Police, Firemen Grappling For Missing Bodies

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (AP)—Police and firemen today continued grappling among the ice flows of the Hudson river for the bodies of 10 men believed missing from among more than two score workmen in search of jobs, who were drowned yesterday when the launch James King capsized.

Thirty bodies had been recovered. Relatives who visited the morgue failed to find at least 10 others they sought.

Thirty-seven of more than 60 men who crowded the 42-foot craft in its perilous trip across the river from 54th street, New York, to Edgewater, N. J., were rescued after clinging to ice cakes and the sides of the ship for almost an hour.

Captain Arrested
Captain John Lohweider, the 29-year-old skipper of the craft, who swam more than a mile towards the Jersey shore before he was picked up, was under police guard at the Kalerbocker hospital today suffering from shock and exposure and threatened with pneumonia. He was under technical charges of negligence and homicide.

The launch was owned by Spencer Kellogg and sons, licensed oil manufacturers. More than 100 men, most of them answering an advertisement, gathered at dawn at the company's Manhattan pier for the trip to the plant across the river. Captain Lohweider says only 60 men, less than the boat's estimated capacity, crowded aboard for the first trip, but some of the survivors place the figure close to 100.

25 Trapped in Cabin
More than 25 men were trapped in the small cabin of the boat. Those on deck leaped overboard and clung to the ice floes and to the ship's sides, although many, their fingers numbed by the cold, lost their grips and slipped beneath the water.

THE RANDOM SHOT

I shot an arrow into the air,
It fell in the distance, I knew not where,
Till a neighbor said that it killed his cat,
And I had to pay him six and a half.

I bought some poison to slay some rats,
And a neighbor swore it killed his cats,
And rather than argue across the fence,
I paid him four dollars and fifty cents.

One night I set sailing a toy balloon,
And hope it would soar till it reached the moon,
But the candle fell on a farmer's straw,
And he said I must settle or go to law.

And that is the way with the random shot,
It never hits in the proper spot,
And the joke you speak that you think so smart,
May leave a wound in some fellow's heart.

How To Gain 5 Pounds in 30 Days

Ask Red Cross Drug Store or any druggist for a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets. They cost but little, are sugar coated and as pleasant to take as candy.

Skinny men and women take them to speedily put on plenty of good, healthy, solid flesh, and for this purpose they are so extremely good that thin men and women often take on 5 pounds or more in 30 days. As a matter of fact, all druggists are authorized to return your money if you don't take on 5 pounds in 30 days.

One thin woman gained 15 pounds in six weeks.

Insist on McCoy's, the original and genuine—60 Tablets—50 cents. Adv.

The paramount question before the country today is "How much is the down payment?"

"Your honor," said the burglar, "I was foolish, fearless and homeless."
"My man," said the judge, "you gave me deeply! Food, shelter and companionship shall be yours for the next six months."

Mother had come in from the farm to visit her daughter in the city. After the kiss of greeting, she noticed her daughter's bobbed hair. Her eyes opened wide with astonishment.
"Well for pity's sake, Lizzy," she exclaimed, "you never even write me you had the typhoid."

We hardly know which is harder, to try to live within an income or live without an outgo.

Historical Drama At Star Today and Wednesday

"Jamestown," showing at the Star theater, today and Wednesday, is the second of Pathe's series of Chronicles of America produced by Yale University Press and is an interesting revelation of a dramatic and romantic incident in American history.

It shows Jamestown as it stood in the Fall of 1612, luckily without Indian attacks. Sir Thomas Dale ruled them with an iron hand and was hated and feared, but he had to be hard because iron endured, and without it no new settlement can.

Then comes the abduction of Pocahontas, daughter of mighty Powhatan, Algonquin chief. Her captivity in the stockade is made pleasant by John Rolfe, who is introduced in the Indian scene called "The Indian Girl." Rolfe's interest in the Indian maid and, believing that the Englishman's marriage to Pocahontas would make Powhatan's tribe friends of the Virginians, Dale suggests marriage.

No story ever told of the marriage of Pocahontas has been as colorful, vivid, sympathetic and dramatic as the one which is here presented as they are so beautifully depicted in "Jamestown," a picture of intense interest to every real or potential American.

On the same program is also being shown Buffalo Bill Jr.'s latest release, "The Bonanza Buckaroo." Something new in Western screen entertainment.

City Not Blamed For Loss By Fire

SALEM, Ore., Dec. 21 (AP)—The city of Grants Pass is not liable for damages caused by fire on the premises of F. K. Johnston, says an opinion of the supreme court today in the case of Johnston against Grants Pass, reversing Judge C. M. Thomas of the lower court for Josephine county. Johnston won in the lower court, the damage, amounting only to $700, was caused by a grass fire set by a city fireman. The opinion holds that the fact that a fireman set the fire does not make the city liable.

ELIGIBLE FOR PAROLE

SALEM, Ore., Dec. 21 (AP)—The habitual criminal statute does not apply in the case of Clarence Thompson who is serving time in the prison for misappropriation of funds while employed in the state treasurer's office, says an opinion of Attorney General Van Winkle in reply to an inquiry by the state parole board.

This will make Thompson eligible for parole when he has served his minimum time, four and a half years, minus good time credit, which would deduct about 18 months from the four and a half years.

Just a word to the holy shoppers, mind—Houdini left several valuable trinkets on the seemingly impossible.

AT THE THEATERS

"Phantom Express" Showing at Sherry's Tonight

David Butler certainly got the house last night when, as the hero of "The Phantom Express," he drove the villain—played so realistically by George Siegmann—what was coming to him. This picture which will be shown at the Sherry theater tonight has a real punch in addition to a very pretty love story.

It is a tale of a giant monster of the rain, which has encountered so many misdeeds that every engineer is afraid to "pull" it. Our hero attacks the hooded train and in driving it, hucks great odds and the displeasure of his sweetheart, but at the end of the road fate changes her frown to a smile so everything ends happily.

Ethel Shannon as the heroine, does splendid work and Frankie Darro, a little chap who knows how to act, shows it in his role of "Huddles."

The picture never drags. The action is fast and furious and you get more than your money's worth of thrills. We can give our stamp of approval to this one.

Comedily showing "Wild Roomer"

"Four Horsemen" Attraction at The Arcade

An epic tale of striking passion sweeping from the wide plains of the Argentine through the fascinating frivolities of pre-war Paris into the blazing turmoil of the German invasion of Northern France was unfolded last night at the Arcade theater with Ludolph Valentino and Allee Terry in the leading roles. It was the triumphant return of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," the $1,000,000 Rex Ingram production made for Metro-Goldwyn, which has been a screen sensation in New York, Chicago, Boston, Pittsburgh, Detroit and Los Angeles. The picture, adapted by June Mathis from the great novel of Vicente Blasco Ibañez, has intensified the dramatic force of the original story and last night it held the spectators breathlessly intent as with swift, sure strokes it hammered home the terror and grandeur of the war—a great deal of the humor and light-hearted gaiety that kept bubbling up through the turbid stream of struggling humanity when the world was in arms.

The director, Rex Ingram, succeeded in concentrating the great struggle in a series of unforgettable pictures that flash out the quintessence of life at white heat. "The Four Horsemen" is the fulfillment of the promise of a noble art in pictures.

This mammoth feature film will be the attraction at the Arcade theater again today and Wednesday.
