HAGEN, SARAZEN TO PLAY

ATLANTA—Sir Walter Hagen and gentle Gene Sarazen perhaps are sore over falling to capture that $4,000 in the Atlanta open and want to win it from each other. Or maybe they desire to beat each other some more for the fun of it. They are to have another match at White Sulphur Springs next Sunday.

Maybe what's wrong with this generation is that too many parents' slippers are being worn on the dancing floor.

He—if I'd known you were so extravagant I'd never have married you.

She—Well, if I wasn't father would never have let you.

Willie, cunning little fellow, tossed the baby in the cellar; Mother said, "Look out, there Willie. You'll upset the placid!"

One temptation most men quickly learn to resist is the temptation to talk back to their wives.

A girl who sings while helping her mother to do the dishes is likely to be a good one to marry.

Hubby—There's no place like home, after all.

Wife—Yes! Has something disagreeable happened at the club?

THIS IS SURE!

If you saw a girl with the heel of her shoe coming off, would you call her Lucille?

Bootlegger (to blind beggar): How would you like to taste some good liquor?

Blind Beggar: Lead me to it.

Bootlegger (complaining in waste): Now tell me what you think of it.

Blind Beggar: Believe me, I have to admit that's real whiskey, sir.

Bootlegger: Thanks want this supply for my own use. Since you're blind already, I thought it much safer to try on your first.

The average man doesn't think of saving for a rainy day, until it begins to sprinkle.

AT THE THEATERS

"London" Is a Rags-to-Riches Picture

To be quite frank, "London," Paramount's new British National Production, starring Dorothy Gish, is just a "Rags-to-Riches" story told in a delightfully new way. Yet when you come to analyze that phrase, isn't it true that stories of the Cinderella type have always been popular? Doesn't one usually feel happy when he knows that the heroine has come from the slums, risen to the heights, found her Prince, charming and attained happiness?

Of course you do! Cynics may scoff. Some may laugh and others deride but when all is said and done, it's the "Rags-to-Riches" story which always wins out.

And without turning a hair, blushing the least bit, or offering any excuse, it is announced that "London" is the story of a modern "Lamouche" Cinderella who finds happiness in Mayfair. The picture, arriving at the Arcade theater on Wednesday for a two day run, is doubly valuable because of its authentic London scenes. The film was produced on the other side and the mother of cities is shown in all her splendor and glory. With which it is only fair to say, don't miss "London."

Wrecking of Yacht Shot at Night in Picture

The sensation seekers found their big sensation during the making of the Universal-Jewel "The Sensation Seekers." Lois Weber's thrilling story which is the feature attraction at the Star theater today and Wednesday.

The three leading characters, Billie Dove, Huntley Gordon and Raymond Blum, underwent all the trials and tribulations of being lost at sea the gripping final sequence of the picture in which a beautiful private yacht was sunk without a trace.

Miss Weber, noted as a daring director, threw all motion picture precedent aside and sank the yacht at night by artificial light.

Besides the beautiful yacht which was sunk, Miss Weber used a tug boat from which the wreck was filmed.

The yacht was run on a rock five miles from shore off San Pedro harbor while an immense generator and huge sun arc are played on the sinking boat while Billie Dove and Huntley Gordon leaped off to swim to safety. Had the lights failed the ship would have sunk in vain for it would have been impossible to film the wreck in the dark.

An unusually spectacular sequence for the climax was filmed which added the final touch to a perfect picture.

In the supporting cast are Peggy Montgomery, Phillips Smalley, Edith Yorke, Clarence Thompson and Nora Cecil.

A new Ben Turpin comedy is also on the program.

Lefty Flynn Starred in "Sir Lumberjack"

"The murmuring pines and the hemlocks" of the poet have nothing on the background of "Sir Lumberjack" for "primeval forests"; the P. B. O. production starring Lefty Flynn is as strong in drama as it is redolent of the big woods, with their red-blooded denizens. The excitement and adventure, which comes to the Sherry theater for its local showing today. For the first time in his rugged young life, Lefty Flynn is seen in the habiliments of the lumberjack; and a splendid figure he makes, too! Kathleen Myers has the leading role opposite the star, and is particularly appealing as the backwoods girl whom he eventually saves from the machinations of the camp boss and the camp bully, Tom Kennedy and Raymond Turner are others who stand out in a strong supporting cast. The story, vivid and colorful as well as powerful, is the work of Victor Gibson, who adapted his own original to the screen, and the direction of Harry Garrison is splendid from the first foot to the last.

Comedy showing "He Couldn't Help It."
