Windy Wolf—My wife is very obstinate. I tagson Tatters—You mean obstinate. An obstacle is something that stands in a person's way; a hindrance. "That's my wife exactly."

DEEP STUFF! "How strikingly this reminds me of the words of the poet," remarked the La Grande boulder after complying with a third request to pass the butter. "What words?" "Life's butter passing dream."

Farmer—"An" saw be lawyer Barnes doing, doctor?" Doctor—"Poor fellow! He's lying at death's door." Farmer—"That's grit for 'ee' at death's door and still lying!"

"A scientist says we ought to eat food that will develop the carnis."

"Well, I could suggest an appropriate menu."

"And that is?"

"Noodle soup, head cheese, coconut pie."

A customer went into a La Grande store and picked up an article, walked out with it and told the clerk to charge it.

"On what account?" asked the clerk.

"On account of not having any money with me."

AT THE THEATERS

Excitement Is Furnished Aplenty In Jones Film

If you like rip-roaring western films you'll get a great kick out of Buck Jones' newest Fox production, "A Man From Nowhere," the current attraction at the Star theatre. Jones as Craig Norton is called upon to help a friend who, though innocent, has been convicted of stealing cattle. Buck runs down the guilty in his usual dashingly style and incidentally wins a beautiful bride.

The Fox animal comedy "The Lynx Tamer" furnishes plenty of fun on the program.

Denny's Picture At Arcade Humorous One

"Take It From Me" is Reginald Denny's funniest picture. Take it from me.

The Universal-Jewel production opened its three-day engagement at the Arcade theatre here last night to an enthusiastic audience of Denny fans who pronounced it a better farce even than "What Happened to Jones?" "Where Was I?" or the many other light comedies which have made him one of screen's most popular stars.

Starting with a bang as Denny, as an extravagant young heir sinks the last dollar of his inheritance on a horse which just can't win first place, the picture moves rapidly from one comedy situation to another. It is all plausible comedy too, however fantastic it may seem, for every ridiculous situation is logically accounted for, and one's credulity is seldom taxed.

The picture displays many scenes rich in pictorial beauty and splendor in addition to the comedy. Then there is always Blanche McHaffey, as comely and charming an ingenue as ever appeared before the camera.

A capable supporting cast of comedians, including Lee Moran, Ben Hendricks, Jr., Ethel Wales, Lucien Littlefield, Jean Tolley and others, contribute its share of laughs to the enjoyable picture.
