of the farmers state they will

Oscar Maxwell, of Middle Valley, has been at the U. G. Couch ranch in the hills the past several days doing some plowing for spring grain, and reworking some of the small spots in his winter killed out this spring. He expects to reseed where the killing has extended over any amount of ground.

Sam Meek recently delivered a load of potatoes to the Thrift Grocers.

Miss Churchill, of Los Angeles, Cal., who has been nursing Blanche Walker, of Leap, for the past several days, has returned here. All the children of the Walker family, who have been very sick of the "flu" are reported to be much improved.

Sam Meek delivered some fat hogs to J. L. Maxwell here the latter part of the week. Farmers who are marketing hogs have been considerably disappointed in the sudden break in the market, putting the price here to about 9 cents, which is the lowest paid for top hogs in many months.

George Cousins and Irvin Gas-itors the last of the week.

WALLOWA PERSONALS

WALLOWA (Special)—The county road crew has been busy a few days the past week on some of the roads in the hill sections. Where the prairie and drag have been used, the roads are getting worked into fine condition for auto travel.

Elmer Osborne has been suffering from a bad case of blood-poisoning the past few days as a result of scratching his right hand on some wire.

Boy Gastin is working for H. C.
Beggs at his ranch in Lower Valley. Mr. Beggs recently finished seedling a crop of spring wheat at the Minor ranch in the hills east of here.

Mrs. Ed Bell and daughters, of Whiskey Creek, were visitors here the last of the week.

J. P. Gregory, a farmer from the Smith Mountain section, was a business visitor in town recently.

OFFICE
CAT
TRADE MARK REG.
By Junius

A countryman came to visit some relatives and to see the sights. He remained until patience on the part of his hosts, a married couple, ceased to be a virtue.

"Don't you think, my dear fellow," remarked the husband one day, "that your wife and children must miss you?"

"Hah! thought of this," was the calm reply. "Thanks for the suggestion; I'll send for them."

"I see you have a notice 'We Aim to Please'," remarked the impatient customer to the store manager.

"Yes," replied the manager,
"that is our motto."

"Well," said the customer, "you ought to take a little time off for target practice."

It has never been discovered where people who live beyond their income get the money.

"Are you positive that the defendant was drunk?"

"No doubt," growled Officer Raynor.

"Why are you so mighty certain about it?"

"Well," replied Raynor, "I saw him put a penny in the patrol box on Fourth street and then he looked up at the clock on the Presbyterian church and roared, 'Gawd!
I've lost 14 pounds weight!'"

"Why did you stop singing in the choir?"

"Because one day I didn't sing and somebody asked if the organ had been fixed."

There's many a hip 'twixt the tip and the lip.

Light eating and deep breathing lead to quick and clear thinking.

AT THE THEATERS

Acord Comes To The Star In Thriller

A thrilling chase through rain and mud, reminiscent of Balto's dash to Nome, Alaska, is made by Art Acord in "Lazy Lightning," the Blue Streak Western which plays at the Star theater today only.

In both cases the purpose was similar. In Balto's long drive he and his driver were taking pneu-monic anti-toxin to save the inhabitants of the town. In "Lazy Lightning," Buddy, the horse, takes Acord to town to get antitoxin to save the life of a child stricken with the dread disease.

In one of the most amazingly wonderful rides ever staged before the camera Buddy bears Acord at tremendous speed over mounds, mud holes, on and on through the driving blinding rain until at last he arrives at the doctor's home.

Buddy's sure-footed running and Acord's skillful riding are such as to draw the greatest admiration for both man and beast in this overpowering race with death. And then the race back—thrilling, fearful, masterful, heroic until the arrival just in time to save the child's life.

This is one of the most distinguishable chases ever gracing a Western. In its supporting cast are Ray Arney, Wampus Star of 1926, Vin Moore, comedy director, Rex de Rosell, Italian Count, Hobby Gordon, famous for his work in "His People" and "The Cohens and Kllys." Arthur Morrison and George K. French.

Also showing a Bunter Brown comedy.

"Gorilla Hunt"
Showing Last
Time Tonight

"The Gorilla Hunt," Ben Burbridge's excellent picture of the Belgian Congo, and the mighty gorillas that dwell in its remotest parts, was shown last night at the Sherry theater, where it thrilled and delighted a large audience.

The action opens in the river port at the mouth of the Congo, and the first thousand miles of the journey are made on a small steamer between banks lined with the primeval forests.

In the river mighty herds of hippopotami lie on the muddy bars, alligators like pointed long watch and wait in the shallows. Strange snakes, some of them with death in the slightest scratch of their fangs, sun themselves on the banks, or swing like living pendants from the trees. When the expedition reached Stanleyville it had to start on a trek of over two thousand miles through the country of peoples that are unknown and to be feared. At the head of a safari that he did not trust Burbridge started across country at the head of about 200 natives. Passing through the land of filed tooth cannibals, and the haunts of tiny pygmies, who hurt death in the shape of poisoned arrows, he at last reaches the foot of Mt. Mikeno where the gorilla is to be found.

The picture is one long proce-sion of thrills, the highlight being when a huge hairy monster, a man-like ape, six feet tall, weighing four hundred and fifty pounds, beating his breast and clamping his hideous yellow fangs, charges the camera.

Comedy showing "Slow Down."

"Taxi! Taxi!" At Arcade Is Fast and Funny

"Taxi! Taxi!," a swiftly moving and extremely funny farce comedy, is the feature attraction at the Arcade theater today and Wednesday.

With Edward Everett Horton, the star of "Poker Faces," "The Whole Town's Talking," and a dozen other popular productions, in the featured role, and with a splendid cast in support, the picture is without dull or serious moments.

It opens with a laugh, continues on its devious way with chuckles piling upon each other, and ends with as uproarious a climax as has been seen on the screen in a long while.

Possibly its funniest sequence—and one which will appeal to everyone who has ever attempted to evade a speeding cop or find a place to park his car—is the scene in which Edward Everett Horton unsuccessfully attempts to find a place to leave his automobile in a downtown district.

Prepious, leading zones, forbidden areas of all kinds are found and from each he is chased away by the zealous cop on the beat.
He finds a spot of clear pavement and while he is backing his a flivver back in ahead and fills the vacancy.

The picture is quite original in plot, with many highly amusing situations, and is splendidly acted throughout.

Marian Nixon, tiny and beautiful sprite that she is, plays the feminine lead and makes any audience that Horton does in order to be in her presence seem quite natural.

Burr McIntosh, Lucien Littlefield, William V. Mong, Edward Martindel, Freeman Wood and others are in the supporting cast.

An Indiana jury of women brought in a verdict in 20 minutes. We don't know where the sale was held that day.
