

SOCIETY NEWS

Bridge-Dinner Party Held at Siegrist Home

An attractive bridge-dinner took place last night at the Herman Siegrist home on Fourth street, when Mr. and Mrs. Herman Siegrist and Dr. and Mrs. Lee Houvy entertained at seven tables.

Dinner was served at 7:15 o'clock, four guests being seated at each of the small tables, which were effectively arranged with bouquets of spring flowers.

Mrs. Walter H. Lelama made high score among the women players during the card games which followed, and Hal Bohmankamp received the men's prize. The women's consolation prize went to Mrs. J. J. Foley and Joe Carr made low score among the men.

Dr. and Mrs. Houvy and Mr. and Mrs. Siegrist will be hosts and hostesses to another dinner party tonight at the Siegrist home, when they will again have seven tables of guests.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Fogie entertained at bridge last evening when members of the Tuesday Evening Bridge club were guests at their home on Third street.

Four tables of bridge was the diversion of the evening and Mrs. Arno Vook made high score among the women players. The men's first prize went to George Hopkins.

Pink and yellow was the color scheme used to decorate the rooms, bouquets of carnations and daffodils being used. The hostess served a two-course luncheon following the card games.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Eberhardt will entertain the next meeting of the club, Feb. 3.

The Helonima Bridge club met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Denver Charlton with all members except one in attendance.

Three tables of bridge were at play with Mrs. Clyde Hopple making high score. Mrs. Giles Harnden received the consolation prize and the guest prize went to Mrs. Wade King.

A two-course luncheon was served after the card games.

Mrs. W. L. Lane will be hostess to the club next Wednesday, Feb. 2, at her home on Hemlock street.

O. E. S. Officers Take Positions

Hope Chapter No. 12, Order of the Eastern Star, met last night at the Masonic hall for the regular lodge session with the new corps of officers in charge for the first time. Mrs. John S. Hodgkin, worthy matron, presided.

Plans are being made for initiation ceremonies at the next lodge meeting, which will be Feb. 9.

The La Grande review of the Woman's Benefit association met Tuesday evening at the Knights of Pythias hall with Mrs. Bernice Branwell presiding as president for the first time since her installation.

During the evening plans were made for the organization of a West Way club, social club to W. H. A. organization, to take place the first of February.

Mrs. Adelaide Packard, district deputy, of Pendleton, intended to be here for the meeting, but because of the weather conditions was unable to come.

The Home Missionary society of

To break up a stubborn cold we recommend

Thompson's Cold and Grippe Tablets

Made in the laboratories of the Owl Drug Co.

25c

Moon Drug Co.
Agents For The Owl Drug Co.

Minerva Says—

Those suffering with any kind of foot trouble, such as fallen arches, calluses on bottom of feet, corns or other ailments, if you will call at The Bootery we have a man who can give you relief with Dr. Scholl's Foot Appliances. We carry a full assortment of these in stock and you will be fitted by a man who is an expert at this work. Many satisfied customers leave our store each week.

Ladies' Silk - a n d - Wool Hosiery, Gordon make; colors, brown, gray and black; regular $2.50, now $1.25. These are the hose for winter wear.

Sold At

The BOOTERY
Pay Cash and Pay Less

the First Methodist Episcopal church met yesterday for an all-day meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. Lee Hanford.

During the morning the women present worked on comforters and at noon a potluck luncheon was served.

In the afternoon Mrs. Hanford conducted the business session, after which Mrs. S. G. Coleman had charge of the lesson, the subject being "Leadership of the New Rural Church."

THE PARK (Special).—The Joe Lay home at the lower end of The Park was the scene of a party Saturday evening, when a number of people gathered there and spent an enjoyable evening at dancing and games. At midnight refreshments were served. The hosts were Othello and Guild Lay and Henry Wanker.

The guests were Jack and Ida Hunter, Leonard and Everett Whitten, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Broadshaw, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lay and children, Clara, Laurel, Dasher, Gay, Masy, Beverly and Orillo, Bob Miller and daughters, Frances and Marie and Mary and Elva Vanorder.

THE PARK (Special).—There was a party at the Clarence Vanorder home Wednesday evening. The time was spent at games, after which refreshments were served.

The guests were Francis, Marie and Bob Miller, Glenda and Maxine Wanker, Ida and Jack Hunter and Lester Miller.

Announcements

The Central Parent-Teacher association will meet Friday afternoon, Jan. 28, at 2:45 o'clock in the Neighborhood club rooms.

There will be a program consisting of vocal solos by Irvin Zundel, a reading by Miss Ruth Johnson and a talk by J. T. Langford, superintendent of schools, on "Thrift." Light refreshments will be served.

The World Wide guild of the First Baptist church will meet this evening in regular session at the church. The meeting will start with dinner at 6 o'clock.

MENUS

By Sister Mary

BREAKFAST—Orange juice, cereal, thin cream, poached eggs with spinach on graham toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Sausage rolls, cinnamon apples, brown bread and butter sandwiches, rice soufflé, milk tea.

DINNER—Roast beef and onion cutlets, scalloped potatoes, buttered cauliflower, stuffed celery, raisin pie, bran rolls, milk, coffee.

A cream soup should be served to children under school age in place of the sausage rolls suggested in the luncheon menu. The rice soufflé is a hearty dessert and a large portion served with cream is nourishing and satisfying for small children.

Raisin Pie

One cup seeded raisins, 1 lemon, 2 cups water, 1 1/2 cups granulated sugar, 1/4 cup flour, 1 egg, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 rule plain pastry.

Wash raisins through several waters. Pour over boiling water, let stand until cool and drain. Mix and sift flour, sugar and salt. Add beaten egg. Add raisins and cook over hot water until mixture thickens. Stir to prevent lumping. Let cool and turn into a dish lined with plain pastry. Cover with top crust and bake 30 minutes in a hot oven. A lattice top can be used in place of a full top crust if preferred. Serve this pie very cold.

Keep in mind that it requires 1 1/2 cups flour to make enough dough for a two-crust pie.

(Copyright, 1927, NEA Service, Inc.)

HIGH SCHOOL SENIOR WINS DAIRY PRIZES

Mildred Luce, a senior in the Fagundson, Me., high school, is a second time champion of her state as a breeder of fine dairy cattle. She was awarded first prize in an annual contest of boys and girls agricultural clubs at Orono. Miss Luce gets up every morning to milk the three year old heifer that won the championship for her two years in succession. She has earned nearly 170 since August through the sale of 2,827 pounds of milk. Miss Luce's father, Clyde Luce, is a breeder of cows.

Pleated Parasol

A charming parasol for the south is of finely pleated tulle arranged in tiers and has a decorative handle.

Pleated Parasol

A charming parasol for the south is of finely pleated tulle arranged in tiers and has a decorative handle.

OUT OUR WAY

MOMENTS WE'D LIKE TO LIVE OVER TH' GOOD LOOKIN'EST GIRL IN TOWN.

They Teased the "Town Crab" and One Boy Paid for It With His Life

CHEROKEE, Okla., Jan. 27 (NEA).—Out of the ancient conflict between age and youth—out of the truism that boys will be boys and lonely old men will be lonely—strange tragedy has come to this community.

As a result of it, one boy lies in a new-made grave, another fights for life in a hospital, and a miserable old man who "just couldn't stand it any longer," waits happily for March 15—the day when, by his own request, he is to be electrocuted.

The miserable old man is C. E. Marble, sentenced to die for shooting the boys who teased him.

The Town "Crab"

Marble, aged and nearly blind, was called the town "crab" of Ingersoll, a community of 100 persons, two miles from here.

The boys liked to pester the old recluse because it made him angry.

They took the fruit from his fruit trees, they threw rocks on his porch and taunted him for his age and temper, they played pranks on his dog and chased his cat as boys are wont to do.

What village is there that does not have a town "crab" and a group of mischievous boys?

But Marble was a good man, too, in his way, say his neighbors. That is part of the pathos of it.

The Town Samaritan

When a husband died, leaving his aged wife destitute, it was Marble who gave her groceries and chopped her wood.

When another family was freezing one winter, Marble retrieved a worn-out stove from the dump yards, carted it to their place and set it up with a goodly supply of wood, neighbors say.

When once an aged bachelor became sick and there was no one to nurse him, Marble did the job. Marble loved his dog, his cat and his fowls, which made his yard a garden spot of the town. Frequently he would take flowers to the sick.

During the last few years the town employed him as night watchman.

He encouraged no friendships and lived his own quiet secluded life when folks—especially boys—would let him.

But on the day after Christmas someone shot his dog.

The Murder

Guy Hutchinson and his two motherless sons, Gilbert, 14, and Roy, 16, were sitting in a filling station, the town lounge place.

Old Marble walked in without a word, peered near-sightedly, and then without warning drew his revolver and fired four times. Gilbert was killed, Roy seriously wounded and the father slightly wounded.

Bystanders overpowered the old man.

"I intended to kill them all and myself," he regretfully told Sheriff Dave Gross. "These boys are the ring leaders. They are the worst boys on earth. I felt it my duty to kill them as they had no place in this world."

In the uproar and confusion that followed, Old Marble was calm. He chuckled at sight of the bleeding bodies and said they were the prettiest sight he had ever seen.

Issue? No—

Old Marble is not insane. So say two doctors. So says every one who knows him.

"They killed my dog," he gritted, hate smoldering in his eyes.

Later he told the sheriff he had planned to kill the boys and burn their bodies to prevent them from receiving decent burial. He even showed where he had gasoline buried for the cremation.

And in court, before Judge

FEATHERED ARISTOCRACY SHOWN

Feathered aristocracy competed in the Los Angeles Poultry, Pigeon and Rabbit show. Above is Myrtle Munson with some of the baby chicks hatched at the show, while below is Mal Marshall, matching an ordinary bird against a mammoth hooded pigeon arrival from New Zealand.

By Williams

THREE DAY SPECIAL
THURSDAY, FRIDAY and SATURDAY
Very Latest Styles in
NEW SPRING DRESSES

ONE PRICE $15.75 ONE PRICE

LADIES READY-TO-WEAR
PUTMANS
AND MILLINERY

See Them in Our Windows

no desire whatsoever for food.

When the disturbance has ceased, the fact will be conveyed back by desire for food and ability to digest it. These symptoms arising from disease outside of the stomach are called reflex symptoms. That is, word is sent from the point of disturbance along the nerves to a central point and back to the stomach.

It is perhaps not an exaggeration to say that 90 per cent of all stomach symptoms are reflex—caused by diseases outside of the stomach. There are, of course, diseases of the stomach itself. These diseases have in most cases definite symptoms that a physician will recognize.

To illustrate this idea: If the appendix is pulled while the patient is not under an anesthetic, the patient becomes sick at the stomach and vomits. Following a severe blow on the head, vomiting is one of the first symptoms. Growths in the brain are always accompanied by vomiting. This is reflex vomiting.

The beginning symptom of most contagious and infectious diseases is sickness at the stomach and vomiting. Illustrations of this kind may be increased indefinitely, and show that in these cases eating of food, neither quantity nor quality, has nothing whatever to do with the sickness at the stomach.

At these times and under these conditions, nature is turning all her efforts toward the eradication of the disease, and does not desire to be burdened with the extra load needed for digestion of food. The body is nourished from food already stored among the cells as fat until the progress of the disease ceases. The appetite then returns and the individual desires food again.

Such secondary symptoms of the stomach are particularly important in chronic diseases where oftentimes the stomach is thought to be the center of the trouble when it is some distant disease. Frequently chronic indigestion, gastritis, and lack of appetite are due to some cause like the one explained above, and the trouble is not in the stomach itself, but reflex, and due to disturbance entirely outside the stomach.

COOKING HINTS

Doughnuts

3 tablespoons PANCRUST
1 egg, beaten
3/4 cup sugar
3/4 cup milk

3 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon nutmeg

CREAM PANCRUST: add beaten egg and sugar. Stir in milk. Sift flour, salt, baking powder and nutmeg together and add to mixture. If the dough is not stiff enough to roll, add additional flour. Roll out on floured board and cut. Fry in hot, deep fat until a golden brown. Place on brown paper to absorb the grease and sprinkle with powdered sugar.

Didn't March in Vain, Says Coxey

MASSILLON, Ohio, Jan. 27 (AP).—The unkempt march of Coxey's disheveled and jaded army across the country to Washington in 1894 will yet bear fruit, its "commander" believes.

In the twilight of his life, "General" Jacob S. Coxey, now wealthy, looks back over the 33 year span and recounts the achievement of many reforms he sought when he recruited the hobo multitude and led it to the step of the national capital.

"I have seen my initiative and referendum made a law," he says, "and I have seen thousands of miles of good roads built. Some-

HEALTH

MEANING OF STOMACH SYMPTOMS

By A. C. Stokes, M.D., Omaha, Neb. Member—Gordon Memorial Institute

The stomach is the fire-box for the human engine. It is in the stomach and the first two feet of the small intestines that the major part of digestion is performed. In this area the food is prepared for absorption into the circulating fluids of the body.

The stomach is connected with the other portions of the body by an abundant supply of nerves. These nerves telegraph back to the stomach any disturbance which may occur at any portion of the body, whether it is the brain, kidney, lung, appendix, or gall bladder.

The substance of this telegram usually is, "there is trouble in your body—get rid of the fuel that you have in the stomach and intestines and do not take any more until the trouble is adjusted, at which time we will inform you." This telegram translated into words usually means stomach sickness, nausea, vomiting, and

CARR'S PENCIL
BUSY
MARKING DOWN
PRICES!

Be Sure to See
FRIDAY EVENING'S OBSERVER
for full details of

Carr Furniture Company's

Big Furniture Close Out

A MIGHTY EVENT WORTH WAITING FOR
Four Big Pages of Bargains

Looking For More

H-O OATS
Quickest Hot Cereal

WHEN he has one of those stubborn "won't eat" spells give him some H-O. It contains as much the right kind of nourishment, as any food there is. Its delightful "toasted" flavor keeps youngsters "looking for more" even after the most generous helping.

H-O Quick Cooking Oats cooks in two to three minutes.