BUTTER MARKET TREND THE SAME

Wholesale Prices Continue to Weaken—Eggs Are Fairly Steady

PORTLAND, Ore., Apr. 27 (AP)—The local wholesale butter market continues to weaken. Extra cubes are down another cent today to 40 1/2c. Standards are unchanged but the two lower grades are each off 1/2 cent following trading on the dairy exchange late yesterday. The price of prints and butterfat hold steady automatically, due to the stability of standards.

Eggs were at a fairly steady price in today's early wholesale trade. Fresh mediums were up a cent to 28 cents but other grades were unchanged. Receipts continue strong and there is a considerable buying for storage. Yesterday's storage amounted to 507 cases.

Dressed meats and poultry were steady in today's opening trade. New potatoes, more plentiful, declined another cent in yesterday's closing trade. Good stocks are selling at 5 and 6 cents per pound.

Asparagus is coming faster from valley cutters at from $2.15 to $2.25 per dozen bunches. Recent arrival California stock sold at from 13 to 14 cents per pound.

AS THE FELLOW SAYS:

If we can just hold out one more year, I think then we can probably make it all right. We sold another Superior Black Hawk manure spreader yesterday. They have went like thunder gliding on greased lightning. We have just one more left. If you want to buy a steam shovel we don't sell 'em, but we have the round cornered shovel. If you want a rake in some dough, we sell the rakes, and keep the dough. We have hoes for sale, they are not made of silk or rubber, but the neighbors would probably turn to rubber if he saw you in the garden using one.

One reason why we can sell so reasonable is because we do not have to charge anything off for bad account. Our loss has been less than $20,000 in three years time. You see we do a cash business. It is getting the time of year when people are going to need mowers and hay racks. Here is the place to get them.
