Lady Rosemary Rootie-Wilbraham, the young sister of the Earl of Lathom, appeared at the Embassy club dressed in an American petal-skirted frock of pink, open-work embroidery. The background was a black velvet cloak. Around her neck was a ring of square diamonds with a big pearl drop.

SLEEVELESS COATS
While a large number of the new English evening wraps are being made on the coat principle, with inset sleeves, some women prefer the sleeveless, cloak style of garment. English designers are trying hard to do away with the old stereotyped circular cape. A cape which is finished in a triangle is one of the results. It is made in velvet or fur.

GOLD TISSUE PAJAMAS
Gladys Cooper's new golden pajamas are the talk of Mayfair. They are fashioned of golden tissue with a curiously meshed surface. The long trousers fit closely to Miss Cooper's ankles while the jumper is held in by a deep, closely swathed hip sash which is knotted in front.

Expects Big Cut In Income Taxes

CHICAGO, Nov. 5 (AP)—The Chicago Daily News has printed a news story saying that Martin H. Madden, chairman of the appropriations committee of the house of representatives and "watchdog of the federal treasury," was of the opinion that taxes on next year's incomes will be cut remaining $300,000,000 and $400,000,000.
