LEGION MEETING NIGHT CHANGED

Veterans to Meet Tuesdays Until After the State Convention

Starting tomorrow night, the regular meeting of the local American Legion post will be held on Tuesday evening instead of Wednesday evening until after the state convention here in July. The meeting night has been advanced because Wednesday night has been chosen as a regular weekly dance night at Legion hall.

Many questions of importance will come up before the meeting tomorrow night, Hugh E. Brady, commander, announces, including the progress of convention plans and financial problems.

The auxiliary to the American Legion will meet Tuesday evening also, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, at Hanna hall, the date having been changed from Wednesday evening to coincide with the meeting of the legion. Seventy new members, the result of the membership drive, will be taken into the auxiliary at the meeting.

Largest Auxiliary—At present the La Grande legion post has the largest auxiliary in the state of Oregon. All members are urged to be present for tomorrow night's meeting. Members of the legion post and auxiliary will enjoy a soiree at Legion hall after the meeting.

The first of a series of old-time dances to be given by the legion post every Thursday night at Legion hall will be held this Thursday. These dances will be strictly old-time, with old-time music and no modern dancing. Spud Helm's orchestra will play. The committee in charge consists of H. E. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Deatler.

The cast has been selected for the second annual play to be given by the American Legion post and the first two rehearsals have been held. Some of the best local talent is represented in the cast and the play this year is expected to be as good or better than last year's show.

Oakville, Wash., Bank Robbed of $10,000.00 Today

OAKVILLE, Wash., Jan. 31 (AP)—More than $10,000 in currency and warrants was stolen in a daylight bank robbery here shortly before noon today. Two men, unmasked, walked into the Oakville State bank when no one was present except Cashier A. W. Jensen. They forced Jensen into the bank vault, scooped up the money from the shelves and drawers and dashed away in a waiting automobile.

The men were described as between 25 and 30 years old, both unshaven and in rough working clothes.

The men parked their car, the number of which was not obtained, just across the street from the bank, walked leisurely over to the building and entered. Evidently they had watched their time to effect the robbery when only Jensen was present.

Lock Cashier in Vault—Forcing Jensen to hold up his hands and covering him with their revolvers the men forced the cashier into the vault and closed the door. Then they rapidly scooped up the money and securities into a bag. Just as they had about completed this work Miss Leona Lemmon, a clerk at the bank, who had been out on an errand, returned. The men immediately covered her with their revolvers, forcing her into a corner of the room.

One of the men then dashed out to the waiting automobile, carrying the money, while the other man covered the girl and made a more leisurely escape. Both men drove away in the car, leaving Jensen in the street, who comprehended what had happened.

Before noon six witnesses had been called, four of whom took up the allegations that Browning had suggested to Marian Tussey, girl friend of Mrs. Browning, that she "try to recollect something adverse to Mrs. Browning prior to her marriage."

Miss Tussey herself testified that Browning had asked her if she had not seen Mrs. Browning before her marriage act improperly. She said she had denied that she had so seen "Peaches."

Bondy Croner, his wife, and a house maid who lives at his home in New York, testified of a visit Browning had paid to the Croner place, where Croner is landlord for the apartment in which Miss Tussey resided.

Croner admitted on cross examination that he had called Browning voluntarily after he had learned that Miss Tussey knew Mrs. Browning but he denied he had received any money for his information, except ten dollars paid him for being subpoenaed twice. His wife said a man who accompanied Browning did what talking was done on the occasion of Browning's visit, but that Browning "just sat there in a chair and didn't open his mouth."

The house maid said she had left the room and hadn't heard anything.

Democrat Club Rebukes Walsh For His Actions

BUTTE, Mont., Jan. 31 (AP)—The Silver Bow Democratic club at a meeting here late yesterday sponsored the following telegram to Senator Thomas J. Walsh, of Montana:

"It having come to the attention of the members of this club that W. G. McAdoo unscrupulously and unwarrantedly attacked the fair names of New York, Maryland and Montana, and that his scurrilous attack was not challenged by the representatives of New York and Maryland, but that our state was left like a deserted child by its pseudo representatives, and feeling that our delinquent representatives should be rebuked for their failure; be it: Resolved: That our representatives by telegram be requested to wake up and get busy in the interests of Montana and to forget Teapot Dome and Daugherty."

The "reprimand" was the result of W. G. McAdoo's recent speech in New York wherein he referred to the three states mentioned as "nullificationists" for repealing their prohibition laws.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, said today that his only reply to the Silver Bow democratic club regarding William G. McAdoo's recent prohibition speech at Toledo, Ohio, would be to send the club a copy of the former treasury secretary's remarks.

Both Walsh and his democratic colleague, Burton K. Wheeler, received today copies of the resolution adopted by the Silver Bow club. They were signed by a committee headed by W. H. Maloney, the only member of the Montana delegation to the New York democratic national convention 1924 who voted for Governor Smith.

Senator Wheeler issued a statement saying there were a few people "and only a few" in Montana "who are over sensitive about Mr. McAdoo's statement," and adding that "in no way" reflected on Montana.

"The resolution passed by the Silver Bow club," Senator Wheeler said, "would indicate that those who voted for it were more anxious to censure Mr. McAdoo for a fancied reflection upon Montana than they were to have their representatives in Washington keep the only member of the Montana delegation to the New York democratic national convention 1924 who voted for Governor Smith."

New Income Tax Bill Introduced At State House

STATE HOUSE, SALEM, Ore., Jan. 31 (AP)—Carrying the name of Senator Charles Hall and Representative Dal King, both of Coos county, a new income tax bill went into the legislative committee for introduction in the house today or tomorrow.

The bill calls for a graduated rate of assessment on incomes ranging from 1 to 4 per cent—1 per cent on the first $1000 of net income, 2 per cent on the second $1000, 3 per cent on the third and fourth $1000 and 4 per cent on all in excess of $5000.

The exemptions provided in the bill are $1500 of unmarried persons, $2500 for married and $250 each for dependents.

STATE HOUSE, SALEM, Ore., Jan. 31 (AP)—Enforcement of the rule requiring that all bills introduced by the 20th day of the session will not go into effect until the present mass of proposed legislation before the legislative committee is cleared up. Announcement to this effect was made today by Speaker Carlin.

As soon as the deluge of bills in the hands of the committee is absorbed the rule will go into effect and thereafter all measures introduced, excepting those by the ways and means legislative committee must have the approval of the latter committee or unanimous consent of the house.

Speaker Carlin pointed out that the house must pass or kill 50 measures a day if it is to clear up its work at the end of the 40th day. Carlin emphasized the fact that figures of past sessions shows that 248 bills have ordinarily been introduced up to the 20th day of the assembly. This year, the number for the house was 369.

Body of Woman Found Off Shore

REDONDO BEACH, Cal., Jan. 31 (AP)—The body of an expensively dressed woman, about 25 years old, was found floating three miles off shore by fishermen today. Police Chief Henry reported that a severe bruise was found on the woman's head and that an investigation is being made on the theory of murder.

The woman was dressed in black silk and an expensive diamond studded bracelet was found pinned on the breast.

Farm Relief Bill To Come Up Feb. 8

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—A tentative agreement to call up the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill in the house Tuesday, Feb. 8, was reached today by Representative Tilson, the republican leader, and Chairman Snell of the rules committee.

Privileged legislative status for the bill was approved today by the house rules committee.

Guantanamo is all worked up. With all the warships going to Nicaragua, the convention bureau fears Cuba won't get the maneuvers this year.

MORE BILLS ARE IN HOUSE BASKET

Astoria Representative Would Curb Killing by Officers

STATE HOUSE, SALEM, Ore., Jan. 31 (AP)—With the view of protecting citizens from promiscuous shooting by officers, Representative James Mott, Astoria, has a measure that would automatically result in one being charged with manslaughter should he, in making an illegal search or arrest, kill some one.

Mott's bill would also make an officer liable to a fine of from $100 to $500 or to sentence of from thirty days to one year in the county jail, or both fine and imprisonment, in case of conviction of false imprisonment, illegal search or seizure, entrapment, or for the use of firearms in making illegal arrests, search or seizure.

Explains Bill—Mott explains that the bill in no way takes away an officer's power where he is carrying out his legal duty, but that it simply provides penalties for one performing an illegal act.

Memorandum decisions by the state supreme court would be authorized by a bill that the house committee on constitutional law bill introduced today. It would give the state court the same authority as the U. S. supreme court has in giving memorandum decisions. Such forms of opinions eliminate the lengthy, exhaustive literary efforts employed in rendering decisions at present.

Aims at Jury System—Representative J. O. Bailey, Multnomah county, will introduce a resolution in the house today to amend the state constitution to modify or abolish the present grand jury system. Bailey's opinion is that a substitute procedure of district attorneys filing information should be brought into use. He points out that this is one of the steps that Chief Justice Taft has constantly recommended.
