AT THE THEATERS

Milton Sills in "Sea Tiger" At Star

Picturesque of locale, powerful in its love story and presenting one of the most red blooded fights ever seen on the screen, "The Sea Tiger," which will be shown at the Star theater tonight for the last time is one of the finest pictures in which Milton Sills has starred for some time.

The setting is in a tiny hamlet in the Canary Islands, that famous and colorful group of islands in mid-Atlantic, belonging to Spain.

Sills plays the role of a slow witted but powerful Spanish fisherman, of great strength of character, who is torn between his love for his younger and weaker brother, Larry Kent, and Mary Astor, a fisherman's daughter, whom both the brothers love.

Against the stormy background of the sea the tale unfolds itself with peculiar beauty.

"Hesitating Horses," a Mack Sennett comedy with Alice Day the star, is also on the program and from all accounts is one of the best films of fun this charming little queen of comediennes has ever appeared in. Supporting her in the cast are Eddie Quillan, Danny O'Shea and Ruth Taylor.

"Night of Love" Is Picture of Old Spain.

Swashbuckling gallants, dastardly villians, brave men and fair women, in a dazzling, sure-fire, swift-moving romance of feudal Spain, credit Samuel Goldwyn with another one hundred per cent success with "The Night of Love".

The picture which opened at the Sherry theater yesterday, makes another "knockout" for Samuel Goldwyn's famous team, Ronald Colman and Vilma Banky. Colman never looked more handsome than he does as the brave and romantic Spanish bandit, seeking revenge against the dastardly Duke for the murder of his childhood sweetheart.

Miss Banky is more beautiful than ever, if that is possible, and as the Duchess de la Garda, kidnapped by Colman on her wedding night, she fights and loves with a verve and abandon that moves audiences almost to cheers. It is evident that the fair Vilma, who came from far Hungary a little over a year ago, has progressed marvelously during her stay in America, for, in addition to being one of the most beautiful women on the screen, she is today the most accomplished of younger actresses and in "The Night of Love" makes her character an outstanding triumph.

The entire feminine contingent of the cast is pulchritudinous, as well as entirely satisfactory to sticklers for good acting. Natalie Kingston as the beautiful and seductive Donna Beatriz, mistress of the Duke, will make other vamps look to their laurels, for Miss Kingston as a siren is in a class all by herself.

Montagu Love as Duke de la Garda establishes a new high-water mark for his own already unusual standard. Love is an actor, perhaps one of the greatest actors in filmdom. As a feudal lord who terrorizes his subjects, ravages fair women, tortures captives, and at last is brought to an ignominious death by his own peasantry, "Monty" Love plays the part forcefully and satisfactorily.

Comedy Is Showing at Arcade Today

Although Paris style edicts declare that within the next six months corsets will again be in style, Jean Hersholt, Universal star, denies this.

And Hersholt ought to know, for he plays the leading role in the Universal-Jewel production "The Wrong Mr. Wright" which is showing at the Arcade theater today only and "The Wrong Mr. Wright" is a farce comedy based on the trials and tribulations of a corset manufacturer during those days of emancipated womanhood.

"The Wrong Mr. Wright," is the screen version of the famous stage play by the same name, written by George Broadhurst. The adaptation is by Harold Shumate and the picture was directed by Scott Sidney, one of the best known directors of comedy in the industry.

Walter Hiers, Dorothy Devore and Enid Bennett and a number of other well known featured players, support Hersholt.

Mabel Normand, upon whose brow has long rested the crown of comedy queen, is with us again. Her welcome return will be marked by the showing today only at the Arcade theater of "Raggedy Rose," the new Hal Roach-Pathe comedy.

A wrist watch serving as an alarm clock has been invented. A revolving unit with protruding points that touch the skin serves as the alarm.

ILLINOIS CLUB WOMEN WOULD PURIFY STAGE

CHICAGO—Preparedness is under way in Chicago—this time by women against plays charged with indecency elsewhere which attempt to open here.

Mrs. William Harrison Cade, law enforcement chairman of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs, has evolved a reform program sponsored by the members. It calls for a city commission through which the licenses of offending theaters can be revoked and the amendment of existing ordinances so that obnoxious plays can be banished.

GONE AGAIN

The hard-earned savings for many years has gone again, but the experience is still with us. This, says one of our friends who has just received RETURNS from some of his investments recently made in a proposition which LOOKED GOOD, but at last went up in smoke. How many times has the banker advised you to look well before you leap?
