Portland Easter Egg Hunt Lures Many Children

PORTLAND, Ore., Apr. 16 (AP)—Prospects for Easter weather for Portland and surrounding country were not very encouraging. "Unsettled with occasional showers, temperature below normal and northwest winds," was the best the weather bureau could promise.

Portland kiddies were given an Easter treat today when an egg hunt was indulged in by hundreds of boys and girls under 12 years of age at Laurelhurst park. Sponsored by The Oregonian and the Olds, Wortman and King department store, the event filled the park with eager youngsters despite raw spring weather. The children gathered in a playground adjacent to the park, and at a signal they were led into the park to start scurrying among bushes in a hunt for hidden eggs.

NEW YORK—The world progresses. "You can't unscramble an egg," said the late J. P. Morgan, but E. F. W. Alexanderson, who is working on a television process, explains it as follows: "You take seven beams of light, scramble them all up and put them on a radio wave. Then at the receiving end you take that same wave and unscramble it".

Ranger and his master, however both have a chance to redeem themselves and when this is accomplished, they claim the love of the two who have been waiting for them.

The picture was made under the splendid direction of Henry McCarthy who is an authority on the subject of handling dogs. The story and continuity were written by Ewart Adamson. The cast includes such favorites as: Robert Ramsey, Lotus Thompson, Eddy Chandler, Clark Comstock, Ada Mae Vaughn and Mary Dow.

Comedy showing "Hold Still."

Fashion Show Scene In Ralston Film

A fashion show which for lavishness and color outshines anything ever staged in Paris is one of the scores of unusual and interesting highlights in Esther Ralston's first starring vehicle "Fashions For Women" the Paramount photoplay which comes to the Star theater Sunday and Monday.

More than thirty exclusive creations, from aviation costumes for women to formal afternoon teagowns, are worn by Miss Ralston and fifteen beautiful mannequins. They were especially designed by Travis Banton, noted fashion creator, following a search through the style centers of the world for the latest information upon the forthcoming season's trend in wearing apparel.

"Fashions For Women" was made for the screen by Dorothy Arzner, one of the first women ever promoted to the position of director in the history of films. Supporting Miss Ralston are Einar Hanson and Raymond Hatton.

"My Official Wife" Is At Sherrys Sunday

"My Official Wife," the Warner Bros. picture, which opens at the Sherry theater on Sunday for a run of 3 days is a screen version of the stage melodrama by Charles Blaney, which had a sensational success all over the world in the 'nineties. It is a tale of Russia and Austria in the days when Czars and Emperors rode the storm of swirling intrigue with elaborate elegance. Founded upon the story by Archibald Clavering Gunter, who had in a high degree the almost lost art of creating thrills, it seems as vividly alive today according to all reports, as when it first was produced. The screen version, by Graham Baker, was directed by Paul Stein, the Viennese, who was imported by Warner Bros., as a second Lubitsch. "My Official Wife" is his first American production.

Irene Rich and Conway Tearle are featured in the leading roles. Miss Rich appears as a Russian Countess who goes out in masquerade as a peasant and is captured by six young noblemen, who hold her for a night in an inn, where they cast lots for her. Mr. Tearle plays the Grand Duke's son, who wins her in a lottery. The swiftmoving story tells of the Countess's revenge.

The supporting cast includes Stuart Holmes, John Miljam, Gustav von Seyffertitz, Emil Chautard and Jane Winton.

Comedy showing "Hot Feet".

Composer On Sunday Vaudeville At Arcade

Vaudeville at its best introducing West and Bird in a song cycle of their latest hits together with comedy bits, songs, and dances dovetailed in a mammoth program will be seen at the Arcade theater on Sunday.

The headline feature is the popular song composer, Gene West, the composer of: "Broadway Rose", "June Night", "You Know You Belong to Somebody Else". Assisted by Violet Bird. They will present a song cycle of Mr. West's latest hits. Dawn and Daye Trio in a musical revue "In 'A' Flat" embraces everything from opera to the latest popular melodies in "Tin Pan Alley". Simms and Realty in "Give In" comprise one of the best comedy offerings presented this season. Sherman and Wallace in "Just Like That" appear in an offering of bright lines, eccentric dancing, and comedy song hits. Douglas Alone proffers "All in a Bend". A feature picture will also be shown.

Daughter-in-Law Testifies For Mrs. Eva McGee

HILLSBORO, Ore., Apr. 16 (AP)—Mrs. Catherine Travis, of Coquille, Ore., adopted daughter of Mrs. Eva N. McGee, was on the stand this morning when Mrs. McGee's trial on a charge of first degree murder in connection with the death of her husband, Dr. W. G. McGee was resumed. Mrs. Travis testified at a session last night that there had been no discord between her foster parents. The case was expected by court attaches to reach the jury tonight. The defense put on a procession of witnesses late yesterday including Mrs. McGee and her son, Donald, age 17.

Dressed in a black coat and wearing a black satin hat touched with white, Mrs. McGee sat with her hands folded in her lap during her testimony. Before she concluded she broke down and began to cry. Her testimony related mostly to the condition of her husband during his last illness. She said he had complained of his kidneys. Donald's testimony related to his father's general condition.

Railroad Men Testify

Several Southern Pacific trainmen who lived at The Netherlands, the hotel at Tillamook which Mrs. McGee conducted testified of friendly and affectionate relations between Mrs. McGee and her husband. Some neighbors gave similar testimony.

Dr. I. C. Brill, assistant professor at the University of Oregon medical school, a diagnostician, made the positive assertion that Dr. McGee's death was not due to poison but he declared that 90 per cent of the evidence of which there was proof showed uremic poisoning, and that ten per cent was for a poison the state charged was administered but for which there was no proof.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y.—A table on which General Grant played poker is a possibility for use at the 19th hole. It is proposed to devote to golf a 250-acre farm where the general spent many summers. The mansion contains many mementoes.
