BUTTER PRICES
ADVANCE TODAY

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 14 (AP).—An advance of 2 cents a pound in print butter and butterfat prices is effective in the local market today. Creameries are now quoting prices at 50 cents and cartons at 51 cents.

The buying price of butterfat ranges from 50 cents in nearby zones downward to 47 cents in the country.

On the dairy exchange, butter prices soared with advances ranging from 1/2c on extras to 1 1/2c on prime firsts.

Cold weather and stiffening outside demand is responsible for the brisk advance here.

Receipts from country creameries Monday amounted to 15,165 pounds and the local make totaled 14,199 pounds with 512 pounds withdrawn from storage.

Country dressed meats are steady and unchanged. Some of Tuesday's arrivals on the street bore traces of frost although receipts so far have not been frozen sufficient to hurt their sales value.

The cold wave sweeping the country is stimulating egg values. On the local board undersized eggs were posted one to two cents higher for the day. Mediums now up to 35 cents and povers 29 cents. Other grades held steady and unchanged.

Local poultry market is steady and unchanged with the old limit on all lines. Receipts are light. Strong Christmas market on turkeys expected by trade.

Issues Climb to New High Levels; Industrials Lead

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (By the Associated Press).—Resumption of the upward movement of prices in today's stock market carried the general industrial average to a new record high level. Trading was again in broad volume, with the public apparently taking a greater interest in the proceedings. Motor shares received major speculative attention under the leadership of General Motors and Mack Truck. Another series of "Christmas dividends" in the form of increased and extra payments helped to create bullish enthusiasm.
