

Parade of Fashion Finds Many New Fads—Furs Bobbed, Old Jewels In

By the Associated Press

Bobbed very short and even shaved hair has come to fads. Parisian women, not content with retaining the bob on their own heads, have extended it to their furs.

The season's vogue shows all kinds of fur pelts, shaved and treated, used for coats and as trimmings. Furriers have resorted to dyeing and are bringing out grey and almost looking lamb and mole rejuvenated in youthful tints of henna, brown and gold.

Pox fur and lynx seem to be the only two which have escaped the furrier's shears. They are being used by the fashion makers as trimming for short haired fur coats, thus preventing the novelty of fur trimmed with fur.

trimmed with fresh flowers as often as desired.

SUITABLE WEDDING GIFTS

Wedding presents follow no fixed fashion these days but usually are as variable as other wedding fashions. The Duchess of Devonshire gave a diamond pendant to Lady Katherine Bessborough on the occasion of her marriage to Mr. David Dawnay. The bride's mother presented a radio set to the bridegroom. A mink coat and jewelry were presents of Lady Susan Dawnay to the bride. The grand parents of the bride gave her a canteen of silver.

Movie Sidelights

OLD JEWELS IN VOGUE

Queen Mary has started a vogue for old jewelry and Mayfair already has begun to produce some of the heirlooms that have been tucked away in lavender and old lace for years.

During her holiday at Balmoral, the Queen spent considerable time examining a quantity of old-fashioned jewelry she possesses. She decided to have some of it reset and otherwise remodelled in modern fashion. The unique pieces will be retained in their present form and worn, thus making the vogue more secure.

CONSERVATIVE "PARTY" DRESS

Black dresses were in the majority at the reception and ball in connection with a meeting of the British Conservative Party. Dame Caroline Bridgeman, however, wore a lovely gray gown and a diamond band around her hair. Lady Elvenden wore a satin gown in a beautiful shade of apricot. One of the most striking figures was Lady Herbert Cory, who came out in a black and diamond earrings. A pink and black ninon frock and another gown of gold lace with an enormous gold flower at the shoulder were additional features.

BLACK SHOES DISAPPEAR

Mauve, rose, pale blue, gold and silver, were the predominating colors in women's shoes seen at the exposition of the "Paris Leather Week." Black shoes were greatly in the minority.

The exposition represented firms from Germany, Scandinavia, Great Britain, France and the United States.

For street and afternoon wear two distinct trends were noticed—one toward very simple models in snakeskin, the other being strapless models in three and four pastel combinations with cubistic designs.

The shoes are solid built and unmarred by open work.

MOLESKIN "PULL-ON" HATS

Moleskin hats are the big autumn mode in Mayfair. Almost every other woman is seen wearing what is casually referred to as a "pull-on" hat, with a tiny brim and full tanmy crown, all made from the finest fur. Many of them wear moleskin coats to match the hats.

BALL ROOM DECORATIONS

The "little season" brought out some new ideas in ball room decorating along Hotel Street. Square mirrors framed with moss are being featured. The moss keeps fresh for several weeks and can be re-

John St. Polls who created the role of Frederick in the stage play "The Return of Peter Grimm," with David Warfield fifteen years ago now plays the role of "Dr. McPherson" in the picturization of the same play.

When a violent wind and sand storm swept over Mojave desert, Director Scott Dunlap made the most of the situation. Wind machines were forgotten and members of the Fox cast found themselves acting on a desert during a real storm that had come at an opportune time.

A motion picture actress can't "die" effectively when she can look out of her hospital room into a big cabaret and hear jazz music and see nearly 200 people dancing. Lya de Puilly was attempting to portray a death scene but she enjoyed the music from another set too much, so the director decided to postpone her "demise" until the following day.

A town was built, a county populated and 3,000 stampedes equipped with livestock and vehicles in the Jackson Hole country of Wyoming for "Bad Men." The Royal Gorge in Colorado, Jasper park, near Banff in the Columbian high mountain ranges, Mount Rainier and the San Bernardino mountains are settings for other recent productions.

Pola Negri "remotes" to the best of classical music and permits no popular airs to be played by her studio orchestra. The trio, violin, cello and organ, is in great demand at Hollywood. The musicians, one a composer and another first violin, are with the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra, but always drop all other engagements to play for her.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94% AIR Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 25 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil). The inventor, V. M. Johnson, 161 North Union ave., Portland, Ore., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

Snow Flake Bakers

make another big step forward in retaining oven-freshness

ANOTHER "first" for Snow Flake Bakers' Products!

Almost a year ago we pioneered the wax-wrapping of Family Packages on the Pacific Coast—Snow Flakes and Honeymaid Grahams. Their success was instantaneous. Their moisture-proof qualities won new friends everywhere.

Now a big installation of wax-wrapping machines—the first in the West—enables us to offer you the small packages of these two famous foods with the same moisture-proof protection.
