A novelist makes the hero say: "As I gaze upon your face, time stands still," and the heroine probably wondered whether he meant that her face would stop a clock.

HEROES WE HAVE MET—We know a man who medals wear. He won where shot and shell were popping. He mocks at danger's chilling stars. But yet, his wife can take him shopping.

Mrs. Hen Peck had just thrown the table lamp at H. Peck, missed him, and hit the wall, demolishing the lamp. "Well anyway," said Hen "after tonight we'll see things in a new light."

Caller: I want to see the boss. Office Girl: Sorry, but he's in conference with the vice-president and general manager. Caller: Let me in. I know a funny story, too.

We met one girl in Baker, that we should like to introduce to Leta. We asked her if she were fond of kissing and she said: "I don't know. How do you kipple?"

Mrs. New had called at the grocery store to register a complaint. "I ordered a dozen oranges from you today," she said sharply, "and you only sent me eleven. How was that?"

"Well, ma'am," explained the grocer, "one of them was so bad that I took the liberty of throwing it away for you."

Among the feminine entrants, Miss Barrett took to Catalina Island recently to establish headquarters and begin training. The list of women entrants include Mrs. Charlotte Moore Schoemmel of Albany, N. Y., whose objection to wearing a bathing suit in the Catalina marathon stirred considerable comment.

Among the men entered from the east are Charles Toth, of Boston, who negotiated the English channel in 1923, and Peter Meyer, of Cincinnati. Henry Sullivan, of Boston, who also crossed the English channel in 1923, is in training near here but has not officially filed his entry for the marathon.

AT THE THEATERS

Dog Wonder on Screen at Sherrys Tonight

Hin-Tin-Tin is at Sherrys tonight in his latest picture, "A Hero of the Big Snow," written by Kwart Edmondson.

Hin-Tin-Tin, popularly known as the dog wonder of the screen, made his film debut in "The Light House by the Sea" for Warner Bros. This production was followed by "Where the North Begins," "Find Your Man," "Below the Line," and "The Clash of the Waves," with "The Night Cry," with "Tinty" establishing himself more firmly in the affections of the picture public with each new photograph. Although his success and popularity has brought other animal actors to the screen, Tinty surpasses them all in his powerful physique and remarkable intelligence.

He is a German shepherd dog, more commonly called a police dog, who was born in France in 1918 and named after one of the "lucky dolls" of the war. Adopted and trained by Lieutenant Lee Thacker for several years he displayed uncannily human characteristics and an ability to perform breath-taking feats. This suggested the possibility of a screen career for Tinty to his owner, and success was instantaneous.

This production is a dramatic story of the Canadian woods, and is said to be Tinty's best picture. Comedy showing "Dummy Love."

Rex Ingram's well remembered screen classic "The Four Horsemen," of the Apocalypses, one of the greatest films ever produced by the industry, has returned in triumph in response to a flood of requests from exhibitors all over the country. This picture, unsurpassed as an artistic record of its time, is the film that brought the late Rudolph Valentino to fame. Valentino plays opposite Alice Terry in this picture, and in it does some of the best work he ever contributed to the screen.

An enormous cast was employed by Director Ingram with phenomenal success in translating the popular themes novel to the screen. Its first showing aroused unprecedented enthusiasm in New York, Chicago, Boston, Pittsburgh, Detroit, Los Angeles and other film centers, where it was characterized by the critics as one of the great pictures of all time.

June Mathis made the adaptation for this Rex Ingram production for Metro-Goldwyn.

This master picture will open a three day engagement at the Arcade theater on Monday.

It keeps a lot of people moving to get enough money to pay rent.
