"GOD CAN BE FOUND"—God then by searching God out. God's word then said out the Almighty and perfection. It is as high as heaven, what can then God deeper than hell, what can then know? Job 11:7.

"Big Bill" Thompson is again elected mayor of Chicago. About half a million people voted for him, yet a visit to Chicago doesn't give the impression that there are quite that many incompetents in town. Maybe some of his supporters think Bill talks worse than he will act.

Eastern Oregon is gratified at the recognition evidenced by Governor Patterson in the appointment of L. A. Wright, of Union, to the state game commission. He could probably not have made a selection that would have been more generally approved in this "neck of the woods." Mr. Wright is a true sportsman and will be a valuable man for the commission.

COOLIDGE AND OREGON

In a recent article by Robert Small, of a large metropolitan news syndicate, a report was published of political observations during a trip through Oregon, the chief impression being that Coolidge had suffered loss on "not one whit" of his popularity here. Small went on to say that there were no ill effects from the farm bill veto and that Coolidge could have the republican nomination if he wanted it.

Mr. Small is a widely known and widely quoted political writer, and far be it from us to administer so much as a pinprick to the balloon of one of the craft. Nevertheless, we are of the opinion that Mr. Small was at least not completely informed, if not ill informed, during his brief sojourn in Oregon. His report would indicate that he, in this instance, has a shortcoming common to many political writers, of believing what the politicians tell him and failing to find out what the voters think.

If Coolidge is nominated, there is every likelihood that he will be able to carry the state by a good margin. That is generally conceded. But when it comes down to a question of when the republicans should nominate, you are discussing a different question. In a presidential primary, according to the expressions of many former Coolidge boosters, the present chief executive would not win in Oregon. Either Lowden or Dawes, some observers say, would be given a noticeable preference in such a race.

The third term propaganda has little or nothing to do with this. Voters commend Coolidge's economy record and his choice of advisers in a cabinet. But they are very much inclined to favor an "all-around" candidate with qualities that the New England conservative can never possess. Lowden, they say, is not only sympathetic to agriculture but he is experienced and studied. He is also intimately acquainted with industry, with big business, and comes from a state that is more nearly representative of the whole country.

It is difficult to say how Oregon women would vote in a preferential primary, but Mrs. Coolidge's charm and popularity, combined with Cal's thrift, would have considerable influence, according to some feminine citizens. The choice, in any event, will not be a landslide for the party's present leader. It will not be political wisdom to count Oregon for Coolidge until after he is nominated, and with such a restriction it is possible that the state will never be counted for him at all.

CHOICE HOGS IN DOWNWARD TREND

Bring No More Than 16 Cents in Portland Market Trade Today

PORTLAND, Ore., Apr. 7 (AP)—Today's early local trade in country dressed hogs and poultry continued steady with yesterday's prices generally. Choice hogs are continuing weaker in price than for two weeks past, with few offerings bringing as much as 16 cents. Receipts of hogs were unusually light late yesterday, but this morning were arriving in quantities of good quality, seemingly sufficient to meet demands of buyers. Choice hogs were selling at from 17 1/2 to 18 cents. Heavy hogs at from 15 to 16 cents and lights at from 14 to 15 cents are still in good demand, while hogs at from 12 to 13 cents are not yet arriving in quantities to satisfy the volume of inquiry.

PANCRUST
SHORTENING

Lemon Cake
1 cupful Pancrust
1/2 cupfuls sugar
3 eggs, beaten light
1/2 teaspoonful salt
1 cupful milk
3 cupfuls flour
3 teaspoonfuls baking powder

Filling
1 egg, beaten light
1 lemon, grated rind, and juice
1 cupful sugar
1 tablespoonful Pancrust

Cream the Pancrust with the sugar. When fluffy, beat in the eggs and then alternately, the milk, and flour which has been sifted with the baking powder and salt. Beat well. Bake in three layers. To make filling: Cream Pancrust and sugar, beat in egg and add lemon juice and grated rind. Cook and stir in double boiler until mixture thickens. Spread filling between layers and dust powdered sugar on top.

Good cakes are easy to make with Pancrust. For Pancrust makes them light and even textured.

Use Pancrust—the wholesome vegetable fat.
