Announcements

The Adulvium Pinochle club will meet at the Denver Charlotta home on X avenue Saturday night at 8 o'clock.

Sister Mary Says:

BREAKFAST—California grapes, cereal, thin cream, baked hash with tomato sauce, crisp graham toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Rice croquettes with cheese sauce, head lettuce with French dressing, molasses pudding, milk, tea.

DINNER—Casserole of chicken, mashed potatoes, squash croquettes, jellied fruit salad, cranberry sherbet, macaroons, bran rolls, milk coffee.

The molasses pudding suggested for the luncheon dessert is an unusual and delicious dessert worthy of any occasion. It is particularly good for an "emergency" dessert.

Marshmallow sauce or fluffy hard sauce can be used in place of whipped cream if cream has not been provided for whipping.

Molasses Pudding
One cup molasses, 1/2 cup granulated sugar, 1 tablespoon melted lard, 1/2 cup hot strong coffee, 2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon soda, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon ginger, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon cloves, 1 egg.

Combine molasses, sugar, lard and hot coffee. Mix and sift flour, salt, soda and spices and stir into first mixture. Beat until perfectly smooth and add egg beaten until very light. Turn into a deep cake pan with a chimney or a dripping pan. Bake 25 minutes in a moderate oven if the dripping pan is used, or 40 minutes in a tube pan. Cut in squares and serve warm and flavored with vanilla. If the tube pan is used, remove pudding from pan, fill cavity with whipped cream and cover entire pudding thickly with it. Serve at the table. This makes a festive looking dessert for company.

Oregon Literary Battle Shows No Signs of Let-Up

SALEM, Ore., Dec. 10 (AP)—Oregon's literary battle over the merits of Sam Rinspee, Oregon poet, now many years dead, is unabated. The Eugene Guard has joined the newspaper that have assailed Albert Richard Wetjen, Salem, writer, because of an article written by him in the "Liberty Democrat Herald" of last Saturday in which Wetjen denounced the movement to erect a monument to Simpson, whom he termed a fourth-rate poet. In a sarcastic editorial the Guard ridicules the Wetjen article.

In a statement here today Wetjen replies to his critics. He avers that the newspapers have not accorded him fair play and that they have not met the issue, but have attacked him personally and accused him of being envious and jealous.

"It is to be desired," said Wetjen, "to raise a monument to Simpson. I say that is none of my business. But to raise a monument to Simpson the poet I consider an undertaking open to criticism by any of the public. I attacked Simpson with the honest belief that he was a mediocre poet, and honesty at least the press might grant me. My chief crime seems to be that I attacked a pioneer and called the press 'spineless'."
