Mrs. Lee Bouvy Is Hostess At Bridge Luncheon

Mrs. Lee Bouvy was hostess at a bridge luncheon Saturday afternoon at her home on Washington avenue, when members of the Club were her guests.

Luncheon was served at 1:15 o'clock at three tables, which were attractively arranged with bouquets of the season's flowers, tulips and daffodils.

Bridge was the diversion following luncheon. Mrs. Chas. Bohnenkamp made high score among the club members and the guest prize went to Mrs. A. J. Stange.

Dr. Margaret Ingle will be the next hostess to the club.

This evening Dr. and Mrs. L. Bouvy will entertain the dinner club at the Sommer hotel. Dinner will be served at 7 o'clock, after which the guests will be taken to the Bouvy home, where six tables of bridge will be enjoyed during the remainder of the evening.

Because of the death of Mrs. W. L. Lane's mother, the Astor Club, of which she is a member, did not meet Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Speckhart as announced.

The club will meet again Saturday, April 16.

Employees Hosts At Dinner Party

In celebration of the 25th anniversary of the J. C. Penney company the employees of the local J. C. Penney store entertained at a dinner Friday evening at the Tiffin, as a surprise to Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Hunt, manager of the store.

Before going to the Tiffin pictures of the interior of the store and the employees and of the store front were taken.

Dinner was served at 7:30 o'clock, covers being laid for 16.

Short talks were given while dinner was served by Mr. Hunt and by L. V. Johnson.

The Associated Girl Students of the high school enjoyed an April Fool's day party Friday afternoon after school hours in the gymnasium.

The party was in the form of a matinee dance, a five-piece orchestra furnishing the music. As an April Fool's day joke program numbers were announced but were not given.

Refreshments were served. Miss Trillian Ashby, chairman of the program committee, was in charge.

ELGIN (Special).—The young people of the Church of Christ here gave a dancing party at the Masonic hall Wednesday night. It was the first dancing party ever given here and was very successful.

A two-hour program of readings, music and dialogue was given after which the remainder of the evening was enjoyed playing games.

Refreshments were served by the committee in charge.

BREAKFAST—Steamed figs, cereal, cream, creamed dried beef, crisp whole wheat toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Baked spaghetti with eggs and cheese, jellied orange salad, rye bread, nut and date cookies, milk, tea.

DINNER—Casseroles of chicken, rice croquettes, dandelion greens, radish and rhubarb pie, graham bread, milk, coffee.

Onions, carrots and celery are cooked with the chicken in casseroles, so an extra vegetable is not planned.

Baked spaghetti with eggs and cheese is an excellent luncheon dish during the lenten season.

Baked Spaghetti, Eggs and Cheese—Four hard cooked eggs, one cup broken spaghetti, 4 tablespoons grated cheese, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon flour, 3/4 cup milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon each pepper and mustard, parsley.

To hard cook the eggs put them in about 1 quart cold water. Bring to the boiling point, reduce heat and simmer without bubbling for fifteen minutes. Plunge at once into cold water and let stand five minutes. Remove shells and cut in thin slices crosswise. Cook spaghetti in rapidly boiling salted water for fifteen minutes. Drain and dip in cold water. Drain. Melt butter, stir in flour and slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Mix salt, pepper and mustard and stir into sauce. Put a layer of spaghetti in to a well buttered baking dish; add a layer of sauce and cover with a layer of eggs. Continue layer for layer of spaghetti, sauce and eggs until all are used, making the last layer of spaghetti. Cover with grated cheese and bake 25 minutes in a moderately hot oven. Garnish with sprigs of parsley and serve from baking dish. (Copyright, 1927, NEA Service, Inc.)

The Garden

BRILLIANT BLOOM FROM POOR SOIL

Two brilliant annuals, little grown but deserving of wide popularity in the garden, are the clarkias and godetias, both members of the evening primrose family and having the satiny texture to their bloom that characterizes so many of the plants of this tribe. They prefer a poor soil and are most brilliant on skimpily fare and wax gross and too lazy to give their best bloom if well fed.

For a patch of poor, dry soil try one or both of these annuals. The clarkias have been taken up by the greenhouse men and now are popular for winter cut flowers.

but they are just as handsome in the garden and very easily grown. The double varieties are best for cutting, ranging from white through light and deep pink to orange scarlet.

The godetias have large blooms of more brilliant coloring, often splashes of color on light grounds.

One of the older varieties of godetia, Rosamond, is a favorite for planting narrow waste strips where its brilliant satiny pink flowers make a fine show. These plants are best sown where they are to bloom, sowing the seed thinly; thin the plants to stand about eight inches apart. They like sun. There are dwarf forms which make very attractive little bushes. The godetias come in both double and single forms.

The new gladiolus-flowered forms, which come from English experts, are improvements on an old double form named Malmesbury, a favorite for cutting because of its fine spikes of double bluish flowers with scarlet centers. They grow to a height of two feet and are one of the season's novelties well worth a trial. But do not give them rich soil.
