BE THANKFUL

Though you're been walloped by dull care,
And you have been disgraced;
Be thankful your eyes are not where
Your two ears are now placed.

Though you are down and you can't win,
And everything looks black;
Be thankful that your mouth's not in
The middle of your back.

Two children, a brother and sister, had a dispute which ended in a fight. The little boy was on a visit to his aunt's, and wishing to relate the affair, he said:

"Me and sister had a fight."

"And who whipped?" the aunt asked.

"Dad did," answered the little fellow honestly.

SCHOOL DAZE

The best thing that happens in April is Easter. The best thing that happens in Easter is no school. Easter has a lot to do with eggs. The best kind of eggs and the best kind of candy is Easter eggs. They keep on tasting best as good, even when you are old enuff to know they are not really rabbits eggs, because they ain't any sutch a thing. People also take a chickens eggs at Easter and die them so many different colors that if you showed them to the chicken it would think they was layed by somebody elts.

BROTHER PAINTS AUTHOR'S PORTRAIT

NEW YORK—An unusual case of talent in two arts in one family comes to light with the exhibition now at the Ferargil galleries where Sherwood Anderson, famous novelist, becomes merely one of the "Anderson brothers," and Karl Anderson holds the place of honor as one of America's noteworthy artists.

The only portrait of Sherwood, the author, is here exhibited for the first time by his brother Karl, who painted it. The latter, about 40 years old, has been called a "preacher in paint" because of his numerous allegorical canvases.

Mr. Anderson lives at Westport, Conn., where there is a large colony of American writers and artists.

AT THE THEATERS

New York City Is Fox Film Locale

New York, popular summer resort of a million summer bachelors, is the setting of the screen version of Warner Fabian's latest best seller, "Summer Bachelors", which Allan Dwan produced for Fox Films. The production will begin a three day engagement at the Arcade theater beginning today.

Madge Bellamy plays the role of the audacious Derry Thomas, who specializes in understanding the summer bachelor—that distinct variety of misunderstood husband looking for someone to understand him during his wife's vacation. Allan Forrest plays the leading role opposite her.

Among the summer bachelors are Matt Moore, Hale Hamilton, Charles Winninger and Walter Catlett. Olive Tell plays the part-time wife of Winninger. Clifford Holland and Leila Hyams portray the secondary leads.

Fifth Avenue, Riverside Drive, Long Island Sound, country house-parties, dances on fashionable hotel roofs and in Westchester roadhouses—these are a few of the settings for "Summer Bachelors."

Youth, romantic moonlight, mystery, thrilling speed, comedy, impulsive adventure—these are a few of the ingredients in this engrossing photodrama.

"My Official Wife" Showing At Sherrys

Time was when Czarist Russia, with its background of smouldering passions of plot and counterplot, of Nihilitss, clattering Cossacks, colorful peasants and sable-coated nobles, afforded an ideal background for melodramatic stories. Most of all old-fashioned melodrama—to the dust-pile. But one has been dug up, refurbished, and adapted for motion picture use, and today it lives with abounding vitality upon the screen.

ter's story, "My Official Wife," the This is Archibald Clavering Gunter's story "My Official Wife" the Warner picture at the Sherry theater. Having served its time as a stage melodrama, written by Charles Hlaney, its revival on the screen shows that it has the stuff that does not die. It is melodrama, naked and unashamed, but what gorgeous, thumping, heart-pounding melodrama it is!

Helene, a Russian Countess, has gone to a masquerade ball, disguised as a peasant. Six young nobles capture her and drag her off to a wayside inn, where they cast lots for her. She escapes at dawn, swearing vengeance upon her betrayer. Then she herself feels the force of the old Czarist regime, for her betrayer is a Grand Duke's son. She is sentenced to Siberia, with the Nihilists. Rescued by the men who had taken her to the inn, she flees to Vienna, where she becomes a singer in a cabaret. From then on, the suspense is kept at high tension in a Viennese medley of gaiety and a Petrograd pot-pourri of passion.

For the magnificent pace at which the action goes, credit belongs to the Austrian director, Paul Stein, who was imported to this country by Warner Bros., and who made his first American production with this picture. It is a picture of spendid backgrounds, beautiful photography, stirring action, and excellent acting.

The principal acting honors are shared by Irene Rich, as the lovely Countess and Conway Tearle, as her betrayer. Others in the cast include Jane Winton, Stuart Holmes, Gustav von Seyffertitz, Emile Chautard, John Miljan. Distinguished credit also should be given to Graham Baker who is responsible for the exceptionally fine scenario.

Comedy "Hot Feet."

Esther Ralston Starred In Breezy Picture

Introducing an array of gowns and styles surpassing anything ever before witnessed upon a motion picture screen, Esther Ralston's first starring vehicle "Fashions For Women" which opened at the Star theater last night also unfolded a breezy story that never lagged.

There were breakfast, luncheon, afternoon, tea and evening gowns, street and house dresses, sports outfits, negligees—in fact, every type and style of women's wearing apparel ever created.

"Fashions For Women," was directed for the screen by Dorothy Arzner, one of the two women film directors in California. Whoever conceived the idea of having a member of the feminine sex handle the megaphone deserves tremendous credit. It is doubtful if any man could have filmed the picture with the deftness and tact employed by Miss Arzner.

The locale of "Fashions For Women" is Paris, France, style center of the world. Outstanding in the production is a gigantic fashion show during which Miss Ralston and fifteen beautiful mannequins display scores of interesting wearing apparel.

Supporting Miss Ralston in the cast of the photoplay are Einar Hanson, noted Swedish leading man, and Raymond Hatton, famous comedian.

This feature picture and "Smith's Picnic," a Mack Sennettt comedy with Raymond McKee, Ruth Hiatt and Baby Mary Ann Jackson will be shown at the Star theater for the last time tonight.

UNION PERSONALS

UNION (Special) — Mrs. Viola Parker and Miss Ella Pursel motored to Elgin Thursday, where they spent the day visiting Mrs. H. M. McComas and her daughter, Mrs. Gene Moran.

Mrs. Ralph Smith and Mrs. Ben Jory were La Grande visitors Tuesday afternoon.

The fire department was called out to the Bert Knight residence in North Union Tuesday morning at about 11 o'clock, the roof having caught on fire from a spark from the chimney. The fire was discovered before it had gained much headway and was easily extinguished, the damage amounting to about $25.

Among the Union people shopping in La Grande Saturday were Mrs. Frank Conner and son, Burton, Mrs. C. P. Holly, Mrs. El Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cline, Mrs. Tony Smith and daughter, Jane, Roy Conklin, John Wortman and daughter, Gladys, and Mrs. Bert Knight and daughter Amaryllis.

Mrs. A. E. Huff, of Union, was a La Grande visitor Sunday evening at the home of her son, A. L. Huff.

Raymond Pitts, principal of the Union high school, returned to his home here Saturday evening after spending a few days in Spokane, Wash.

Miss Helen Johnson, senior in the high school class, is absent from school this week, having had her tonsils removed.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilson, of La Grande, were Thursday visitors in Union at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hert Knight.

Frank Conner, of Conner's store, was a business visitor at Enterprise Tuesday.

COVE PERSONALS

COVE (Special). — Mrs. Henry Muir has returned to her home here after an extended visit with her mother at Roseburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Weimer have moved to Five Points, near Hilgard. Their daughter, Mrs. Fred Rees, accompanied them. The other daughters and one son will remain here until school is out.

Mrs. Fred Self and Mrs. Woodruff were here for the apron sale, from their home near Union.

Mrs. Elizabeth Sanford, who has been visiting friends at Cove while she has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Daniel, left last week for her home in Flagstaff, Ariz. She will spend some time with relatives in Salt Lake City and Price, Utah, en route home.
