

The Observer Want Ad Page

The Market Place of Union and Wallowa Counties

NEW TODAY

FOR HAULING trash and ashes, by job or month. Call 227-W.
12-9-imp

WANTED—Girl for general housework. Phone 493-J.
12-9-21

SEWING nearly done. Hand embroidery for sale. 1409 8th St.
12-9-14p

WANTED—Local and long distance hauling. Trips daily to Enterprise, Baker and Pendleton. Weekly trips to Portland. Goods delivered to consignee. Auto Freight Terminal, 309 Fir St. Phone Main 672 12-9-imp

FOR RENT—5-room furnished house. Modern except furnace. Excellent furniture. 2706 N. Second. Phone Main 72 12-9-31

FOR RENT—Modern apt. 431-W.
12-9-10p

ZUBER Brick—Phone 625-J. Absolutely modern rooms; also board; $35 up. First class place.
12-9-13

FOR RENT—Furnished 4-room modern house. 1706 4 Spruce.
12-9-22

FOR RENT—New 4-room modern house with bath, breakfast room and garage; hardwood floors in living room, 2 blocks from high school. Want permanent tenant. Phone 433-J.
12-8-41

FOR RENT—4-room modern furnished house. 1514 R.
12-8-41

FOR RENT—Furnished house-keeping rooms, $4.50 a week, including wood, lights and water. 1231 8th St.
12-8-21p

FOR RENT—3-room furnished apt. with private bath; 2-room furnished apt. with private bath. Call 256-J.
12-8-21p

FOR RENT—3-room furnished apt. Lights and water furnished. Adults only. Call 161-W.
12-8-11

FOR RENT—Two-room furnished house. $15 per mo. Call Main 248.
12-7-31

FOR RENT—Modern 6-room furnished house. 2105 First. 12-4-41

FOR RENT—Furnished rooms for light housekeeping. 1512 Adams. Phone 257-J.
11-29-41

FOR RENT—Modern steam heated furnished house, close in on Adams Ave. 1510 Adams Ave.
12-4-41

FOR RENT—Furnished house-keeping rooms. 2107 Third St.
11-29-41

FOR RENT—Piano. W. H. Bohnenkamp Co.
8-241f

FOR RENT—Fine home, 1 block from post office. E. C. Tuckey.
11-20-41

FOR SALE AND TRADE

FOR SALE—Purchased Rhode Island Red cockerels and pullets. Farmers 233.
12-7-121

FOR SALE—40-acre farm near Timber. Terms or consider some trade. L. J. Martin, Cove.
12-7-61p

Observer Want Ad Rates

(Count five average words to the line.)

Per line, 1st insertion.....10c
Per line, each added consecutive insertion.....7c
Minimum charge on one order.....25c

RATES BY MONTH

2 lines, per month.....$2.50
3 lines, per month.....$3.25
4 lines, per month.....$4.00
5 lines, per month.....$4.75

Each additional line over five charged at 50c per line per month.

CASH IN ADVANCE is required on all classified orders to earn these rates. Higher rates charged on all credit insertions.

Copy for all classified orders must be in this office by 10 A. M. DAY OF INSERTION. Stop orders on ad inserted until further notice must be received by the same hour or extra insertion will be charged.

Telephone orders solicited. Cash rates may be earned on phone orders by payment on or before date of last insertion.

PHONE MAIN 37
"An Observer Want Ad Will Do It"

FOR SALE—4-Acre tract, fine soil, modern 4-room house, 2 large poultry houses, barn, plenty of water. One block from city limits. Phone 492-W, or call Hall and M.
12-3-1mp

FOR SALE—Good used player piano at a bargain on easy terms. Eastern Oregon Music Co.
12-1-41

FOR SALE—New piano with bench to match, $10 per month, at price of used piano. Eastern Oregon Music Co.
12-1-41

FOR SALE OR TRADE—A new bridge lamp, $8.00, special. Donohue Furniture Exchange.
11-18-41

FOR SALE OR TRADE—Just the thing for holidays—a good Hoosier kitchen cabinet. Donohue Furniture Exchange. 474-J.
11-18-41

FOR SALE OR TRADE—A good used bed davenport, velvet upholstered. A No. 1 shape. Very low, sell or trade. Donohue Furniture Exchange. Fir and Jefferson. 474-J.
11-18-41

FOR SALE OR TRADE—Lady's writing desk, quartered oak. We buy, sell or trade. Donohue Furniture Exchange. 474-J. Fir and Jefferson.
11-18-41

FOR SALE OR TRADE—Now is the time to trade in your old stove for a good new or used range. Donohue Furniture Exchange. 474-J. Fir and Jefferson.
11-18-41

FOR SALE—Hand sorted potatoes, every sack guaranteed, $1.25 and up. Routh McKennon, Ladies' Exchange. Bridge, corner Jefferson and Hemlock.
10-27-41

FOR SALE—Herbs. Good medicine for rheumatism, stomach, kidney, bowel, liver, bladder and blood troubles and flu. H. J. Rouch at Chris Miller's, 1510 Adams avenue.
11-14-1mp

FOR SALE—Edison phonograph and records. 1402 O avenue.
12-7-31p

FOR SALE—Genuine King Coal, by the ton or sack. Also Hay and Feed. Stiles & Co. Phone Main 714.
10-30-1m

FOR SALE—Coe Ford delivery truck, panel body, good condition. Inquire Odorless Dry Cleaners.
7-271f

WANTED—Children to board. Mother's care. 1201 8th St.
12-8-31p

WANTED—150 turkeys. Phone Main 744. Moco Club. 12-3-51

WANTED—Sewing. Mrs. Chief. Phone 569-W.
12-3-61p

WANTED—Cleaning, pressing and alteration work on both men's and women's clothing. Expert workmanship. Phone The Wardrobe, Main 72.
10-1-1m

WANTED—Washings. Ph. 451-J.
11-27-1mp

WANTED—Raw furs. I pay the highest market price promptly. Also have large stock of made-up furs. Alterations and repairing. Chris Miller, 1510 Adams avenue.
11-14-1mp

PLAIN home stitching. 5c yd. Leave orders at Andrews Variety store or 706 N ave. Mrs. J. P. Calver.
12-8-41

J. FINNIE—Plumbing and repairing, steam and hot water heating. On Elm near Depot St. Phone Main 677.
11-10-1m

LOST—Tuesday, from 7 to 9 p. m., between Monroe and Depot St., Eagle's claw encircled with gold band. Leave at Fir St. Confectionery or Union Food Hall.
11-14-21p

LOST—German police dog. Co. license No. 374; city license 292. Phone 670-W.
12-8-22

USED CARS

1925 FORD TUDOR SEDAN
1924 CHEVROLET COUPE
1924 FRANKLIN SEDAN
Good as new.
CHRYSLER GARAGE
Cor. Jeff. and Elm.
12-9-22

1923 DODGE TOURING
Excellent condition.
LEDBETTER GARAGE
12-8-21

Goitre Reduced Five Inches

And Health Improved for Spokane Lady.

Mrs. Bertha Landberg, E. 2607 7th Ave., Spokane, Wash., says: "Since using Sorbol-Quadruple a colorless liniment a short time my goitre is gone. My weight is good. I sleep nights, and feel like I did before. Will tell or write my full experience." Write Sorbol Company, Mechanicsburg, Ohio. Sold at all drug stores. Locally at L. & L. Drug Co. Adv.

FOR SALE—Hand sorted potatoes, every sack guaranteed, $1.25 and up. Routh McKennon, Ladies' Exchange. Bridge, corner Jefferson and Hemlock.
10-27-41

FOR SALE—Herbs. Good medicine for rheumatism, stomach, kidney, bowel, liver, bladder and blood troubles and flu. H. J. Rouch at Chris Miller's, 1510 Adams avenue.
11-14-1mp

A colored man had spent all his money on the merry-go-round. When he alighted from his last ride, his thrifty wife confronted him with: "Now, you spent all your money, nigger, what's you all bin?"

Little Kitty—Let's pretend we're married.

Little Dick—Can't. Mother says we must keep quiet.

CHRISTMAS CAROLS
Santa's coming, girls! Rolled down socks are pleasant. But it takes an old time sock. To hold a decent present.

Santa's coming, girls! Love each wintry night. Be affectionate for just a week. You'll get that ring, all right.

Santa's coming, fellows. Put that wad down deep. Or better yet, don't fool or pet. Till Santa's gone to sleep.

Santa's coming, everyone. But do not come with fear. Because he only has a chance. To leave home once a year.

"Buy buy," murmured the sweet young thing as she kissed him goodnight for the last time before Christmas.

The only place where you can find a woman who doesn't care about clothes is in the cemetery.

Arthur—May I print a kiss on your lips?
Gladys—No, Arthur, you aren't my type.

A little town in North Carolina has only one telephone and it is said to be the happiest town in the world. Chances are they have heard of the Charleston evolution or the prohibition question.

Consors who think "necking" is a devilish device of the new generation of humans should observe two doves on a bough or two horses under a shade tree.

Better be deciding what to give your wife for Christmas so she can change your mind in time.

A THREE DAYS COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

When "Columbus," the New Pathé film, is shown at the Star theater today and Friday, patrons of that popular playhouse will have their first opportunity to see what historical experts think is an accurate picture of Christopher Columbus and the great event of his discovery of the New World as it is humanly possible to make it.

In "Columbus" much stress is laid on the strong character of the discoverer. His hopes and fears and struggles are brought home as they never could be in books, and it is easy to understand the sort of courage and persistence that brought him success.

The ship scenes were made in Chicago, where there is a fine replica of Columbus' ship, the Santa Maria, which carried him across the ocean. This ship was made for the World's Fair of 1893 and is considered a perfect example of the sailing vessels of the fifteenth century.

The minutest care was given to every detail of costuming. H. A. Ogden, artist of authority on historical costumes, designed them. Just as carefully selected was the banner of Spain which Columbus plants on the shore. There were a number of official banners at the time, but it was decided that Columbus probably carried to the New World the "King of the Green

AT THE THEATERS

"Wild Oats Lane" Features Viola And Bob Agnew

Marshall Neilan selected Viola Dana, and Robert Agnew to head the cast of his production, "Wild Oats Lane," which will be shown at the Sherry theatre last time tonight. This is the second time within a few months that the Dana-Agnew combination has been seen in a Neilan production. The previous assignment was in the producer-director's "The Great Love."

"The story is placed in a small town in Pennsylvania and in New York City. There are many thrilling scenes."

"Wild Oats Lane" was adapted from Gerald Beaumont's story, "The Gambling Chaplain," which was dramatized by George Broadhurst. Those in the supporting cast include John P. MacSweeney, Jerry Miller, Scott Welch, Robert Brown, Margaret Seddon, George Barnum, Mitchell Lewis, Eddie James and others.

Comedy showing "Pupp Love Time."

Meet "The Duchess of Buffalo." La Grande will get its first glimpse of her Friday at the Arcade theatre, where Constance Talmadge, as an American girl masquerading as a great duchess in Russia, appears on the screen in her latest comedy drama. The picture, easily the star's greatest, will play a two-day engagement.

Miss Talmadge is at her best in this lavishly produced photoplay, directed by Sidney A. Franklin. She again demonstrates her flair for scintillating comedy and fast-action romance. No star wears finer clothes better than Constance, and her wardrobe in this picture is a revelation.

"Columbia" as Exact as Humanly Possible

When "Columbus," the New Pathé film, is shown at the Star theater today and Friday, patrons of that popular playhouse will have their first opportunity to see what historical experts think is an accurate picture of Christopher Columbus and the great event of his discovery of the New World as it is humanly possible to make it.

In "Columbus" much stress is laid on the strong character of the discoverer. His hopes and fears and struggles are brought home as they never could be in books, and it is easy to understand the sort of courage and persistence that brought him success.

The ship scenes were made in Chicago, where there is a fine replica of Columbus' ship, the Santa Maria, which carried him across the ocean. This ship was made for the World's Fair of 1893 and is considered a perfect example of the sailing vessels of the fifteenth century.

The minutest care was given to every detail of costuming. H. A. Ogden, artist of authority on historical costumes, designed them. Just as carefully selected was the banner of Spain which Columbus plants on the shore. There were a number of official banners at the time, but it was decided that Columbus probably carried to the New World the "King of the Green

When "Columbus," the New Pathé film, is shown at the Star theater today and Friday, patrons of that popular playhouse will have their first opportunity to see what historical experts think is an accurate picture of Christopher Columbus and the great event of his discovery of the New World as it is humanly possible to make it.

In "Columbus" much stress is laid on the strong character of the discoverer. His hopes and fears and struggles are brought home as they never could be in books, and it is easy to understand the sort of courage and persistence that brought him success.

The ship scenes were made in Chicago, where there is a fine replica of Columbus' ship, the Santa Maria, which carried him across the ocean. This ship was made for the World's Fair of 1893 and is considered a perfect example of the sailing vessels of the fifteenth century.

The minutest care was given to every detail of costuming. H. A. Ogden, artist of authority on historical costumes, designed them. Just as carefully selected was the banner of Spain which Columbus plants on the shore. There were a number of official banners at the time, but it was decided that Columbus probably carried to the New World the "King of the Green

When "Columbus," the New Pathé film, is shown at the Star theater today and Friday, patrons of that popular playhouse will have their first opportunity to see what historical experts think is an accurate picture of Christopher Columbus and the great event of his discovery of the New World as it is humanly possible to make it.

In "Columbus" much stress is laid on the strong character of the discoverer. His hopes and fears and struggles are brought home as they never could be in books, and it is easy to understand the sort of courage and persistence that brought him success.

The ship scenes were made in Chicago, where there is a fine replica of Columbus' ship, the Santa Maria, which carried him across the ocean. This ship was made for the World's Fair of 1893 and is considered a perfect example of the sailing vessels of the fifteenth century.

The minutest care was given to every detail of costuming. H. A. Ogden, artist of authority on historical costumes, designed them. Just as carefully selected was the banner of Spain which Columbus plants on the shore. There were a number of official banners at the time, but it was decided that Columbus probably carried to the New World the "King of the Green

When "Columbus," the New Pathé film, is shown at the Star theater today and Friday, patrons of that popular playhouse will have their first opportunity to see what historical experts think is an accurate picture of Christopher Columbus and the great event of his discovery of the New World as it is humanly possible to make it.

In "Columbus" much stress is laid on the strong character of the discoverer. His hopes and fears and struggles are brought home as they never could be in books, and it is easy to understand the sort of courage and persistence that brought him success.

The ship scenes were made in Chicago, where there is a fine replica of Columbus' ship, the Santa Maria, which carried him across the ocean. This ship was made for the World's Fair of 1893 and is considered a perfect example of the sailing vessels of the fifteenth century.

The minutest care was given to every detail of costuming. H. A. Ogden, artist of authority on historical costumes, designed them. Just as carefully selected was the banner of Spain which Columbus plants on the shore. There were a number of official banners at the time, but it was decided that Columbus probably carried to the New World the "King of the Green

When "Columbus," the New Pathé film, is shown at the Star theater today and Friday, patrons of that popular playhouse will have their first opportunity to see what historical experts think is an accurate picture of Christopher Columbus and the great event of his discovery of the New World as it is humanly possible to make it.

In "Columbus" much stress is laid on the strong character of the discoverer. His hopes and fears and struggles are brought home as they never could be in books, and it is easy to understand the sort of courage and persistence that brought him success.

The ship scenes were made in Chicago, where there is a fine replica of Columbus' ship, the Santa Maria, which carried him across the ocean. This ship was made for the World's Fair of 1893 and is considered a perfect example of the sailing vessels of the fifteenth century.

The minutest care was given to every detail of costuming. H. A. Ogden, artist of authority on historical costumes, designed them. Just as carefully selected was the banner of Spain which Columbus plants on the shore. There were a number of official banners at the time, but it was decided that Columbus probably carried to the New World the "King of the Green

When "Columbus," the New Pathé film, is shown at the Star theater today and Friday, patrons of that popular playhouse will have their first opportunity to see what historical experts think is an accurate picture of Christopher Columbus and the great event of his discovery of the New World as it is humanly possible to make it.

In "Columbus" much stress is laid on the strong character of the discoverer. His hopes and fears and struggles are brought home as they never could be in books, and it is easy to understand the sort of courage and persistence that brought him success.

The ship scenes were made in Chicago, where there is a fine replica of Columbus' ship, the Santa Maria, which carried him across the ocean. This ship was made for the World's Fair of 1893 and is considered a perfect example of the sailing vessels of the fifteenth century.

The minutest care was given to every detail of costuming. H. A. Ogden, artist of authority on historical costumes, designed them. Just as carefully selected was the banner of Spain which Columbus plants on the shore. There were a number of official banners at the time, but it was decided that Columbus probably carried to the New World the "King of the Green

When "Columbus," the New Pathé film, is shown at the Star theater today and Friday, patrons of that popular playhouse will have their first opportunity to see what historical experts think is an accurate picture of Christopher Columbus and the great event of his discovery of the New World as it is humanly possible to make it.

In "Columbus" much stress is laid on the strong character of the discoverer. His hopes and fears and struggles are brought home as they never could be in books, and it is easy to understand the sort of courage and persistence that brought him success.

The ship scenes were made in Chicago, where there is a fine replica of Columbus' ship, the Santa Maria, which carried him across the ocean. This ship was made for the World's Fair of 1893 and is considered a perfect example of the sailing vessels of the fifteenth century.

The minutest care was given to every detail of costuming. H. A. Ogden, artist of authority on historical costumes, designed them. Just as carefully selected was the banner of Spain which Columbus plants on the shore. There were a number of official banners at the time, but it was decided that Columbus probably carried to the New World the "King of the Green

When "Columbus," the New Pathé film, is shown at the Star theater today and Friday, patrons of that popular playhouse will have their first opportunity to see what historical experts think is an accurate picture of Christopher Columbus and the great event of his discovery of the New World as it is humanly possible to make it.

In "Columbus" much stress is laid on the strong character of the discoverer. His hopes and fears and struggles are brought home as they never could be in books, and it is easy to understand the sort of courage and persistence that brought him success.

The ship scenes were made in Chicago, where there is a fine replica of Columbus' ship, the Santa Maria, which carried him across the ocean. This ship was made for the World's Fair of 1893 and is considered a perfect example of the sailing vessels of the fifteenth century.

The minutest care was given to every detail of costuming. H. A. Ogden, artist of authority on historical costumes, designed them. Just as carefully selected was the banner of Spain which Columbus plants on the shore. There were a number of official banners at the time, but it was decided that Columbus probably carried to the New World the "King of the Green

When "Columbus," the New Pathé film, is shown at the Star theater today and Friday, patrons of that popular playhouse will have their first opportunity to see what historical experts think is an accurate picture of Christopher Columbus and the great event of his discovery of the New World as it is humanly possible to make it.

Cross" bearing the cross and the letters F and I, standing for Ferdinand and Isabella. Even the manner in which Queen Isabella's gown falls in folds is historically correct.

On the same program will also be shown Ken Maynard's newest "First National Western" feature, "The Unknown Cavalier," taken from the story "Little Him, Cowboy," by Kenneth Perkins.

Movie Sidelights

By the Associated Press

The bears of Yellowstone National park made Tom Mix one of their pals while he was filming scenes for his next picture. Attracted by the scent of food, they became daily visitors, making friends with the company.

The late Harry Houdini was the man who christened Joseph Francis Keaton "Buster," the latter's father says. Joe and Myra Keaton and Houdini were travelling in a tent show in Kansas when the infant fell down a flight of stairs. "What a Buster!" Houdini exclaimed, and the baby became "Buster Keaton."

The purchase of a screen wardrobe by long-distance was negotiated by the Warner Brothers costume department in Hollywood. Patsy Ruth Miller, who was in New York, selected a wardrobe for her next picture from among Fifth Avenue's creations.

Wishing to prolong her trip, she sent for a scenario, read it, and chose such clothes as the action of the script would necessitate.

All records for the making of screen tests were shattered recently at the Paramount Eastern studio, when fifteen of the company's younger players were given photographic trials in one day. The results were forwarded to Hollywood to serve the Lasky studio directors as an index of the young players' screen appearances.

Harry Lachmond, International-known American painter, three of whose pictures hang in the

When "Columbus," the New Pathé film, is shown at the Star theater today and Friday, patrons of that popular playhouse will have their first opportunity to see what historical experts think is an accurate picture of Christopher Columbus and the great event of his discovery of the New World as it is humanly possible to make it.

In "Columbus" much stress is laid on the strong character of the discoverer. His hopes and fears and struggles are brought home as they never could be in books, and it is easy to understand the sort of courage and persistence that brought him success.

The ship scenes were made in Chicago, where there is a fine replica of Columbus' ship, the Santa Maria, which carried him across the ocean. This ship was made for the World's Fair of 1893 and is considered a perfect example of the sailing vessels of the fifteenth century.

The minutest care was given to every detail of costuming. H. A. Ogden, artist of authority on historical costumes, designed them. Just as carefully selected was the banner of Spain which Columbus plants on the shore. There were a number of official banners at the time, but it was decided that Columbus probably carried to the New World the "King of the Green

When "Columbus," the New Pathé film, is shown at the Star theater today and Friday, patrons of that popular playhouse will have their first opportunity to see what historical experts think is an accurate picture of Christopher Columbus and the great event of his discovery of the New World as it is humanly possible to make it.

In "Columbus" much stress is laid on the strong character of the discoverer. His hopes and fears and struggles are brought home as they never could be in books, and it is easy to understand the sort of courage and persistence that brought him success.

The ship scenes were made in Chicago, where there is a fine replica of Columbus' ship, the Santa Maria, which carried him across the ocean. This ship was made for the World's Fair of 1893 and is considered a perfect example of the sailing vessels of the fifteenth century.

The minutest care was given to every detail of costuming. H. A. Ogden, artist of authority on historical costumes, designed them. Just as carefully selected was the banner of Spain which Columbus plants on the shore. There were a number of official banners at the time, but it was decided that Columbus probably carried to the New World the "King of the Green

When "Columbus," the New Pathé film, is shown at the Star theater today and Friday, patrons of that popular playhouse will have their first opportunity to see what historical experts think is an accurate picture of Christopher Columbus and the great event of his discovery of the New World as it is humanly possible to make it.

In "Columbus" much stress is laid on the strong character of the discoverer. His hopes and fears and struggles are brought home as they never could be in books, and it is easy to understand the sort of courage and persistence that brought him success.

The ship scenes were made in Chicago, where there is a fine replica of Columbus' ship, the Santa Maria, which carried him across the ocean. This ship was made for the World's Fair of 1893 and is considered a perfect example of the sailing vessels of the fifteenth century.

The minutest care was given to every detail of costuming. H. A. Ogden, artist of authority on historical costumes, designed them. Just as carefully selected was the banner of Spain which Columbus plants on the shore. There were a number of official banners at the time, but it was decided that Columbus probably carried to the New World the "King of the Green

When "Columbus," the New Pathé film, is shown at the Star theater today and Friday, patrons of that popular playhouse will have their