Announcements

Mr. and Mrs. D. V. Wylie will entertain the members and friends of the local chapter of American Yowmen at their home on East Adams avenue Monday, Jan. 10.

THEY'RE SATISFIED—Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Harper feel they have but one course as regards their eloping daughter, Ione, who is now Mrs. H. Theodore Burke, of Pasadena, Cal., says Harper: "Seeing that Mrs. Harper and I eloped in 1904, I don't suppose we can do anything but forgive them."

That advanced age does not lessen the delight in clothes was shown when a woman of 82 years participated in a mannequin parade with girls 65 years her junior in the East end of London. She thoroughly enjoyed the experience.

SHE WANTS ANNULMENT—Having become a Mrs. on New Year's eve, Miss California would be a Miss again. Aloha Porter, state beauty champion who married Leonard Leroy Thomas, dancing instructor, is suing for an annulment. "All a mistake," she says.
