Dancing Party Given by U. of O. Students, Alumni

Last evening the University of Oregon students and alumni entertained the Elk's temple with a dancing party, which was one of the successful and enjoyable events of the holiday season. This dance is looked forward to by the younger people of the city, as something unusual is always assured.

The feature last night was symbolic of the relentless passing of time. It was compared with the Volga river with its ceaseless onward flow and George S. Birnie rendered the accompanying song for the stunt, while 1926 was dragged away.

Miss Edith Shell entertained with some of the latest jazz hits. Several moonlight waltzes and colored lighting effects added enjoyment to the party.

Patrons and patronesses were: Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Richardson, Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Ingle, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh E. Brady, Fred E. Kiddle, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Kitchin and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Pearson.

The committee in charge was composed of the following members: Brook Colt, chairman; Miss Thelma Kitchin, Miss Helen Williams, Clark Freley, Ingar Annesen and Gifford Seltz.

The committee wishes to thank the B. P. O. Elk's lodge, W. H. Hohenkamp company, the Studenbaker garage and Fred T. Burgess for their help in making the party a success.

UNION (Special)—Walter Davis was host to 50 friends at his home last Wednesday evening at a dancing party, honoring the many Union college students who are home for the Christmas holidays.

The Christmas colors, red and green, were used to decorate the rooms of the home.

At a late hour refreshments were served.

Miss Martha Whimpey, of Salt Lake City, and Arthur Peck, of Coos, were quietly married last evening at seven o'clock at the Latter Day Saints tabernacle here. W. D. Hanks performing the ceremony. Mr. Adams and Mr. Johnson accompanied them.

Mr. and Mrs. Peck plan to make their home in La Grande.

New Year Parties Are Scheduled

With Christmas dinners and parties over churches and societies now turn their attention to New Year's and several watch parties are being planned. A party sponsored by the Luther League will take place at the English Lutheran church tomorrow night, followed by a basket social. Members of the Ladies Aid society will furnish coffee and cake. Mrs. Lorr Elsworth will have charge of the games, which will be followed by a wake service, as the old year goes out and the new one steps in.

The annual meeting of the First Baptist church will be tomorrow night, beginning with a potluck dinner and closing with a watch party. The senior and intermediate Christian Endeavor societies of the Presbyterian church will be hosts to the Christian Endeavor societies of the Christian church at a watch-night party tomorrow evening in the basement of the Presbyterian church, in addition to a New Year's party this evening, when the Presbyterian C. E. will entertain its members who are home from college for the Christmas vacation.

Besides these affairs and probably several others many private parties are being planned. Fern Kelly will be host at a New Year's party tomorrow night and this evening there will be a party at the H. E. Brenton home.

Seven members of Soangetalia Campfire girl group met yesterday afternoon at two o'clock at the library and went from there on a coasting and trailing party. During the afternoon they stopped downtown for lunch. They returned to their homes at about five o'clock.

The girls will meet this evening at the home of Miss Ellen Hickey for a sociable.

UNION (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Conner entertained a few of their friends Saturday afternoon at a Christmas dinner at their home in North Union. Dinner was served at two o'clock with covers laid for 16. Each place was marked with a Christmas place card.

Holly was used to decorate the home in addition to the brightly decorated Christmas tree.

Husbands Guests At Bridge Party

Members of the F. S. club entertained their husbands last evening at dinner, at 7:30 o'clock, at the Union hotel. Covers were laid for 16 around a table cleverly decorated with Oregon grape. A four-course dinner was served.

Following dinner four tables of bridge were at play in the hotel parlor. Mrs. G. H. Williams made high score among the women players and the men's high score went to George Hopkins. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hatt received the second prize.

The Royal Neighbors met last evening at the Knights of Pythias hall and made plans for a joint installation with the Modern Woodmen, Jan. 6. The meeting will be open to all members of the Modern Woodmen lodge, all Royal Neighbors and their families.

Mrs. Carrie Minshall will be installing officer for the Royal Neighbors and Mrs. Caroline Jensen will be her assistant. There will be refreshments following the installation.

Announcements

A special meeting of the American Legion auxiliary has been called for this evening at 7:30 o'clock by the auxiliary president, Mrs. Raymond O. Williams, at her home at 1301 O avenue. Plans for the first meeting of the new year, Wednesday, Jan. 5, will be made.

MENUS

By Sister Mary
BREAKFAST—Grapes, cereal, thin cream, creamed eggs on toast, graham muffins, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Beef broth with noodle balls, hearts of celery, brown bread and butter sandwich, milk, tea.

DINNER—Broiled porterhouse steak, mashed potatoes, creamed onions, quince salad, chocolate marshmallow roll, bran bread, milk, coffee.

The soup suggested in the luncheon menu is extremely hearty. Homemade noodles must be used, so the rule for noodles as well as the filling is given. This is an excellent way to use the meat from the soup home.

Noodle Balls.
One egg, 1 tablespoon milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 cup flour (about), beat egg slightly with milk. Mix and sift flour and salt and stir into bowl or molding board. Knead on lightly floured molding board and roll very thin. Cut in oblong shaped pieces about two inches wide and four inches long. Fill with meat mixture and fold noodle paste to completely cover meat. Dampen edges with a little cold water and press firmly. Drop into boiling beef broth and boil fifteen minutes. Serve in the broth or on a platter garnished

Feather Bag

An evening envelope bag of novel shape is fashioned of metal brocade in blue with a fringe of ostrich at its edge.

with parsley as preferred. Luncheon dishes are served if the balls are served in the soup and this is really the best way.

Meat Filling
One and one-half cups finely chopped meat, 1/2 teaspoon onion juice, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 1 egg, milk.

The amount of salt needed must be determined by the amount used in cooking the meat. The mixture should be well seasoned. Onion juice is used in place of minced onion because the juice flavors quickly. Combine meat, seasoning and add a few tablespoons of milk, enough to make moist enough to hold together.

Any kind of meat or combination of meats can be used. If left over, roast meats need to be used up and no soup stock is at hand, boiling salted water can take the place of the stock. In this event, the balls must be served on a platter garnished with parsley.

Woman Fails to Receive Gift Mailed Herself

THE DALLIES. Ore., Dec. 29.—Christmas without a present—without even a bag of candy or a holly wreath—seemed more than an elderly woman, who will have to be called Mrs. Jane Doe, could bear. So she sent herself a present through the mail, because she didn't have a single friend or relative from whom she expected a gift.

And sunny other questions? The truth was finally brought out, and the postoffice force, harassed by the flood of work and completely engulfed in packages, failed to sympathize with the lonely old woman. So Mrs. Doe, instead of receiving even a Christmas present from herself, was the recipient of a lecture on people whose "cranky" ideas flood the already congested mail service on the busiest day of the year.

IT WAS COFFEE

NEW YORK.—Any body who sees a picture of Ezra Meeker, 96, and John R. Voorhis, 97, toasting each other with some dark liquid in white glasses should not be deceived. It was only coffee. The pioneer of the Oregon Trail and the grand sachem of Tammany were snipped at a luncheon on Meeker's birthday. And it was explained that Meeker doesn't drink; never has; and hasn't smoked for half a century.
