SCORES WOMEN

NEW YORK—No man is playing a leading part in modernism running through present-day life and literature. In the opinion of Charles A. Richmond, president of Union College, and a prophecy that some day women will be distinguished by the indecency of their conversation is near fulfillment.

Prohibition may have prompted the latest Metropolitan office in wine bottles. The staffers are unadorned to the silver collars that top their cut crystal forms.

Elizabeth Follen

The Elizabethan influence on modern English fashions is emphasized by Pierrot frocks on the new winter frocks. Short hair is believed responsible for the vogue for neck ornamentation. It is exemplified by high collars finished with bows or by collars made of strings around the neck. The tulle bow has come in again on a elegant scale. With light dresses a black velvet band is worn around the neck and is finished off at the side-back by an immense bow or tulle. The black band must fit closely around the neck in order to give the bow its full value and fairly stiff tulle is used so that it may stick out as much as Queen Elizabeth's ruff. With gray hair, gray tulle is used.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

A society woman has a liard which sits on her shoulder. Others have trained their pet reptiles to walk by their sides and carry parcels.

Said the La Grande teacher—“Tommy, if you don't behave yourself, I shall have to take your name.”

Outside, Tommy confided to his chums—“My teacher threatened to marry me, if I don't look out.”

Have you finished your Christmas shopping? We haven't started yet, either.

If we had been Noah when he was offering sanctuary to various unsheltered creatures that time, we'd have had a final reckoning with the fly right then and there.

“Have you a Charles Dickens in your home?” asked a polite book agent.

“No!” she snapped. “Or a Robert Louis Stevenson?”

“No!” she snapped. “Or a George Field?”

“No, we ain't, and what's more, we don't run a boarding house here either. If you're looking for them fellows, you might try the house across the street.”

I heard a story about a man who fell out of a boat and began to yell for help.

“Lower your legs!” shouted the captain.

And the man did, and found himself in four feet of water.

That is often the way. Our troubles are seldom as bad as we think they are.

COAL RETURNS TO FAVOR

Coal returning to favor. Last year the smart English women wore jade—jade earrings, necklaces, cigarette holders—this autumn everything favors coal. Long necklaces of small pieces of branch coal of the type grand-mothers loved to wear are in all the leading shops, as well as coral cameo brooches, plaques, coral rings and coral bracelets.

GAYER FURNITURE

Gayer furniture is being featured in the stately homes of Kensington. Color has been introduced this fall in narrow or broad bands of rich marquetry. In some mosaic work more than a score of colored woods are used. A gallery of H. general walnut—brightly enriched with marquetry of ebony, box, walnut, sycamore, stainedwood, tulip, with jade-green bone handles is an instance of the artistic ingenuity that is being applied.

Taxation of soft drinks promises to be the overshadowing issue before the January meeting of the South Carolina legislature.

AT THE THEATERS

Helene Chadwick Is Chorus Girl in New Picture

The stage and the life of the people behind the scenes have a fascination that is irresistible. When contrasted with the butterfly existence of the exquisite society debutante, the highlights of dramatic contrast are intensified and quickened.

In “Trooping With Ellen,” the picture now showing at the Sherry theater, beautiful Helene Chadwick plays the role of a chorus girl who renounces the luxury of a perfume society boudoir for grease paint and a Broadway dressing room. “Trooping With Ellen,” is an adaptation of the Saturday Evening Post story, by Earl Derr Biggers, and is one of the finest pieces of fiction written by the popular author whose “Seven Keys to Baldpate” was a sensation.

Miss Chadwick, who, prior to her debut as a screen actress, was the most photographed girl in America—being known as “The Girl on the Magazine Cover,” “The Harrison Fisher Girl” and “The Perfect Type of Beautiful American Womanhood,” has earned an enviable position on the screen.

Entertainment Offered in Mix Picture

Honest-to-goodness screen entertainment is what Tom Mix is supplying today, Friday and Saturday at the Star theater in “The Great K & A Train Robbery,” which was accorded an enthusiastic reception by the first local audience to see it last night.

There's a real, thrilling story which shows the ever-popular Tom in the best role of his career. The scene effects are gorgeous, the surrounding cast is excellent and the direction of Rex Sedler is all that could be desired. The picture is a Fox Films product.

Director Sedler started out with an excellent plot, which is based upon the novel by Paul Leicester Ford. But he didn't let one opportunity go by the boards. He grasped every situation and developed it to the utmost degree.

The star is cast as Tom Gordon, a noted detective who has been assigned to the tough job of rounding up a gang of desperadoes who have had great success in looting K & A trains. Burton Holt, division superintendent, is really the brains of the gang and Tom soon finds him out. Meanwhile, he meets Sadie Gullen, (Dorothy Dwan) the daughter of the president of the railroad. Madge mistakes Tom for a bandit, which does nothing but add to the detective's troubles. From the time of Tom's big encounter with the bandits to the end of the picture, “The Great K & A Train Robbery” travels at terrific speed.

Mickey Neilan's Latest Story Of Stage Life

Not only is Marshall Neilan credited with having produced and directed Paramount's latest picture, “Eccentricity,” Acting,” he also wrote the story from which it was adapted. And it's a fascinating tale which Mr. Neilan has evolved. The opening scenes take place in a small Canadian town way back in 1908. Behind the scenes in a stock company's theater, a tragedy is enacted when the leading lady's husband murders her. After the man has been hung for his crime, four members of the troupe and a newspaper reporter adopt the orphaned infant daughter.

Eight years pass. The strange sextet are living in San Francisco and the little girl, adored by all five foster fathers is being trained for the stage.

Again the scene shifts. Boris, eighteen years old, is an ingenue with a San Francisco stock company. Her actor guardians are now members of the same troupe; the reporter, an editor, Boris meets Ted Potter, son of an enormously wealthy woman who objects to her son's association with an actress.

How the latter uncovers the unpleasant details of the death of Boris' parents and how the ultimate consummation of her romance comes about, provide more than a few thrills and heart throbs.

Betty Bronson is superbly cast as the girl who grew up. Ford Sterling, Henry Wallhall, Raymond Hitchcock, Edward Martindel and Stuart Holmes all give interesting characterizations, as do Lawrence Gray and Louise Dresser—the hero and his mother.

Advance reports call “Eccentricity” Acting,” which arrives at the Arcade theater on Friday, a picture for any age or desire. Marshall Neilan's deft intermingling of comedy, romance and drama would seem to show that he has once more hit the bull!

Hell is also a state of mind caused by over eating.
