Y. W. E. A. Enjoys America Abroad Program Tuesday

The Young Women's Educational auxiliary of the First Methodist Episcopal church had an interesting program Tuesday evening at the regular meeting in the church basement, the subject being "America Abroad."

The room was decorated in keeping with February holidays, many little hatchets and valentines being used. Refreshments which were served by the committee following the program were also in keeping with St. Valentine's day.

The program started with a piano solo by Miss Dorothy Brown, after which Miss Jean Williams gave a musical reading, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Sherwood Williams.

The evening's subject "America Abroad" was then given by Mrs. Julius Raesch, who told of her recent trip around the world.

Miss Wilma Hansel gave a musical reading "Colonial Memory." She was dressed in a quaint colonial costume. Her sister, Miss Lois Hansel, accompanied her at the piano.

Miss Nell Mahaffey was chairman of the committee in charge, and assisting her were Mrs. R. P. Tyler, Mrs. C. E. Stang, Mrs. H. S. Brown, Mrs. Wallinger, Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Duncan.

play yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. V. Sanford when she was hostess to the Jolly Bridge club members.

Mrs. E. H. Boylan made high score during the afternoon's play and the consolation prize went to Mrs. Nate Zweifel.

The idea of St. Valentine's day was carried out in the decorations of the rooms, bouquets of red carnations being the flowers used. A two-course luncheon was served after the card games.

Mrs. J. J. Pearson will be hostess to the club Thursday, Feb. 24.

Foreign Mission Society in Meet

The Women's Foreign Missionary society of the First Methodist Episcopal church met at the home of Mrs. S. C. Smith, 1702 1/2 Washington avenue, Wednesday afternoon with about 20 members in attendance.

Mrs. G. M. Pierson had charge of the afternoon's devotional and Mrs. W. M. Pearson gave the lesson. The subject was "Islam and Christianity in Turkey," and it described the barriers between Christianity and Islam showing the obstacles to be overcome between Moslems and Christians.

After the program the hostess served refreshments.

A sociable was enjoyed following the regular business session of the Osoho Campfire girl group at the home of Miss Evelyn Bruce Saturday.

Eleven girls were present. Refreshments were served by the hostesses mother.

Seven members of the Mother's Self Culture club enjoyed an interesting program yesterday afternoon when they met at the home of Mrs. John Stoddard on Fourth street.

Mrs. Leo Miller was unable to attend the meeting so her paper on "The Choice of Literature for Children" was given by Mrs. Dick Lindsay. Mrs. John S. Hodgkin read two communications from Dr. Berle.

A short musical program was given, little Betty and Helen Stoddard and little Nancy Lee Lindsay each singing a song. Mrs. Stoddard accompanied them at the piano.

The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Mrs. Ray Williams Thursday, Feb. 24.

There was a large attendance at the business meeting of the Lutheran Ladies Aid society yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Anson.

Mrs. Frank Hansen, vice president, presided over the meeting. Plans were made for a hard-times party to be given in the church annex the last day of March, Thursday, March 31.

Party Honors Mrs. J. Conley

Complimenting their mother, Mrs. J. Conley, on her birthday anniversary Mrs. Ray Goodnough and Mrs. Lloyd Carter entertained at a birthday surprise party yesterday afternoon.

Dinner was served at 1:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Goodnough, places being laid for the following women around the attractively arranged dinner table:

Mrs. J. Conley, Mrs. C. D. Goodnough, Mrs. C. E. Golden, Mrs. Clarence Heyford, Mrs. James McClure, Mrs. Frank Cloutier, Mrs. Arch Conley and the hostesses.

Mrs. Conley received several lovely gifts in remembrance of her birthday.

The regular social meeting of the Ladies of Mooseheart legion was held at the home of Mrs. Wallace Cass this week. Games were the diversion of the evening with Mrs. A. N. Mayville and Mrs. Pearl Campbell winning the prizes. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Cass, assisted by Mrs. W. Knight. Those present were Mrs. W. Knight, Mrs. A. N. Mayville, Mrs. E. Norris, Mrs. C. Shultz, Mrs. Sovell, Mrs. Lou Stoop, Mrs. Brianon, Mrs. Berger, Miss Blanche Rice, Miss Bernice Cass and Mrs. Emma Swartz.

Enterprise (Special)—The Ladies Aid society of the Presbyterian church held a silver tea at the home of Mrs. Robinson Wednesday afternoon with 60 women present.

The usual routine of business was omitted and the entire afternoon was spent socially. Several mysterious packages found in one of the rooms was the cause for much merriment, each one present being obliged to wear what she found in her package. Prizes were won by Mrs. Engleson, who was dressed as an old-fashioned girl, by Mrs. Clark, dressed as the "town tough."

The high school instrumental trio furnished music for the afternoon. At an appropriate hour refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mesdames Robinson, Forsythe, McClay, Pooler, Clark, Millard and Jordan.

The juveniles of the Neighbors of Woodcraft will meet Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Knights of Pythias hall. All juveniles are urged to be present.

There will be a basket sociable and program at Willow school this evening. The program will begin at 8 o'clock.

The Sacajawea campfire girls will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the annex of the Lutheran church.

Scripps-Howard Buys N. Y. Paper

NEW YORK, Feb. 11 (AP)—The New York Evening Telegram today became the property of the Scripps-Howard interests.

William T. Dewart, of the New York Evening Sun and president of the New York Telegram company said the decision to sell the Telegram "was reached because the growth of the Sun demands, so far as my newspaper interests are concerned, that I devote my time to one newspaper, the Sun."

Roy W. Howard, of the Scripps-Howard organization, issued a statement saying that the new management contemplates no radical changes in the editorial content of the paper. The present staff will be taken over in its entirety.

BREAKFAST—Grapefruit, cereal, thin cream, scrambled eggs with cheese, crisp graham toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Fish timbales, lettuce sandwiches, molasses cookies, milk, tea.

DINNER—Beef a la mode, rice, potatoes, cream cauliflower, stuffed prune salad, whole wheat rolls, cream puffs, milk, coffee.

The fish timbales are planned to use up any fish that may have been left from dinner the night before. However if left-over fish is not at hand any canned fish may be used to advantage.

Fish Timbales
 One cup cold flaked fish, 2 tablespoons butter, 1/2 cup stale bread crumbs from soft part of loaf, 2-3 egg milk, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 egg, salt and pepper.

Melt butter, add bread crumbs and milk and cook until smooth, stirring constantly. Add fish, which has been marinating in lemon juice while making the paste. Season with salt and pepper and add egg well beaten with 1 tablespoon cold water. Mix thoroughly but lightly. Turn into buttered individual molds, making them about two-thirds full of the mixture. Place in pan of hot water, cover with heavy buttered paper and bake 30 minutes in a moderately hot oven.

Remove from molds and serve surrounded by egg sauce, creamed celery or tomato sauce.

A Big Surprise For The Farmers

Watch this space, we are just giving you a little hint. Keep your eye on your manure pile. Hammers are ringing, as another big warehouse is going to start soon. Farmers can arrange to have stock sales, free of charge, within the palls of the Pratt Lumber company. We got lots of room and we are big hearted.

Good reliable house paint, $2.35 a gallon. Kalsomine, either hot or cold water. Be a five-pound package. More shingles coming and we got a few thousand feet more of the $13.00 barn planks. Wallpaper is already moving and the price is what talks. One fellow said that the only word that his money spoke to him was "Good (Buy) Bye," so he just as well spend it for wallpaper where he gets more for his money.

WOMAN WHO SWAM CATALINA CHANNEL

Photo Copyright, 1927, by NEA Service. Transmitted by wire. Mrs. Myrtle Huddleston's phenomenal victory over the Catalina channel was the reason for the radiant smiles on the faces pictured here. They're the faces of Mrs. Huddleston, resting in a Los Angeles hotel from her gruelling 20-hour swim, and the 11-year-old son for whose sake she tackled the channel a second and winning time. "I wanted to make a lot of money so I could give my boy a good education," his remarkable mother explained. "Come on, mama! Don't give up!" the lad had cried from the deck of an accompanying tugboat as Mrs. Huddleston, almost unconscious, neared her goal. "I knew you'd win, mother!" he beamed as this photo was taken. Mrs. Huddleston, 30, learned to swim less than a year ago.

Snow Is Deep in Wallowa County Mountain Area

ENTERPRISE, Ore., Feb. 11.—Much has been said and written this winter about the depth of snow in the mountains. Trapper Ed Smith came out from the Tenderfoot Basin arriving in Joseph Friday after a very hard trip. Snow began falling heavily Sunday, Jan. 30, in the high mountains and continued until Thursday with hardly a break in the steady downfall. This was at a time when a chinook was in progress in the valley. Smith could do nothing in the way of trapping and decided it was time to get out. He left the Tenderfoot Basin on Thursday morning on Canadian web-snow-shoes, encountering a snow slide when coming out of the Imnaha canyon.

A body of snow acres in extent began to move, slowly at first. Smith, by some desperate scrambling succeeded in getting off the moving snow before it poured over the steep breaks and dashed into the river a half mile below.

The first lap of his journey, seven miles, over the divide to Aneroid lake, was accomplished after an all day's trip, arriving at the Chase Seaber cabin at dark, which he found entirely covered. Even the stove pipe was covered and a board Seaber had placed over the stove pipe to keep snow out of the stove, was out of sight. Tons of snow had to be moved in digging down to the doorway.

Smith could not say what the actual depth of the snow is at those points but did say that the new snow since Jan. 30 must be 4 or 5 feet. Leaving the Seaber cabin at Aneroid lake Friday morning he encountered a constantly lessening depth coming down, arriving in Joseph in the early afternoon, looking not much the worse for wear.

from his experience, Smith will not return to the mountains until the snow settles and hardens somewhat.

The claim of Mrs. Mary Jane Thompson, 99, Strabane, Ireland, for an old age pension, was supported by John Blue, who said he was 102.

Herrick Quiz Is Now Under Way In Washington

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 (AP)—A score of witnesses were called today before a senate public lands subcommittee in another investigation involving the disposition of a parent country's natural resources.

The prosecution was in charge of representatives of grant county Oregon and was based on charges of citizens that there was a suspicion of fraud and collusion in a contract granted by the forest service to Fred Herrick, of Idaho, for the cutting of nearly a billion feet of timber in a national forest in that county.

Besides Herrick, those called were James W. Girard, a former forest service employee, who became vice president and general manager of the Fred Herrick Lumber company and the Malheur railroad company after the contract was entered into, and Frank K. Lobcher, secretary and treasurer of the lumber and railroad company, who also formerly was employed by the forest service.

Frederick M. Dehoff, an attorney for the people of Grant county, had charge of the prosecution, assisted by E. W. Barnes, Blaino Hallock of Baker, Ore., is counsel for Herrick.
