NIMRODS SHOOT IN BAKER SUNDAY

Event Also to Be Held Here Tomorrow Afternoon by U. P. Club

Trapshooters of the Wing, Pin and Plectrum club of La Grande will shoot both in La Grande and Baker Sunday in the Oregonian telegraphic trapshooting tournament.

All nimrods who can make the trip will go to Baker to an invitation meet, leaving here about 8 a. m. Sunday so as to be present for the opening round at 10 o'clock. Shooters who cannot go to Baker will gather at the Lone Tree grounds at 5:30 o'clock.

U. P. Shoot Tomorrow

The Union Pacific Athletic club will hold a shoot Saturday afternoon at two o'clock at the rock quarry near the Grande Rende hospital. It is possible for automobiles to drive to the edge of the grounds.

Callahan To Fight Spug Meyers May 31

LOS ANGELES, Apr. 1 (AP)—Manny Callahan will defend his junior welterweight championship against "Spug" Meyers, of Idaho, May 31 at Chicago, his manager, Eddie Sears, announced today. Meyers defeated Callahan in a non-titular fight in Chicago last month.

WALLOWA PERSONALS

WALLOWA, Ore., (Special)—Elmer Osborne and Glenn English, who have the large hill ranch of J. H. Haun east of here, leased, have been busy recently hauling feed for use in spring work. They have been rebuilding some fences and distributing squirrel poison. They report their large acreage of winter wheat showing up in fine shape where the snow has been melted off.

Woodrow, the small son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walker, of Leap, suffered a deep gash in his lip, falling while at play at school. It was necessary to close the cut with several stitches.

H. D. Hechtel made a business trip to Egin the latter part of the week.

Willie Lathrop, of Joseph, has been at the L. V. Lathrop place helping with some wood cutting. Quinten Lathrop, who attends high school here, went to his home at Leap over the week end.

The old-time dance held Friday night at the K. P. hall was well attended, according to reports. With good weather during the greater part of the past week, work which started on the stretch of new road east of here has been progressing quite rapidly. A number of farmers along the route are donating their own teams.

Toy, and Dee Gastin and George Cousins were visitors in town recently.

Sam and G. C. Meek were visitors in town the latter part of the week.

Much poisoning of ground squirrels is being done by farmers in various sections of the county. While the rodents have been out for several weeks in most sections, farmers in the higher portions of the county have been unable to do much poisoning until recently, because of the snow.

Mrs. Guy Oliver, of Lower Valley, who has been seriously ill for the past several weeks, is reported to be a little improved.

W. O. Johnson has been building a brooder house at his farm a short distance east of town. He secured plans from County Agent Donaldson, which are the type used at the O. A. C.

Ed Bell and family, of Whiskey Creek, were visitors in town the last of the week.

Sam and Tony Gastin finished cutting wood the past week.

John Couch, of Leap, was a business visitor here recently.

Bruce Fisher, of Leap, who recently received a shipment of 500 baby chicks, had the misfortune to have his brooder house catch on fire from the brooder stove one night. He got up at three o'clock in the morning to see about the temperature and discovered the fire soon after it became started. Some chicks were lost due to the heat and smoke.

Colds and "flu" are still in evidence in many communities. Some of the "flu" cases have been quite severe confining a number to their beds for several days. The measles are said to be quite numerous in the upper part of the valley but no new cases have been reported in this section for some time.

Miss Arista Couch went to her home at Leap over the week end.

Robert Walker, who has been attending high school at Enter-

Eugene Beaten By One Point in Chicago Tourney

CHICAGO, Apr. 1 (AP)—The south had the inside track today to take the national high school basketball title to Dixie.

Four of the eight teams surviving for the championship flight game are from the land of cotton and although a hard luck draw made two of them opponents, tournament observers believe that one of the four smooth working combinations was destined to inherit the title won last year by Pittsfield, Mass.

Of the remaining four teams, two came from the north, one from the west, with Chicago backing one entry. Teams from the east and the Pacific coast have been eliminated. The two southern squads which face each other in one of tonight's games are Norfolk, Va., and Florence, Miss.

Florence and another of the southern quintets, Vienna, Ga., so far have shown the most finished team work of the entire field, and they were favored among the survivors.

Eugene Beaten 14-13 Eugene, Ore., last night fell before the Maury high of Norfolk, Va., by the narrow margin of one goal—the final score being 14 to 13. The deciding goal came as the time keeper raised his arm to fire the final gun.

13 Games Listed On University's Baseball Sked

Hughey Critz Not To Play With Reds

CINCINNATI, Apr. 1 (AP)—Hughey Critz, crack second baseman, was on his way to his home in Greenwood, Miss., today after falling in a conference with President August Herberman of the Cincinnati Reds, at West Palm Beach, Fla., to come to an agreement in his salary dispute.

GOOD BASEBALL PARK

AVON PARK, Fla.—Although the field where the world champion St. Louis Cardinals are training this year was unincorporated four months ago, a splendid park was ready for the champions when they reported for work. The Avon Park citizens set out to lure St. Louis to Florida from Texas before the world series and redoubled their efforts when St. Louis came through in the big test. Work on the field was started Thanksgiving.

Oh lovely spring why do you part, And leave the autumn to dwell, Until the icy winters start, Each lovely winter to tell.

I feel you coming sweet sweet spring, I smell your gentle breath, I take I hear the rustling in the night, I breathe the freshness when I wake.

Oh gracious spring, thou art the king That reigneth in my heart, For thou art kind, Oh gracious spring And from me never part, And now I know that thou art near Oh gracious spring sublime, Thou dost know that I have fear You will go on sometime.

2 Games Postponed On Pacific Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, Apr. 1 (AP)—Rain today caused the Pacific coast league games in San Francisco and Oakland to be postponed. The Portland Beavers were scheduled to play the San Francisco Seals here and the San Francisco Mission to clash with the Oakland team.

CAMBRIDGE CREW PLAYS STUD POKER

LONDON—Stud poker, introduced by American students, has proved the chief relaxation of Cambridge University oarsmen in training here for their annual clash with Oxford April 2. Although the English oarsmen are allowed their beer as usual, they are not permitted to have huns with their tea nor to attend movies. On the first Sunday in camp they loafed aimlessly until a poker game started, when the camp at once became more cheerful, and they have been taking shillings and shillings from each other since.

American invention is keeping pace with the modern age, says a writer. So be it, while there yet are sick friends in need.

Poets' Corner

A TREE THAT I KNOW
By Mildred Shumate
This tree whose arms are tall and strong,
My favorite of all dear nature's throng;
It guards the gateway to my heart,
Its memories when old shall ne'er depart.
In summer or winter the same old way,
It grows more beautiful day by day;
Its leaves in summer are bright and green,
In winter it stands alone and serene.

PINE TREE

Can you hear the pine trees calling Wohoio?
As the waving flowers greet us,
As the merry streamlet dimples,
So the pine trees how to meet us,
As we hurry on our way.
What is fairer than our pine trees,
As they bow their heads
To the sun's first ray?
Or kiss the wintry snows
As through the night they groan
and moan, Wohoio.

SPRING

Oh, winsome spring in your colors gay,
And hues that never fade or die;
I love to think of the sun's bright day,
And dream as the clouds float by,
I see you coming sweet, sweet spring.
Fix glad that your coming's near,
In every little nook and place,
The sound of your feet I hear.

Oh lovely spring why do you part, And leave the autumn to dwell, Until the icy winters start, Each lovely winter to tell.

I feel you coming sweet sweet spring, I smell your gentle breath, I take I hear the rustling in the night, I breathe the freshness when I wake.

Oh gracious spring, thou art the king That reigneth in my heart, For thou art kind, Oh gracious spring And from me never part, And now I know that thou art near Oh gracious spring sublime, Thou dost know that I have fear You will go on sometime.

Gives 'Em Ride

Meet Lew Fonseca, who used to play with Cincinnati and Philadelphia in the National League but who is almost certain to play regularly for Cleveland this season. Fonseca's hard hitting has featured the spring games of the Indians around Lakeland, Fla.

WILLIE DAVIES REACHES FOR WORLD'S CROWN

PITTSBURGH—With the death of Harry Greb, middleweight champion of the world, Pittsburgh's lone outstanding fighter passed from the picture and the field of squared circle gladiators gave little promise.

But William Davies, recognized as the champion flyweight of Pennsylvania, made the grade and is now shooting for the world's crown. During the past year, Davies, a clean-cut, quiet lad from the Charleroi region, waded through the flyweight ranks of the entire state.

Davies is now angling for a crack at Ediet Larbarba, flyweight king of the world. Supporting his challenge is the contention that he was ranked third in his class by Tex Rickard and that he has the means to defeat Newshy, Brown, who, holding the second rank, held Larbarba to two draws.

DETROIT ADDS JAZZ TO BASEBALL SUTS

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—In an effort to inject color into the play of the Tigers, the Detroit club has jazzed up its uniforms. The staid gray of other years will be decorated with stripes of burnt orange and a fierce tiger head in orange will glare at all opponents from the shirt of the Detroiters.

HEALTH

TEETHING No. 2
By John Lovett Moore, A. M., M. D., Boston

Member George Memorial Institute
The diseases and disturbances in infancy which are so commonly laid to teething are, in the vast majority of instances, due to some other cause. The only relation which they have to teething is that they occur at the same time; that is, at the time when the eruption of the teeth is most rapid and the attention of mothers and grandmothers is focused on them.

A safe rule to follow is not to think of teething as the cause of any disturbance or illness in infancy until every other possible cause has been ruled out, and then to feel quite certain that the cause is teething, but that it has not been found.

It is easier for the parents to attribute illness in infancy to teething than to send for the doctor. It worries them less and costs less. It is easier for the doctor to say "teething" than to hunt for the real trouble.

Unfortunately, some doctors are careless or inclined to take the path of least resistance. They are satisfied if the parents are, in many instances the trouble is a minor one and the baby recovers, although the diagnosis of teething was wrong.

In other instances, however, the failure to look for and find the real cause of the symptoms and to make the proper diagnosis means delay in beginning the proper treatment, which may lead to prolonged and severe illness or even death. It is for this reason that it is so important for both the lady and physician to realize that teething is a natural process which very seldom causes either discomfort or illness and that, therefore, when babies are uncomfortable or ill the cause is almost always something else than teething.

It is also most important for them to realize that, if the symptoms are attributed to teething, their true cause will be overlooked and that, in consequence, babies may be subjected to much unnecessary suffering and perhaps die because proper treatment was not instituted early.

"RIP" COLLINS WEARS FIVE GALLON BONNET

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—"Rip" Collins, former cowboy and called "Two Gun" dresses the part as he goes about his business of getting in condition for another season as a Detroit pitcher. He habitually wears a huge sombrero of the five gallon variety, and on occasion he appears in chaps, boots and spurs. He has parked his two guns, however.

Several Detroit players attest to his marksmanship, declaring that while riding in an automobile he shot an eagle with a pistol. Collins lives at Weatherford, not a great distance from the Detroit training camp as distances go in Texas.
