

RADIO ADDRESS FEATURES THRIFT

Entire Nation Observing Week—Ben Franklin Honored

The following is part of a radio address delivered this week, which has been set aside as Thrift Week. To Friends of Radiohand: "The 15th of January marks the anniversary of the birth of that great American patriot saint of the 17th century in matters of sobriety and thrift—Benjamin Franklin. In all the state of the union this week of Jan. 17 to 23 is set aside by proclamation of governors and mayors and chief executive officers to give emphasis to the virtues of thrift. This movement is fostered by the Y. M. C. A. and the Bankers' association, cooperating with 48 national, civic, commercial, educational and religious organizations, and likewise by the many similar local and state-wide organizations of our city and state. The Federation of Women's clubs, sponsoring this radio program, is one of the splendid bodies that is always found on the side of civic and personal righteousness.

Personal Thrift. "The idea of thrift, it should be understood at the outset, is primarily one of personal achievement in not only frugal habits of saving but wise spending as well. Thrift is a result and not a cause, and roots itself into the habits and doings of the individual, and as a result it expresses itself in the character of the individual. The individual has several ways of expressing the results of his life of frugal saving and wise spending. During this thrift week there will be several definite ways suggested as the practical expression of thrift, and each day set aside for some special emphasis. "Tuesday was the home economy and budget-making day. A splendid budget book for individual and family use has been prepared and may be secured for the asking at the thrift headquarters or at most of the banks and many of the loan association offices. Get one of these budget books. It has some of the finest suggestions possible. Budgeting the family income to a system is one of the delights every husband and wife should experience in this game for 1927. "Wednesday was set aside to emphasize the blessings of life insurance. Remember that life insurance is built upon thrift and what you invest in insurance is never lost. A wise provider for his family and little ones or loved ones will carry life insurance even to the expense of some other things. "Own Your Home. "Today sets forth the fundamental advantages of owning your own home, however humble. "Friday emphasizes the need for every person to open a bank account, and also to invest his surplus in safe investments. "On Saturday you will be asked to consider the economic advantages to yourself and community by paying your bills promptly. "Sunday will close the week by emphasizing the blessings to come to all of us by sharing with those less fortunate. The pastors, priests and rabbis are asked to bring to the attention of their people the great teaching of thrift in all faiths. "Beginning of Thrift. "When Joseph was sold into Egypt he taught the Egyptians thrift and saved, not only the Egyptian nation but his own as well, by his foresight and frugality. That was probably the first celebration recorded of a thrift week, but we have tremendous examples on every side of us of the value of thrift. "Thrift is a representative of American liberty. "Thrift is an ambassador of peace. "Thrift gives courage to the father and strength to the mother. It is the protector of our children and the preserver of our homes. "Thrift is a law of God, indelibly engraven in our hearts. Let us live up to its noble and holy standard and preserve it for our posterity. As chairman of the thrift committee, I beg your cooperation for this undertaking, not for yourselves alone but for those whom we love and who may be less fortunate than we. I thank you."

Russian Child Now Named After Party MOSCOW, Jan. 20 (AP)—An entirely new and revolutionary series of pronouns have been adopted by the Bolsheviks in the christening of their new-born children. Instead of the old conventional names of Sergius, Peter, Ivan, Olga, Alexandra, Catherine and Elizabeth, children of Communists nowadays are named after some great revolutionary leader, party, industry or political movement, or even after some town, river or song in Soviet Russia. For example, many infants of Bolshevik parents are "baptized" Communista, Proletaria, Industria, or Stalina, after Joseph Stalin, the big political boss of Soviet Russia. Others are given names based upon Russian nouns and adjectives possessing of special significance in the present revolutionary movement. "Liberatta" (Liberty), for instance, is a name commonly given to baby girls, and in similar fashion, baby boys are often named "Liberi" (Free).

BORROWS RADIUM BUCHAREST (AP)—Through the assistance of King Albert, Rumania is borrowing $400,000 worth of radium from Belgium for use in treatment of King Ferdinand.

Law-Makers Get Rural Library Service Report

SALEM, Jan. 20 (AP)—Value of rural library service is shown in the biennial report of the Oregon state library to the legislature. It gives a concise review of circulation work and necessity for the amount asked in the budget now before the ways and means committee. The library touches every county in the state according to the report.

The counties of Deschutes, Hood River, Jackson, Malheur, Multnomah and Umatilla do not maintain traveling library stations. Every county in the state, however, has mail order patrons. Books from the state library are sent to public libraries in all counties except Crook and Curry. In traveling library stations, Lane county leads with 63, Clackamas second with 52, Washington third with 45, and Marion fourth with 42. Linn and Lane have each 29. There has been an increase during the past year of the number of mail order stations to 25,314, an increase of 4,137.

State Librarian Corneilia Marvin says the library is handicapped in its work because the supreme court building in which it is located is not suitable for library purposes. On three different floors the rooms are dark, clerical work difficult. Employees do most of their work by artificial light. Funds are needed for printing, monthly listing of new books, reading and study aids and state school library list. More help is necessary and more books needed. The traveling library units were all out Dec. 1, 1926. None have been bought since 1924, and there is immediate need of 100 new units, there being only 504 units to supply 624 stations. Action of the budget committee in recommending that library fund be cut from $115,945.00 to $75,000.00 will meet disapproval from legislators when the report comes up for consideration. Particularly, it is said, from rural districts.

THE FOUND RICHES NEW YORK (AP)—Samuel Rubel came from Russia 23 years ago and got a job in a stovepipe factory at $2.00 a week. Now he is coal and ice emperor of kings and queens—the directing genius of a $25,000,000 mercer of retailers in two countries.

The girl who marries a man to reform him is generally spoiling a good husband for some other girl.

A man came in yesterday from Hood River for some lumber. The nearest I can figure was that it cost over $5.00 for gasoline and he got $4.99 worth of lumber. If he can do that and still save money, think what you can do by just walking across town to our lumber yard. And of course we have a phone—our number is Main 218. We handle all kinds of building material, roofing, paint and oil and COAL.

ROYAL NUT COAL Coal on the roll. Happy as a mole. Orders rolling in. Piling up to your chin. Shiny Royal coal Hot and clean coal. Delivers on the run $10.80 per ton. You can't beat us. Snow can't stop us. We might read your mind, but you're wrong. It might snow so deep While you're yet asleep.

Claude C. Pratt Lumber Co. "The Poor Man's Friend" Near Foundry. Phone Main 218 No Sunday Business.

AN ELECTRIC HEATER For that chilly corner A Heat Pad For that cold bed. Specials Now At The La Grande Electric Co. "Everything Electrical"

WALLOWA PERSONALS

WALLOWA, Ore., (Special)—H. C. Dunlap, who has been visiting at the home of his daughter, Mrs. C. F. Harmon, of Leap, left the first of the week for his home at Prescott, Wash.

C. F. Harmon and family, of Leap, visited Sunday at the Asa Harmon home at Enterprise.

P. A. Downing, of Leap, was busy several days the past week sawing wood for Harmon Bros. Fred Knott was a Sunday visitor at the P. A. Downing home in the Leap section. Several scattering cases of measles are reported from various homes in the surrounding country. Measles have been going the rounds in this community for some time.

Frank Walker has been delivering wood in town of late. The good sledding for the past three weeks has given farmers an excellent chance to get much hauling done. Many farmers have been busy much of the time hauling up a supply of dry logs for their years supply of fire wood.

C. F. Harmon, of Leap, was an Enterprise visitor the last of the week.

H. C. Beggs, of Lower valley, was in the hill section east of here the first of the week, bringing a bunch of cattle he has had on pasture and straw, to the feed lots at his farm in the valley.

John Couch delivered some fat cattle to J. L. Maxwell here the latter part of the week. Several other farmers also brought in a few head.

Miss Arletta Couch spent the week end at her home in Leap. Mrs. Meek and sons were in town the last of the week. They also attended the grange meeting held here.

Toy Gastin and Sam Meek started cutting wood the first of the week.

Bruce Fisher and wife, of Leap, were visitors here recently.

L. Barton, of Crossman, was here recently on his way to Hot Lake, where his wife was to undergo an operation the first of the week. Later reports indicate that she came through the operation in good shape.

Verbal Exchange Warn Senator Norblad hesitated a moment before replying. Then he said: "We'll conduct this hearing as we see fit."

"Then you refuse to be sworn?" queried Joseph. "I decline to say whether I will or will not," snapped Norblad. "I'll prove that you're a lobbyist," Joseph added later in their verbal exchange.

Ballagh Case Discussed Under Senator Banks' questioning regarding the discharge of E. A. Ballagh, master fish warden, commissioner Hayes admitted that he had made no complaints to Ballagh before the meeting at which he was discharged.

Commissioner Eakin, according to Hayes testimony told Ballagh that his discharge was on account of "lack of harmony." "I told Ballagh," testified Hayes, "that Eakin's reason was sufficient."

The hearing will not be resumed until E. A. Ballagh, former fish warden who is still in Portland, is able to attend.

FISH QUIZ HEARS OF $10,000 FUND

Packer and Banker Mentioned in Legislative Inquiry in Salem

STATE HOUSE, SALEM, Ore., Jan. 20 (AP)—A demand that Senator Norblad of the fish investigating committee be sworn as a witness himself, the mentioning of a mysterious $10,000 fund along with the name of W. L. Thompson, prominent packer and banker, and testimony indicating irregularities in the finances of the fish commission were the high lights of the second sitting of the probe committee last night.

Senator Joseph, framer and introducer of the resolution calling for the investigation demanded that Senator Norblad himself be sworn in as a witness.

Verbal Exchange Warn Senator Norblad hesitated a moment before replying. Then he said: "We'll conduct this hearing as we see fit."

"Then you refuse to be sworn?" queried Joseph. "I decline to say whether I will or will not," snapped Norblad. "I'll prove that you're a lobbyist," Joseph added later in their verbal exchange.

Ballagh Case Discussed Under Senator Banks' questioning regarding the discharge of E. A. Ballagh, master fish warden, commissioner Hayes admitted that he had made no complaints to Ballagh before the meeting at which he was discharged.

Commissioner Eakin, according to Hayes testimony told Ballagh that his discharge was on account of "lack of harmony." "I told Ballagh," testified Hayes, "that Eakin's reason was sufficient."

The hearing will not be resumed until E. A. Ballagh, former fish warden who is still in Portland, is able to attend.

Seek Unidentified Boy Afloat in Lake Erie on Bobbing Cake of Ice

CLEVELAND, Jan. 20 (AP)—An unidentified boy on a bobbing cake of ice in Lake Erie was the object of a frantic search by rescue workers today.

Lifebuoys were held for reasons of the youth, had seen beating his arms against his sides to keep off the numbing cold as the floe upon which he stood floated into the darkness last night.

Throughout the night the fire tug John A. Parley, equipped with powerful searchlights, plowed through the ice searching for the cake of ice and its pathetic human cargo. Watchers along the shore stood with beacons to guide the youth should the course of the floe veer toward solid ice, but no trace of him was found.

Rescue Crews Balked Early in the night watchers had trailed him along the shore as coast guardsmen and police tried in vain to launch rescue boats. Thin ice gave way under the weight of rowboats, or banded floes reached jagged heights which made launching impossible.

As the tug was fitted for the perilous sailing through the ice, sight of the lad was lost in darkness.

Coast guardsmen pointed out that the ice upon which the boy stood might have broken up, and declared that even should it drift shoreward he was in danger of being crushed. Dropping temperatures added to the danger and it was feared that he might have slipped into the icy water after losing his precarious footing on the ice.

Name Unknown Efforts to learn the identity of the youth were fruitless. Patrol reported no one missing, and other

CHANGES HIS MIND

NEW YORK (AP)—Steve Brodie (outdoor). He jumped 135 feet from the Brooklyn bridge and Giovanni Spozzi, an 18-year-old Italian sailor six feet tall, leaped from the Manhattan bridge 142 feet into the East River. After he hit the water he changed his mind about wanting to die and started swimming. Rescued with a sprained wrist, he was given a job as orderly in a hospital.

As the tug was fitted for the perilous sailing through the ice, sight of the lad was lost in darkness.

Coast guardsmen pointed out that the ice upon which the boy stood might have broken up, and declared that even should it drift shoreward he was in danger of being crushed. Dropping temperatures added to the danger and it was feared that he might have slipped into the icy water after losing his precarious footing on the ice.

Name Unknown Efforts to learn the identity of the youth were fruitless. Patrol reported no one missing, and other

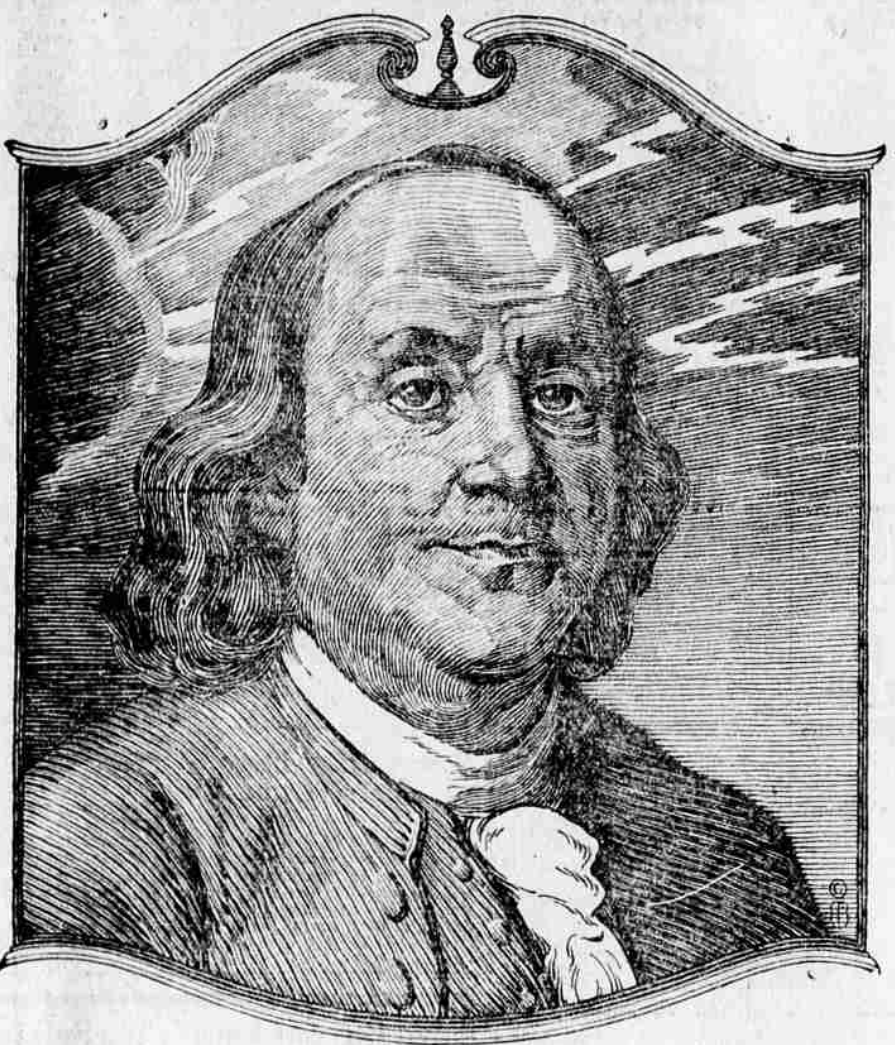

Portland Matron Has Speedy Recovery

Amazing Improvement in Mrs. Holland's Health Surprises Friends. Nervousness, Bronchitis and Stomach Disorder Relieved. Praises Tanlac

Profit by the experience of Mrs. Jessie Holland, 192 McMillen St., Portland, Ore. If you feel sickly and weak, if you just drag through the days, tired and fagged-out; if your stomach rebels at taking food and you spend hours doubled up with indigestion pains; if you cannot sleep soundly, if dizzy spells attack you when you stoop; if you are losing weight and feel old—watch out! Mrs. Holland says: "I know what it means—I've been through it all. Get relief from suffering before it is too late. "Everything I took failed to help me. Then after hearing the wonderful healing power of Tanlac I tried this wonderful tonic. The very first bottle gave me an appetite. My bronchial troubles and indigestion disappeared. I began to sleep well and to arise fresh and peppy in the morning. My nerves calmed down and dizzy spells soon vanished.

"Tanlac brought me relief and built me up, it is a wonderful nerve and strength builder. Mrs. Holland is only one of many who have found new strength taking Tanlac. Keep well, keep youth and health—take Tanlac. Made from roots, herbs and herbs. Ask your druggist today!"

"Save and Have" For Success and Happiness

Benjamin Franklin . . . statesman, philosopher, sage counsellor of Thrift! As his birthday nears and the nation prepares to pay tribute to his memory, it is well and only appropriate that we recall one or two of the maxims he left to guide the destiny of generations to come . . . brilliantly worded creations of his master mind that Time will never relegate to a forgotten past.

Of the many accredited to him on the subject of Economy, probably none is more to the point than his simple quotation . . . "Save and Have!" Three little words but they speak a volume of Truthful Advice! It is not what you earn . . . what financial remuneration the world pays you for your labor and skill . . . that counts. It's what you SAVE . . . how much of the fruit of your efforts you reserve for the future . . . that brings you the blessings of Success and Happiness!

A substantial accumulation of money gives you the confidence and courage to forge ahead to your aims in Life . . . to realize your fondest ambitions! With it, you don't have to wait for Opportunity to knock . . . you have the power to MAKE your own Opportunity! And, best of all, it's the material that builds for a happy, contented old age . . . free of all worries!

So during National Thrift Week, Jan. 16 to 22, . . . a movement in keeping with Franklin's teachings, we urge you visit our Bank and open a Savings Account. We'll gladly help you to "Save and Have!"

La Grande National Bank