MENUS

By Sister Mary
BREAKFAST—Stewed rhubarb, crisp broiled bacon, creamed potatoes, bran muffins, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Creamed fish in rice cases, radishes, toasted muffins, pear spider cake, milk, tea.

DINNER—Cold sliced roast beef, twice baked sweet potatoes, grapefruit salad, date and nut pudding, milk, coffee.

When a cereal is not served for breakfast, muffins of some sort are always most acceptable. If a cereal is served, toasted white bread is a satisfactory accompaniment. The crispness of the toast contrasts well with the softness of the cereal.

Pear Spider Cake
Two tablespoons butter, 1/2 to 3/4 cup brown sugar, 1 pint can pears, 4 tablespoons broken walnut meats, 3 eggs, 1 cup granulated sugar, 1 cup flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 cup water, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla.

Melt butter in a seven or eight-inch iron frying pan. Sprinkle evenly with brown sugar. Drain pears from sirup and place out side up over sugar. Sprinkle with chopped nuts. Beat eggs until very light, using a Dover beater. Beat in sugar and water and vanilla, continuing to use beater. Mix and sift flour, salt and baking powder and stir into egg mixture. Pour over pears in spider and bake on middle grate of a moderately hot oven for 20 minutes. The cake should be placed in the oven so that the moist heat will be at the bottom. Turn out, up side down on a large plate, and serve with or without a garnish of whipped cream.

The brown sugar will melt in the baking and form a mild and pleasant caramel. If the sugar is caramelized before baking it becomes rather bitter during the additional cooking.

Princess Maud, daughter of the Princess Royal and the Duke of Fife, is fond of out door living and prefers the hobby of raising chickens to the social whirl of London, where she and her husband are always in great demand.

Lord Carnegie, son of the tenth Earl of Southesk, devotes one of his farms to a herd of Ayrshires. The most improved hygienic methods of milking are in force at the Elsieck dairy farm, and produce is shipped as far as Aberdeen and some other Scottish cities, while Princess Maud sends some of her eggs as far as London.

BRAINS, BEAUTY

She's not much blazer than a minute, still in her teens, but she proves that brains and beauty do combine.
