Old Napoleon said there was no such word as can't. Wonder if he ever tried to scratch a match on a cake of soap?

Little Paul, five years old, went with his mother to visit an aunt. When bedtime came it was discovered that Paul's pajamas had been left at home.

"Oh, that's all right. I'll get one of Mary's nightgowns for him. It's just the right size," said his aunt.

"No, sir," Paul protested. "I won't sleep in a girl's nightgown. I'd rather go to bed raw."

"What's the fuss in the school-yard, sonny?" asked a gentleman passing a ward school.

"Why, the doctor's just been around examin' us, an' one of the deficient boys is knockin' the stuffin' out of a perfect kid."

"It isn't so much the time you get up in the morning that counts. It is what you do after you get up."

Mary had a little dress. A trifle light and airy. It didn't show the dirt a bit. But, gosh, how it showed Mary.

L.C.C. Begins Its Gigantic Task of Getting Data

California, through Roy Maxwell Hagen, secretary of the state's cattle association, offered a concrete proposal in the hope of postponing any increase in grazing fees for four years.

The plan suggested was that the grazing rates be fixed upon a four-year average price for forest grazed livestock at the various western market points and that they become operative in 1931.

Col. W. E. Greeley, chief forester, replied to those who proposed that the fees be based upon administrative costs plus a small fee which should be returned to the counties in which the forests are located in lieu of taxes asking the stockmen where they would begin to fix administrative costs, and where they would end. He cited the road building and other improvements which the government is making in the forests and suggested that the stockmen bear in mind they enjoy the benefits of these improvements.

O'DONEL OPTIMISTIC

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Jan. 25 (AP)—In his annual report read to the members of the national livestock association by T. M. Tomlinson, secretary of the association, which opened its thirteenth annual convention here today, T. M. O'Donel, of Bell Ranch, New Mexico, president, sounded a note of optimism and said that while cattle prices during the past year were not on the high plane of those prevailing for sheep and hogs, he believed the outlook for next year was bright.

"At least we have spared a widespread drought," the report stated, "and though there is still much to be desired, we are facing an outlook which is not discouraging."

Senate Rejection of Woods Accepted

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—The nomination of Cyrus E. Woods, of Pennsylvania, as a member of the interest commerce commission rejected yesterday by the senate will not be resubmitted, it was said today at the white house.

AT THE THEATERS

Scenes of Racing Film Taken at Famous Track

Scott Sidney, director of "The Million Dollar Handicap," which will be on view at the Sherry theater today took his entire company of players headed by Edmund Burns and Vera Reynolds, to the Panforn track near San Francisco to film the thrilling racing scenes in that picture.

Tom Wilson, Ralph Lewis, Ward Crane, Clarence Burton, Danny Hoy, Rosa Gore and Walter Emerson made the trip from Hollywood. Beside the cast two carloads of race horses were transported to the track, accompanied by trainers, "swipes" and jockeys.

Weeks were spent there filming the race scenes. As each race was run at break-neck speed, just as if the result meant honor and fortune to the winning jockey, only one race could be filmed each day. The thoroughbred horses used could stand no more than that. In addition several days were spent finding the fastest horses. That Vera Reynolds, who impersonates a jockey, might be mounted with as fast a steed as the field boasted. Then it was necessary to film every race until Miss Reynolds' mount was the first under the tape.

Comedy showing "My Baby."

"Going Crooked" Is Colorful Yarn of Gem Thieves

The glamour and mystery of the historic Los Angeles Chinatown together with a cleverly worked out plot and an exceptional cast goes to make "Going Crooked," the Fox Film production playing at the Star theater today and Wednesday one of the most fascinating crook comedy dramas ever filmed.

The story revolves about the activities of a gang of jewel thieves, their one fatal slip, the love of a beautiful adventuress for the young district attorney who goes crooked to prove his love for her and the adventures of a stolid detective who bungles the case.

There are thrills, suspense, a real love story, plenty of comedy and a smashing climax at the end. Bessie Love and Oscar Shaw are cast in the leading roles. Gustav Von Seyffertitz plays the crafty villain, the leader of the jewel thieves. Leslie Penton has a sympathetic role as the young boy who is wrongfully accused, and condemned to death for the murder of a prominent jewel merchant.

Edwin Kennedy is the blundering blustering detective who "solves" the case. The others in the cast are Lydia Knott, Bernard Siegel, William Worthington, Hank Mann and Evelyn Schilo.

State railway commissioners from each state in the territory affected by the hearing—Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, North and South Dakota, Colorado and Wyoming—have appointed a committee to listen to the rail carriers' evidence here for their information in deciding later some 19 rate cases of purely intrastate nature.

"Womanpower" Coming to Arcade Wednesday

"Womanpower," Fox Films version of Harold MacGrath's "The Booth Story," "You can't Always Tell," which the Arcade theater announces is to be its screen feature Wednesday and Thursday is a comedy-drama with that rare quality of being attractive to both sexes.

The story pivots about the idle son of a wealthy New Yorker. The boy becomes infatuated with the premiere dancer of a fashionable supper club and everything else in his life becomes secondary to her. Ralph Graves impersonates the youth and Margaret Livingston is the luxury-loving cold-hearted dancer.

After a humiliating experience in the dancer's dressing-room, when another admirer delineated by Lou Tellegen, gives him a good drubbing, the youth goes to a training camp for prizefighters. There he meets the school-teacher niece of the trainer and she becomes the influence for good in his life. Kathryn Perry portrays this role.

The two influences working their way into the boy's soul bring about an extremely interesting situation which is worked out satisfactorily and locally.
