EVERY SPORT IS SUPREME GAMBLE

In Big League Managers Take Double Chance of Losing Players

By Billy Evans

Every sport that runs for a season is a gamble. In the part of the performer involves a big gamble. I am speaking from a personal standpoint.

When a major league manager signs a player for $12,000 to $15,000 or more for a "long term" contract, he is taking a long chance that the player will not only deliver but remain in form from season to season.

It's a double gamble with the manager, financial as well as physical. The major league records reveal any number of cases where players, highly touted, have failed to make the grade.

Also, many rookies after showing enough stuff to win a regular berth, have had their careers quickly ended because of some injury that handicapped their play.

put him permanently out of the running. Such things often happen on the road.

Case of Cartaris

The new horse game is an even more precarious business than baseball. This fact is revealed by the fact that "Fanny" Anderson had with Cartaris, who a year ago at this time was the sensation of the turf.

Recently in looking over the results at Turfway, I noticed where Cartaris had scored a victory at six furlongs. It caused me to hope that he might still have some of the speed that carried him to a memorable victory in the Cactus Handicap of last year.

Shortly after the win, "Fanny" Anderson, owner of the big boy, turned down an offer of one-quarter of a million for Cartaris.

Brought west for feature stakes, Cartaris suffered several expenses and was finally withdrawn because of inability to hit his stride, due largely to leg injuries.

Offered $125,000 for Cartaris one year ago, Anderson might have trouble collecting $150,000 for him today.

It's a great life if you don't weaken.

Elizabeth H. Robinson, heir to the "Lucky" Robinson million, is reported on the way to France with Suzanne Lenglen, as her manager. Robinson recently failed his reported engagement to the tennis queen, pointing out that he has a wife and two children in South Pasadena, Cal.

Oregon Lineup For Title Tilt Still Mystery

EUWING, Ore., Mar. 2 (AP)—With the University of Oregon-University of California basketball series for the championship of the Pacific coast intercollegiate conference, scheduled to begin here tomorrow evening, mystery is surrounding the starting lineup of the Oregon team. Coach Bing Reinhart has been working his men for the past few days behind closed doors and information leaking out between the cracks is to the effect that some of his first string men have been working with the second string men, and vice versa.

Scott McLaugh, Howard, and Gordon Rodden, guard, have been reported but may yet get into the opening lineup. The different combinations are being worked out as a safety measure in event of Oregon players going out on fouls or injuries.

The California team will arrive in Eugene at 4:25 o'clock this evening.

Since the defeat of Oregon at the hands of the University of Washington, the Webfoot's stock is not quite so high, but loyal Oregon fans are still betting the Oregon team for the series against the invading California quintet.

Here is the world's three-cushion billiard champion, Angie Knickerbocker, who has held the title twice before, was the title again by defeating Otto Rebeck, Philadelphia, player, at the recent Chicago tournament.

PREP SCHOOLS BAR COACHING ON FIELD

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—"No coaching on the field" is the rule in baseball and hockey games between Canada, Tall and Looney, Connecticut's "Big Three" prep schools. A recent agreement, for the purpose of maintaining teams to do their own thinking once a game is in progress, provides that a coach may advise only as to substitutions, and that other advice may not be conveyed to the team. At five year schedule agreement, limiting games of the three schools to such extent for the purpose of experimenting with reforms, is under fire from Canada and is threatened with dissolution. Canada believes the limitation would cause the schools to lose their prestige, that others unhampered in their schedules, could forge ahead.

Eleven of the 46 members of Alberta's provincial legislature in Canada are former citizens of the United States, including the speaker, O. L. McPherson, formerly of Vancouver, Kan.

INVITES ALUMNI AWAY FROM FOOTBALL TEAM

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—Harry Galt, new coach of the University of Kentucky football team, has invited alumni to the annual that he is going to be the "boss" of the squad. "I'm going to handle the football situation at school," he told them, "and I would like for you to handle your old business."

"A big boss plays a good game. Then you cannot put him on the back and he gets to thinking he is a gift to the world and becomes worthless. Alumni should stay away from the football squad during the season," Galt said.

WEIGHTS CERTIFIED FOR ENGLISH RACING

NEWMARKET, Eng.—Weights having been allotted to horses entered for the first big handicap of the flat racing season—the Lincolnshire—on the 22nd March 25, owners have considered their chances and 47 horses have been left in and 16 taken out. A. K. Macomber, American owner, has withdrawn his three entries, "Toucan III," "The Steer" and "War Hawk," and with Captain Cobb's "King Arthur, II," also taken out, there will be no American representation in the big handicap. A German horse, "Waldorf," owned by Baron E. K. Oppenheim, is offered 124 pounds, top weight.
