A man of the world had slipped and fallen on the icy sidewalk. A deacon of the church came along and remarked quite solemnly, "The wicked standeth in a slippery place."

"I see they do, but I can't," replied the fallen man, trying to rise.

Rastus, whar's dis 'ere Naked State dat dey find all de crazy people wanderin' round in?"

A bachelor of science is one who won't kiss a girl for fear of infection.

Aunt: "So your fiancé went away yesterday. Parting is very painful, isn't it?"
 Niece: "I should think it is, Auntie. Every rib in my body aches!"

"Are you positive the defendant was drunk?"
 "Well, your Honor, I saw him put a penny in a patrol box and then he looked up at the court house clock and roared, "Gawd! I've lost 14 pounds!"

DIPLOMACY
 The Young Bride (looking in window of jewelry store): George, I'd love to have that bracelet!
 The Husband: I can't afford to buy it for you, dear.
 The Bride: But if you could, you would, wouldn't you?
 The Husband: I'm afraid not.
 The Bride: Why?
 The Husband: It isn't good enough, dear.
 The Bride: Oh, you darling!

EXACTLY—An egotist is a man who thinks as much of himself as you do of yourself.

Apparently no censorship exists at the Spavinaw, Okla., swimming pool, where a sign reads: "Baths with suits, 25 cents; without suits, 25 cents."

Georgia man shot his wife because she didn't love him, but we doubt if that improved the situation.

Greaser: "My boy, if you want a thing done well you must do it yourself."
 Boy: "Then suppose you carry those crates down cellar, sir."

EXPENSES
 Rich man, twin six. — Poor man, six twins.

POSTPONEMENT PAYS
 Sparks—If you know who stole your car, why don't you get it back?
 Larks—I'm waiting for him to paint it life.

If all the autos in the United States were placed end to end it would be Sunday afternoon.

AT THE THEATERS

"Sweet Adeline" and Charles Ray Coming Here

The country boy idol of the screen meets the country girl idol of song!

Charles Ray's many fans will be unusually pleased to see the beloved hick picturize the sweetest love-story ever sung. "Sweet Adeline." This is Ray's latest achievement for the Chautauque Pictures Corporation and will be featured at the Sherry theatre Sunday and Monday.

The film version of "Sweet Adeline" centers on the Wilson family, whose youngest son is Ben, a tenor in the village quartette, and who clings to his dreams that some day he will startle the world with his singing. In the meantime he is doomed to an unnoticeable place in the household, and not even permitted to do outside work. It remains for Ben to attend to farm chores and kitchen duties.

As Ben Wilson, Charles Ray is cast in the type of role that has earned him enviable fame, the role of the awkward misunderstood hick. He is a country boy who lives in his visions rather than his environment until he finally unifies the two. His comedy and his pathos, injected into the film, is one of the best of the finest interest pictures of his career.

Gertrude Olmstead, who plays the role of Adeline, the girl of "my dreams" is one of the newest crop of film actresses and has won considerable fan following for herself. By her exceptional work in this picture she will bind herself more firmly in the heart of the movie-goer.

Comedically showing, "Punches and Perfumes."

Historic River In Carey Film At Sherrys

Harry Carey's company appearing in "The Man From Red Gulch" filmed the steamboat scenes for the picture on the Sacramento river in California. Bret Harjo, who wrote the story, found much the same type of stern paddle schooner operating between the Capitol and San Francisco as are operated today by the Southern Pacific company, the boats having changed in size only.

One of the original steamers which plied the river carrying gold and gold-seekers in the romantic gold rush days was used by the company. Edmund Mortimer, director, was in charge of the party which included Harriet Hammond, Frank Cammen, Mark Hamilton, Lee Shumway, Doris Lloyd, Frank Norcross, Mickey Moore and Virginia Davis, besides the cameraman, Georges Benoit and William Siskner. "The Man From Red Gulch," a Producers' Distributing Corporation release, will be shown at the Sherry theatre tonight. It is said to be highly thrilling and spectacular.

Comedy showing, "Shore Sky."
