Bazaars During Past Week Are Well Attended

The first of the bazaars preceding the holiday season took place last week—one at Honan hall, given by the women of St. Peter's Episcopal guild, and the other at Eagles' hall, conducted by the various auxiliaries of the latter Day Saints' church.

Large crowds attended both and practically everything on exhibit was sold.

The bazaar given by St. Peter's guild, Thursday afternoon and evening, found eight booths arranged in Honan hall, including a candy booth with Mrs. G. L. Larison, Mrs. L. K. Kinzel and Mrs. H. B. Colburn in charge; a fortune telling booth, where Mrs. Clyde R. Sells told the past, present and future; a toy booth, in charge of Mrs. Lee Warnick and Mrs. L. L. Snodgrass; an apron booth, presided over by Mrs. S. A. Wells and Mrs. L. B. Russell; a country store in charge of Mrs. Hubert Anderson; pillow case booth, in charge of Mrs. E. B. Crowe and Mrs. Bailey; advertising booth, in charge of Mrs. Ross Eaton; a miscellaneous booth, in charge of Mrs. J. D. Slater and the handkerchief booth and good pond, in charge of the girls of the Wayfarers' guild.

The miscellaneous booth was probably one of the most attractive. It was in the form of a cherry tree, from which cherries were picked with a number on the inside to correspond with each package.

Many articles of sewing and fancy work, besides amusements, home canned fruit and vegetables were at the bazaar. Mrs. Oliver Riley was general chairman in charge.

In the evening from 5:30 o'clock until 7:30, more than 200 persons were served at the chicken dinner, which was under the management of Mrs. George T. Cochran. Mrs. Donald Pague had charge of the ticket sale for the dinner. Dancing was enjoyed later in the evening.

About $500 realized from the bazaar will go into the guild's treasury. The L. D. S. bazaar, at Eagles' hall, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, was equally successful. Mrs. Evelyn Rosenbaum was general chairman in charge. The proceeds will go to pay for the new piano recently installed at the tabernacle, and almost enough money for that purpose was made. Many articles of sewing, fancy work, and quilts were on display, including several quilts, five complete layettes and numerous other things.

The primary department was in charge of the candy booth and Mrs. George Stoddard was chairman; the young women's department arranged the apron and hand work display, of which Mrs. George R. Lyman was chairman, and Mrs. E. Rosenbaum was chairman of fancywork, quilts, pillows and rugs for the relief society. The Sunday school furnished a cafeteria booth, which was in charge of Robert Baxter, and the dance, which closed the bazaar on Friday night, was in charge of Hoiger M. Larson.

On Wednesday evening the relief society presented three one-act plays as entertainment and on Thursday night the young women's department gave three one-act plays. A large crowd was present both evenings.

On Friday evening 12 girls from Halloway and their director, Mrs. Dave Stoddard, came to La Grande and staged a one-act play, which was followed by the dance. The many booths and the hall was decorated to conform with the name of the bazaar, "The Harvest Festival," as nearly as possible. Black and gold were the colors used.

Work on the bazaar to be held Nov. 14 was continued Friday afternoon when the Women's society of the First Baptist church met at the home of Mrs. Jones on Second street.

Mrs. William Shade, president of the society, presided over the business meeting and also led in the devotional.

Fifteen women were present.

Entertains Club Members at Bridge

Members of the Valencia Bridge club were entertained Friday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Everett Keown were host and hostess at their home on O avenue. They were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Leebetter.

Four tables of bridge were at play with Mrs. Carl Dalmas winning high among the women players. The men's prize went to Ernest Landry and the consolation prizes to Mr. and Mrs. Claude Nash.

Following the games a two-course luncheon was enjoyed. The next meeting of the club Friday, Nov. 13, will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Smith on Oak street.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lyman entertained the members of the J. J. B. club Friday evening at their home on W avenue.

The rooms were decorated for the occasion in a color scheme of yellow and white, bouquets of yellow and white flowers being used. A two-course luncheon, carried out in the same colors, was served following bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Herman won high score and the consolation prize went to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gilmore.

The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Jones on Second street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Millering entertained about 30 friends at a hard-time party Friday evening at their cabin on the Grande Ronde river.

The guests came in costume appropriate for the occasion. The home was decorated in orange and black colors.

Card games were the diversion of the evening, with Otis Palmer winning the first prize, J. M. Doan, second, and D. G. Harvey, consolation.

A radio program was also a feature of the evening. Luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Harvey, at a late hour.

o'clock, the initiation will take place. Mrs. Giles Harnden, junior commander, will have her group of Juniors present a program during the dinner hour or just following it.

About 20 members of Oliver P. Morton Kettler Corps No. 87 surprised Mrs. W. H. Murray, corps member, at her home at 1316 W. avenue Friday afternoon, when they called upon her and spent the afternoon visiting and at nee-dlework.

The visitors brought luncheon with them, which was served late in the afternoon.

Mrs. Murray has been unable to attend the meetings of the relief corps for some time because of a broken arm. She is much better now and will probably be able to be out again before long.

Members of the Wayfarers' guild of St. Peter's Episcopal church entertained 25 of their high school friends at a dancing party at Honan hall Friday night. Music was furnished by an Orthophonic, owned by Carr's.

Luncheon was served during the evening by Robert Holmes. The patrons and patronesses were Mrs. Fred Curry, the Rev. and Mrs. Oliver Riley and Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Allison.

When eggs are high this eggless muffin recipe will be welcome. In addition to the virtue of economy, corn muffins are easily digested. The dryness and crumbliness of the muffins allows the digestive juices to act upon the individual particles preventing the formation of a heavy, pasty mass difficult to digest. Cornmeal is also rich in heat-producing properties so necessary for cold weather.

Eggless Corn Muffins One cup cornmeal, 1 cup wheat flour, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons baking powder, 1 cup milk, 2 to 4 tablespoons melted butter. Mix and sift flour, salt, sugar and baking powder. Add cornmeal and mix thoroughly. Slowly add milk, beating constantly to make smooth. Add melted shortening and beat hard. Pour into well-oiled muffin pans and bake 20 minutes in a hot oven. If four tablespoons melted butter are used for shortening, reduce the amount of salt to 1/2 teaspoon.

This batter can be baked in a sheet if preferred, making a good corn bread. (Copyright, 1926, NEA Service, Inc.)
