OFFICE CAT

"And this," said the artist, "is my latest fringe."

"How perfectly wonderful," said the appreciative flapper. "It actually makes me shiver to look at it!"

"Say, pa."

"Well, my son."

"I took a walk through the cemetery today and read the inscriptions on the tombstones."

"Where are all the wicked people buried?"

"There may be plenty of work to do if you will only look for it. The trouble with some people seems to be that by the time they find it their energy is all but gone."

Customer—I want to return this book I bought, "Stories For All Occasions."

Bookstore—What's the matter with it?

Customer—It's a fake! There's nothing in it for a man to tell his wife when he gets home late."

"Tommy, isn't it rather extravagant to eat both butter and jam on your bread at the same time?"

"Oh, no, mother. It's economy. You see the same piece of bread goes for both."

Brass knishes in where brains fear to tread.

Nearly every man who loses his old hen takes to chicken chasing.

SEEDS AND STOVES
HELP BOOST DETROIT

DETROIT, Mar. 3. (AP)—"Detroit—oh, yes—automobile!"

The supremacy of this city in the automotive field is proverbial and even residents seldom claim further right to industrial note.

But now the city has discovered that it leads the world in production of 30 other things ranging from seeds to surgical instruments.

Detroit is the world center of production for adding and accounting machines, leafless refrigerators, dairy machinery, oil burning heaters, soda ash, salt base chemicals, varnishes, marine engines, sheet music and stoves.

A single Detroit plant manufactures more than half the world's wire springs, and more than half of America's garden seeds come from here.

AT THE THEATERS

"Bachelor Brides" At Sherrys Is Mystery Comedy

Dainty Ethel Fair, a new Cecil B. De Mille star, who achieved national screen prominence by her portrayal of the role of Princess Vera in "The Volga Boatman," plays opposite Rod La Rocque in his latest starring picture, "Bachelor Brides," directed by William K. Howard under the supervision of Cecil B. De Mille, which will be the feature at the Sherry theater for the last showing tonight.

This is a mystery comedy drama the scenes of which are laid in a Scottish castle on a stormy night. Percy Ashfield, a young English lord, is to wed Mary Bowling, daughter of an American banker and our millionaire, the role portrayed by Miss Fair. A number of crooks seek to steal the wedding presents as well as a pearl necklace of great value destined for the bride.

Percy gets into hot water when Percy, a young woman (Julia Fayer) forces her way into the castle and announces that he is her husband and the father of her child. But when Percy's languid wits are brought into play, interesting things occur. How he proves himself worthy of the girl he loves is delightfully pictured in a series of thrilling and humorous scenes.

The supporting cast is one of exceptional excellence. It includes such players as Eulalie Jensen, George Nichols, Lucien Littlefield, Sally Rand, Eddie Gribbon and Paul Nicholson. There are several "spooky" scenes in the production that are sure to provoke much comment among picture fans.

Comedy showing "Shell Shocked."

Mix and Grey Prove Great Combination

Tom Mix and Zane Grey!

The result of this unusual combination is now on view at the Star theater, "The Last Trail." Fox films version of Mr. Grey's blood-thirsting novel, starring the popular Western star, opened this afternoon for an engagement of three days.

Mix and his almost equally famous, friend, Zane, are involved in some of the fastest and most furious action ever recorded by the camera in this whitewash story of the plains. When the picture opens, Tom is cast as an Army scout in the Lakotas during the last Sioux Indian uprising. Later, he is pictured as the foe of a gang of desperadoes who specialize in looting stages.

Tom Dane (Mix) gets into all sorts of trouble with the villain, Kurt Morley, played by William Davidson. A stage coach race, in which the two participate, is thrilling.

When people think of the Claude C. Pratt Lumber Co., they usually think of copper wash boilers, pop corn poppers and roaster 2x1s. We are out of pop corn poppers and copper wash boilers and we sold the rotten 2x1s all over two years ago. It was a car that was shipped in from Penitentiary that they had had them for many years, trying to sell them. Consequently they began to rot on their hands. The freight almost ate them up, and what was left of them the worms were working on. We have some good 2x1s now. Some of them are just like day-old chicks—they just hatched from the saw mill. Another carload of farm machinery will be in soon.
