HELP WANTED—MALE

HAVE YOU talent and a full developed desire to fill a real position in the drafting line, later opening into an unlimited field in Engineering work?

Applicants must have had an eighth grade schooling, must be over twenty-one years old, and must not be employed in some regular work which need not necessarily be drafting. These openings are primarily for men with talent who have not had the opportunity to earn a living and develop their talent at the same time.

We require two character references from the men we accept. These men will be given a very thorough and complete training at home by a new and modern method and will retain their present positions until they are qualified to drop all other work and enter the drafting room at decent salaries. They will be given an absolute guarantee in writing both as to position and salary within a specified time or at the expiration of that time an immediate refund of the small sum charged for their education. They will be furnished with instruments, drawing table, and projectograph. They will be expected to devote at least nine hours each week at home to preparation for their positions.

Your application must state age, married or single, kind of work at which you are now employed, schooling, and any other information which you think we should have.

Address Box 15, La Grande Observer.

AT THE THEATERS

Aerialists Featured on Vaudeville Bill

A company of versatile players are offering something new in vaudeville in the line of singing, dancing, novel musical surprises, and comedy, at the Arcade theater on Sunday.

The outstanding feature is the Flying Lafayette, living up to their billing as sensational aerialists, in a routine of feats in midair. Kinsey & Evans present "The Solo Salesman". It is flavored with comedy songs and dances. Benton & Clark, "The Fashion Plate Pair", offer a singing and dancing act. Florians, in "Moments Musical", is a delineator of musical mirth in a cycle of musical and song selections on her accordion. Alois in "Episodes" is an European laughing-provoking novelty offering.

"Thrill Hunter" At Sherrys Is Exciting Feature

"The Thrill Hunter," at Sherrys tonight, is one of Columbia's Waldorf and has for its purpose thrills, more thrills and even more thrills. It fully fulfills the line on its billing: "A super-speed comedy drama."

Nothing of course, need be told local fans about the cast of noted character actors that play in the feature.

William Haines is as well known as the Gold Dust Twins and has a brand of comedy even cleaner and more tonic than those two little peckanines.

Kathryn McGuire has one of the girl leads and, fully proves the talent she gave her chance and the silver sheet. The beautiful actress was a noted dancer at one time and shows it in the grace and technical brilliance of her pantomime.

Concerning Alma Bennett, that capable and famous player, I can add nothing except that it is, as always, a pleasure to watch her act.

Comedy showing, "Move Along."

Iron Tooth Helps In Filming of "Last Frontier"

One of the most noted scouts that worked with Kit Carson was Hostes Tees Nez. He was the tallest member of the Navajo tribe and one of the most intrepid. Carson, whose prowess as a plainsman has become legendary, placed implicit confidence in the craftiness of his lanky aid and entrusted him with many important missions that frequently involved the safety of the tiny settlements of pioneers.

At the sanguinary struggle between the Indians and the white settlers and soldiers waged at Fort Wingate, Chief Hostes Tees Nez played a heroic role. His knowledge of redmen's wiles enabled him to counteract many of the desperate thrusts of the savage painted warriors.

A son was born to old Hostes Tees Nez, whom the Indians named Iron Tooth, but who prefers an Americanized cognomen, George Bancroft. Iron Tooth, or Bancroft, spent four years at the Indian school in Santa Fe and two years at Riverside. His control over the Navajos is unanny

Laura La Plante At Star in "Her Big Night"

"Her Big Night" with Laura La Plante as the star, and an unusually large cast playing in support of her, is to be the feature attraction Sunday, matinee and night, and Monday matinee only at the Star theatre.

The picture is a farce comedy, produced by Universal Pictures corporation under the direction of Melville Brown, and is said to afford the pretty, blonde comedienne the best role in her brief but brilliant career before the camera.

The story, dealt in a way, with the movie industry, and is concerned mainly with the somewhat embarrassing failure of a movie star to show up for a personal appearance which has been arranged for her at a theater in connection with the premier of her latest picture.

In the efforts of the star's producer and press agent to cover up her indiscreet disappearance in order to keep the matter out of the newspapers, a dozen involved comedy situations arise.

The cast supporting Miss La Plante is an unusually large and brilliant one. Einar Hanson, one of the foremost screen stars of Europe, plays his first American part opposite the comedienne. Such facile comedians, as Mach Swan, Lee Moran, Zasu Pitts, Nat Carr, William Austin and others add many deep laughs to the picture.

John Roche plays the role of a super-jestous husband, and Cissy Fitzgerald as an equally suspicious wife.

The universal comedy "Nobody Loves Me", will also be shown.

Gail-Curel says she'd rather go to a musical comedy than an opera. As a rule so would we, but there are some nights we'd rather sleep.

Famous last lines: "I'll just clean up the rest of this work tomorrow."

WHEN WE THINK THE OTHER FELLOW KNOWS
Some people would be far better off if they used their own judgment rather than placing so much confidence in the judgment of the other fellow. The lack of self confidence has cost many a man a considerable sum. If we were able to think as fast as the other fellow can talk, likely our judgment would save us money.
