Elma Owey and Victor Eckley Married Here

A wedding of interest to La Grande was solemnized on Thursday evening, Nov. 11, at the home of Mrs. H. P. Owey, when their daughter, Miss Elma Owey, was united in marriage with Victor Eckley, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. Eckley.

The wedding ceremony was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the bride and groom were united in marriage and they stood before the bride and groom as the bride and groom were read.

Mrs. Eckley will be at home to their many friends in her new home near Riverside.

ert Carey, president, plans were made for a dancing party, to which the husbands of the members are invited, following the next regular meeting of the Degree of Honor, Nov. 23, at Eagles hall.

Four tables of bridge were arranged after the business session. Mrs. Clark Webb received high score. Mrs. Ray Ledbetter won the second prize and the consolation prize went to Mrs. Robert Carey.

Bouquets of yellow and bronze pompones were used to decorate the home. Following the games the hostesses served a two-course luncheon.

The next meeting of the club will be the second Friday in December, when Mrs. Jack Hlatt and Mrs. Ray Ledbetter will be hostesses, at the home of Mrs. Hlatt.

Members of the Island City Card club were entertained last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Pierce, when Mr. and Mrs. Pierce and Mr. and Mrs. Grover Grinnett were the hosts and hostesses.

Five tables of "500" were at play during the evening with Mrs. Clyde Kiddie receiving high score among the women players. The men's prize went to Jack Stewart.

Autumn decorations were used about the rooms, forming a setting for the card games and the luncheon, which was served by the hostesses afterwards.

Society Meets at Thompson Home

The The Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Phil Thompson in Freeland. The program for the evening was "The Mountaineers" which was given by Mrs. C. M. Humphreys, Mrs. Robert Eakin and Mrs. E. P. Mossman.

A short business meeting in the early part of the afternoon was presided over by Mrs. O. E. Moran, president.

Before adjournment Mrs. Thompson, assisted by Mrs. B. H. and Mrs. Charles Straver, served refreshments to the 22 women present.

Plans were made for a lodge party to be held Nov. 19 at the home of Mrs. Carrie Eaton Wednesday evening when the Royal Neighbors met at the K. P. hall in regular session.

During the lodge session two members were initiated into the organization, Services honoring the late Mrs. Anna Galvin, who was a member of the organization, were held.

Announcements

There will be a parish meeting and potluck supper of St. Peter's Episcopal church at Honan hall Monday evening at 8:15 o'clock. The time for the meeting has been made earlier to allow those present to attend the Doernbecher hospital benefit recital.

The Art Research club will meet Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. H. E. Dixon.

Baker Women to Attend Concert Monday Evening

Advance sale of tickets for the concert the Neighborhood club is sponsoring at the First Presbyterian auditorium Monday evening for the benefit of the Doernbecher children's hospital indicate a genuine interest in Mrs. Paul Pollman, Baker contralto, who is making her first platform appearance in La Grande.

Several automobile loads of Baker admirers of the soloist are to be included in the audience, according to word Mrs. A. L. Richardson, chairman of the concert committee, has had from there.

Tributes to Mrs. Pollman's charm as a musical entertainer are frequently carried by the newspapers of her home town.

"Mrs. Pollman has long been a favorite with Baker audiences and her appearance always brings enthusiastic applause," said the Morning Democrat following a recent recital she gave at Baker.

"Her charming personality, her rich contralto voice and her delightful friendliness win for her admirers wherever she appears."

"Mrs. Pollman's program last evening was sung with assurance and artistry, tasteful interpretations and a personal ease and charm of manner which delighted her audience."

Mrs. Tedford to Play
No less interesting to La Grande music lovers are the pipe organ numbers that Mrs. J. A. Tedford will play. Mrs. Tedford, both a soloist and an accompanist, enjoys the respect and admiration of all who respond to masterly organ performances.

Miss Colleen Foster, who comes from Baker to play Mrs. Pollman's accompaniments, also is a skillful musician.

Tickets are to be had at the chamber of commerce office and the Glass Drug store, as well as from members of the concert committee.

"And is your daughter happily married?"
"Yes, rather! Her husband is scared to death of her."

"I heard the new burial vault was condemned today. I wonder what for?"
"I hear it was because it didn't have any fire escapes."

Children Guests At Birthday Party

Little Miss June McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McDonald, celebrated her eighth birthday anniversary yesterday afternoon when she was hostess to 15 little girls and boys at the McDonald home on Main avenue.

Games were enjoyed until late in the afternoon when the children were seated at a luncheon table, decorated in yellow and white. A birthday cake with eight lighted candles served as a centerpiece. Candy baskets and favors were in the same colors. Refreshments were served by the young hostess' mother.

The county organization of the Women's Christian Temperance union will hold its annual county convention here Tuesday, Nov. 16. The meeting will begin at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon at the central church of Christ here. County officers will be elected at this time and other business transacted.

A special program will be given in the evening at 7:30 o'clock. The public is invited to attend both afternoon and evening sessions.

New members of the Neighborhood club will be honored Tuesday afternoon during a social hour that will follow business session and program.

Miss Blanche Clark is in charge of the study program, which has for its theme, "Thanksgiving in Art." Mrs. Robert S. Eakin, president, will preside.

Mrs. Peare Hostess At Bridge Party

Four tables of bridge were at play yesterday afternoon when Mrs. W. M. Peare was hostess to the members of the Friday Afternoon Bridge club at her home on Second street. Mrs. Grant Fogle won high score and received the first prize among the club members, and the second prize went to Mrs. C. E. Wale. Mrs. J. E. O'Connell and Mrs. P. L. Pearson were given guest prizes.

Mrs. Pearson lives in Portland. She stopped here yesterday, and was a guest at the Peare home, while en route to Boise, where she will visit relatives.

The rooms of the Peare home were decorated with bouquets of chrysanthemums in yellow and white. A two-course luncheon followed the afternoon's play.

Mrs. Sam Harris will be the next hostess to the club, Nov. 26.

Members of the Carnation club of the Degree of Honor were entertained last evening at the home of Mrs. E. P. Heasler on One street with Mrs. Heasler and Mrs. M. Herman as hostesses.

At a short business meeting during the early part of the evening, presided over by Mrs. Heasler.

Minerva Says—

"REPTILE" leather—a striking note in the new footwear.
"Reptile" leathers were something of an experiment last year, but this season they are universally approved and everywhere worn. In the Cathay you'll see one good reason for their popularity, for this graceful one-strap is shown in tan calf trimmed with snake, or in patent trimmed with lizard. Either style makes one of the season's smartest shoes.
