One nice thing about taping out an air route. It doesn't require much grading and there is no need of detours.

Fairy Story—Once there was a man who went into a hair-dressery to buy just one collar and emerged after having bought just one collar.

THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT
What They Say After Opening The Gifts:
"I'd rather had a drum."
"It couldn't have cost more than 50 cents."
"Wonder who'll pass this purple necktie to next year."
"And to think I spent ten dollars on HER!"
"Where in the devil did she get those ropes?"
"Yes, dear, Santa brought it all. Your father had nothing to do with it."
"This is the last time she'll do anything for me."
"Wonder how much this diamond stickpin from the wife is gonna cost me."
"Oh, well, Christmas only comes once a year."
"Yes, my dear, it's the very thing I wanted (fingers crossed)."
"Lay it out! Does she think I'm an old woman?"
"Oh, well, what could you expect from HER!"
"When do we eat?"
"I wanted a doll that would say 'Mama!'"
"I knew you'd appreciate it, George. It's from my own private stock."
"Some people are never satisfied with anything."
"Whatever we gonna do with all this junk?"
"Yes, dear, but Santa didn't have any of them left."
"Why didn't you get a sedan?"
"Oh, nothing that amounted to anything. Just socks and shirts and neckties."
"It's a good thing I remembered them."
"Oh, go on and send. They'll think it was delayed in the mails."
"Now I suppose I'll have to send her a New Year card."
Ethel Shannon's daily form provides quite a contrast with the Hercules proportions of the star and Jack Curtis is big enough to make his scrap with Fairbanks look more than even.

A TESTIMONIAL
Little boy (writing to his school-master): "Everybody at home is delighted with the progress I have made at your home. Why, when I came to you I knew nothing, and now, even in this short time, I know ten times as much!"

The friend for statistics says: "What's your record for 1926?" "Oh, I don't know. I'll have to check it up." "What does she do with it?" "She doesn't wear it all."

TOO LATE
Johnny—Is your mother engaged?
Boy—You're too late; she's married.

OUR IDEA OF A CASE SHOWING EXTREMELY DISAPPOINTED IS A POTATO WITH DARK RINGS UNDER ITS EYES.

THE DAY AFTER XMAS
"Could I see General Blank?"
"No; General Blank is sick."
"What made him sick?"
"Oh, things in general!"

Mussolini has designed standard dresses for the women of Italy in keeping with his ideas of modesty. If he can make the women wear them he deserves to be a world dictator.

AT THE THEATERS

"Ladies at Play" Keeps You Guessing

From the first flicker to the fadeout line, "Ladies at Play" keeps the audience guessing. It's not a mystery play, but a comedy-drama with many plot kinks and surprises as well as laughs. It's a First National offering featuring Doris Kenyon, Lloyd Hughes and Louise Fazenda, and shows at the Arcade theater Wednesday and Thursday.

William Fairbanks At Sherrys Tonight

The high-brows can rave "Art" with a capital "A" and experts may expound studiously on screen psychology etc., but when it comes to providing downright entertainment and real enjoyment for the average Mr. and Mrs. Public, nothing can take the place of good old melodrama.

Farm Pointers

Stock steers so fed as to make large gains in winter make smaller gains the following summer on Oregon range grass, says the animal husbandry department of the experiment station. For every extra pound a steer gains in winter he makes at least one-half pound less gain the following summer on grass.

DIFFICULTIES

NEW YORK—A committee is having difficulty in finding appropriate names for statues in the Episcopal cathedral of St. John the Divine. Says the very Rev. C. Howard C. Robbins, dean of the cathedral: "One list submitted contained the names of Catherine De Medici and Mary Baker G. Eddy and I cannot guarantee that a statue to either will be placed in the cathedral."

Love and Duty Clash in Humes Film

When the pursuit of duty is contrary to the path of love, the right road to travel is hard to choose. In "Prowlers of the Night," the Universal-Hiue Streak Western, which is showing at the Star theater today and Wednesday, Fred Humes faces just such a decision.

Music

Others in the cast include Barbara Kent, "Slim" Cole, John T. Prince, Joseph Reinhardt and Walter Mackle.

PEACH BLIGHT

Peach blight is said by the experiment station to be the most serious disease of peach trees in Oregon. It blights buds in the fall and winter and spots the fruit, twigs and leaves in the spring and summer. Early fall spray with Bordeaux 4-4-50 as soon as the fruit is off gives fall and winter protection, unless the disease was given a start by early rains. Where the disease is bad it may be necessary to spray again in the spring beginning when the shucks drop off the fruit and using a non-caustic sulfur spray. Unless sprayed for at the right time this disease soon ruins an orchard.

PEACH BLIGHT

Several things in the way of more profitable marketing of dairy products in Oregon can be done by a group which cannot be done by an individual creamery acting alone says the experiment station. The first and most important is advertising which must be done more regularly and extensively if butter is given an important place in the regular diet of the consumers of the country. Extensive publicity given substitute products is having its effects on the butter industry of this country and must be met by bringing the superior merits of high grade butter to the attention of food users.

Professional Directory

This directory is especially handy for the newcomer or for the out-of-town reader who may want the name and address of some professional man. It has been carefully prepared and will prove to be a ready aid to any reader in obtaining prompt professional service.
