Glady's isn't it silly, calling a cat a skirt?
Billy (contemplating it): Yes, it is, but of course you come to think of it.

A woman teacher in trying to explain the meaning of the word "slowly," illustrated it by walking across the floor. When she asked the class to tell her how she walked she nearly fainted when a boy at the foot of the class shouted, "How-legged, ma'am!"

There seldom has been seen an underworld melodrama on the screen quite like "The People vs. Nancy Preston," a splendid production featuring Margaret De la Motte and John Bowers, which opened yesterday at the Sherry theater. This production, directed by Tom Forman, is high grade and was accorded a flattering reception by a large and appreciative audience.

The story tells of crook life in the New York underworld and in and outside Sing Sing prison. There is action—real action, throughout. It has an element of suspense and mystery that holds up throughout the picture. There is romance and heart interest aplenty.

Mike Horgan, released from Sing Sing, plans to "go straight" and provide for his buddy's wife and child, Nancy Preston and baby. The business of "going straight" is as easy as he thinks, for a series of circumstances arise, aided by a vindictive detective, that shortly throw him back in prison again, an innocent victim. He escapes, joins Nancy, who is wrongfully accused of murder and they leave New York only to be snared again by the ferret-like minions of the law. Then follows incident after incident that hold one tense until the smashing climax is reached.

"Arizona Bound"
At Star Today
And Tomorrow

California—land of romance, the Mecca for those who would follow the setting sun—is shown in all its glory in "Arizona Bound," the first production presenting Gary Cooper, Paramount's new Western star, now showing at the Star theater.

As the result of a definite policy adopted by officials of Famous Players-Lasky, all the Gary Cooper productions will be photographed in locations which will present the most beautiful back-grounds in the Western state, and will bring additional interest to these stirring tales of the great frontier.

Though Cooper, product of a Montana ranch, has been on the screen for but little more than a year, he is already recognized as a Western type of particular appeal. Tall, "rangy" and bronzed, it is freely predicted that he will swiftly become established as one of the prime favorites among the cowboy heroes. In his first picture as a star he is revealed as an actor of unusual ability, and as a handsome, hard-riding Westerner who is equally at home in a fight or a frolic.

The Cooper productions will be featured by the presence of "Flash," a magnificent Arabian stallion which is said to be the most beautiful horse ever shown on the screen.

The strong supporting cast assembled for "Arizona Bound" is headed by Betty Jewel, famous as "the girl with the velvet eyes," and El Brendel, one of the screen's newest and funniest comedians. The picture was directed by John Waters, who has been in charge of the filming of many of Paramount's Zane Grey productions.

In which they started a married life that lasted 77 happy years. At their diamond wedding they gave their code for happy marriage as hard work, early to bed, early to rise, mind your own business, tolerance and attendance at church.

Clara Bow At Arcade in "It" Today, Saturday

Comedy in Clara Bow's liveliest manner is the chief ingredient of the minor Glyn-Claire Badger production, "It," which is showing at the Arcade theater today and Saturday.

A vivacious shop-girl possessing the unusual power of "It," an invisible emanation said to exude from certain human beings making them irresistible to all with whom they come in contact, is the picture's central figure. With the aid of this strange power she wins the attention of the president of the department store in which she works and causes him to fall in love with her.

The romance and misunderstanding which follow, leading up to a thrilling yacht wreck and rescue far out on the ocean, is presented with exceptional skill and lavishness. Antonio Moreno plays the leading male role. William Austin, Priscilla Banner, Julia Swayne Gordon and Jacqueline Gadsden are also in the cast.

MINUTIME DAGNA SCORES 286 IN 9 GAMES

SCARBORO, Me.—In earning a total of 286 points in nine games in which she played forward for Scarborough high school, little Dagna Olesen has made a bid for the high scoring record in basketball.

Her teammates believe she set another mark for the state when she scored 28 field goals for a total of 56 points against the Iuxton high girls. In only two games did Dagna fail to score more than 20 points. The dynamite player's accuracy in shooting field baskets offsets the disadvantage of her height.
