It was a busy day at the butcher shop. The butcher yelled to the boy who helped him: "Hurry up, John. Cut off Mrs. Murphy's leg, break Mrs. Jones' bones, and don't forget to slice Miss Johnson's tongue."

"Do you act towards your wife as you did before you married her?"
 "Exactly. I remember just how I used to act when I first fell in love with her. I used to hang over the fence in front of her house and gaze at her shadow on the curtain, afraid to go in. And I act just the same now when I get home late."

Don't send your girl to college. Where life is hard and free. But keep her in the kitchen. Where her daughters ought to be.

Don't send your girl to college. To taste of learning's fruit. For then the young idea is often taught to shoot.

Don't let her be a maid. Let her be a girl. Let her get her own bread. And marry rich a break.

First thought: "I wouldn't wear a one-piece bathing suit, they're too impractical."
 Second thought: "I haven't much of a shape either."

To some men golf is pleasure; to others, an excuse for not going to church.

Bride: My husband had a hope chest, too, before we were married.
 Friend: What did he have in it?
 Bride: Why, about a bushel of socks, waiting to be darned.

It isn't such a rotten world. Comparatively few people pop their gum.

to his ranch in the Leap section the latter part of the week.
 May Walker returned to school at Enterprise the first of the week after two weeks absence because of the serious illness of his brother.
 L. V. Lathrop of Leap was a business visitor here recently.
 C. F. Harmon and wife were Enterprise visitors the latter part of the week.
 Irvin Gastin, who has been working for H. C. Harting, returned home the first of the week.
 F. A. Downing was an Enterprise business visitor the last of the week.

The basket social held at the Lower Valley school house last week is reported to have been largely attended.
 T. G. Johnson went to Florn the first of the week, where he auctioned a side. He returned home the last of the week.
 W. A. Elmer and wife of Darlap creek were trading in town recently. Mr. Elmer states farming will start in that section in a few days if the weather remains fair, and that many of the farmers have been busy fighting the ground squirrels with poison grain and poison bait, both of which methods have proven very successful.

John Thomas arrived here the latter part of the week from New York. He is on his way to Troy for a visit with his brother Dr. H. M. Thomas. This is his first trip to the west, and was much impressed with the scenery through the Wallowa canyon.

AT THE THEATERS

Sherrys Feature Is Story Of Old Russia

"My Official Wife," the melodramatic picture, at Sherrys is the first American production to be made by Paul Stein, the Austrian director, who was imported to this country by Warner Bros. and who has been hailed as a second Lubash.

The story he has handled deals with Petrograd and Vienna before the war. Helene, Countess Orloff, is affianced to Ivan, a Russian nobleman, and they have an engagement to go to a unrequited ball together. Ivan, however, has mixed his dates, and he finds it more important to his happiness to keep an engagement for that evening with a notorious demimondaine. As a result, Helene, who is wearing a peasant costume, decides to go to the ball alone.

Her peasant disguise and her distinguished beauty take the eye of six roystering young nobles, who force her to accompany them to a wakeful inn. There, is a riotous orgy, they cast lots for her, and she is won by a Grand Duke's son, named Alexander.

She consents at dawn and at home confesses her humiliation to her father and Ivan. They are furious and Ivan breaks his engagement. Helene swears revenge upon her betrayer, and the sensational story that develops is full of incident that ranges from the road to Siberia, to the gay cafes of Vienna, and back through the turmoil of post-war Russia.

Irene Rich, has a vividly picturesque role as Helene, Conway Tearle the gay and festive Alexander, Jane Winton is cast as the lady of the ball-world; Gustav von Seyffertitz as the Grand Duke; Stuart Holman as Ivan; Emil Chautau as Count Orloff, and John Miljan as Nicholas, one of the roystering noblemen.

Comedy "Hot Feet."

Two Feature Pictures Showing At The Star

Claire Windsor William Haines and Harry Carey are featured in "A Little Journey," a new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture directed by Robt. Z. Leonard, which is one of the feature pictures at the Star theater today and Wednesday. This novel film, a picturization of the Rachel Crothers stage success, features an amusing and dramatic fashion the adventures encountered by a young girl in crossing the continent. Almost all of the scenes take place in a train.

Beautiful Claire Windsor does some of the most effective work of her career in a young traveler harassed by the attentions of an impudently handsome young man, played by William Haines. His efforts to become acquainted with her furnish much comedy and prove successful when the girl loses her purse and is forced to accept train-fare from him. From this point a friendship begins which ends in a romance.

Harry Carey plays the part of an unsuccessful suitor, and Claire McDowell and Lawford Davidson complete the cast.

The other feature picture that is also a part of the Star's program today and Wednesday is "Code of the Northwest," the melodramatic film thriller starring Sandow, who plays a trapper in this picture, comes mighty close to earning the description as "the world's greatest dog."

Sandow performs innumerable thrilling stunts in this picture, which has an absolutely gripping story centered around a man hunt

"Summer Bachelors" At Arcade Theater

How does poor hubby spend his leisure hours while his wife is away on her vacation? This question is answered in a very interesting and entertaining manner at the Arcade theater where Fox Films, Allan Dwan directed, "Summer Bachelors," had its first showing yesterday.

Based on Warner Fabian's sensational novel of the same name, this highly diverting film promises to surpass the novel in popular esteem. The story deals with those husbands who give for telephone booths to call up their favorite blondes as soon as their wives part on the outgoing train.

The beautiful Madeleine Bellamy is one of the blondes in "Summer Bachelors" as there is some scene for the leoparded husband in the story. A cast of outstanding stars support Miss Bellamy, including Allan Forrest, in the role of Tony Landor, the only real bachelor in the story. Matt Moore in the part of Walter Blakely is a typical summer bachelor, however, while Leila Hyams is the summer girl, Hale Hamilton, Charles Winnier, Walter Catlett and Cosmo Brown are other well-known stars of the stage and screen who are bachelors for the summer only.

Give Well plays the highly diverting role of the wife who has gone to the country but who knows her husband's weakness for pretty girls.

All in all, "Summer Bachelors" is one of those rare combinations of cast, story and direction, which go to make up a nearly perfect picture.

POSITIVELY SHOCKING

NEW YORK—It was "positively shocking" to Frieda Hempel, singer, to read "ridiculous headlines" over accounts of two murder cases and she wrote a protest to the New York Times, which was not the major printing the headlines. "Mrs. Snyder's father, Wm. 'Bill', and 'a nephew of doctor sentenced to die' she read. 'It makes me unhappy to read such unkind treatment,' she wrote, contrasting an 'appalling and a poor man who killed in despair when his body died of diphtheria.'
