LITTLE TRADING: COLD HINDRANCE

Chilly Snap Expected to Bolster Prices of Fresh Eggs

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 13 (AP)—Produce houses in Portland's wholesale district were boxed up tight Monday morning with every precaution taken to prevent perishable stocks of fruit and vegetables from freezing. There was no sidewalk displays and the street looked almost as barren as a holiday.

The few buyers that braved the cold did their ordering inside around the stove. On the team track, cars containing perishable stock were kept closed and hauling was limited to such commodities that were not susceptible to frost damage.

Not enough trading transpired during the early morning session to establish new price levels. Offerings were plentiful in most lines and there was little pep to the market.

Cold weather is expected to stimulate the demand for heavier vegetables and will probably reflect later in prices on potatoes, onions, cabbage, spinach, celery and lettuce. It is still too early to learn the actual damage to local truck gardens, although growers in the market today reported crops badly frozen around Portland.

The cold wave sweeping over the country is expected to put an end to the slump in fresh egg values and caused prices to react sharply. Prices opened unchanged on the local market at the 49c top on extras.

The butter market is steady and unchanged. High score cubes are still in demand and higher values are expected as a result of the cold weather.

Country dressed meats and poultry were nominally steady this morning with not enough trading to establish new levels.

SALEM, Ore., Dec. 13 (AP)—The program for the twenty first annual convention of county judges and commissioners of Oregon to be held in Portland Dec. 20, 21 and 22 was announced here today by County Commissioner J. E. Smith, of Marion county, secretary and treasurer of the association.

Rail Shares in Lead As Stock Prices Go High

NEW YORK, Dec. 13 (AP).—Undeterred by higher money rates representing preparations for large year-end disbursements, investment funds continued to flow into the stock market today, accelerating the rising trend of prices.

Railroad shares assumed the leadership of the market. Atchison crossed 169 to within a fraction of its record high and Pere Marquette rallied more than five points to a new peak.

Growing optimism over the business outlook as the year draws to a close promoted accumulation of popular industrial issues such as National Lead and Universal Pipe preferred, both of which sold about five points higher.

One of the striking individual performances was given by Texas Pacific Land Trust which soared 130 points to a new record high at 1429.

The closing was strong, with an upturn in the motor shares in the final hour. Peerless jumped 4½ points and General Motors, White and Chrysler advanced two points or more. Sugar issues followed a four point rise in South Porto Rico and Pan American Western "B" with a three point gain led the oil stocks to higher ground. Total sales approximated 1,700,000 shares.

MYSTERIOUS BUNK

Once in a blue moon now some bright, old-fashioned cynic says: "Aw, I never read the advertisements. They're full of bunk."

But when one starts to look for it, the "bunk" in advertising shows a mysterious tendency to be absent. Specimens of it are hard to locate.

The reason for that is simple. Bad goods cannot be successfully advertised. To stand up under the pitiless glare of publicity, merchandise must be honest. It must live up to its promises. Otherwise you would quickly cease to buy it.

So advertisers discovered long ago that for them, too, honesty was the best policy. More!—the only possible policy, if they were to remain advertisers!

Read the advertisements. They are not full of bunk. On the contrary, they are full of honest information and interesting news. They show you ways to be more comfortable. They make life easier. They help you to be happier and healthier. They teach you prices and values.

No doubt about it—advertisements do you many a service. Read them every day!

Advertisements convey honest information about honest products—it will pay you to read them
