EAST OREGON WILL OPPOSE RAIL PROJECT

The Dalles and La Grande Take Positive Stand at Meeting Here

U. P. EXTENSION HELD AS MENACE

Proposed Line to Lewiston Would Leave This City on Branch Line, Delegates Are Told.

Preliminary steps toward the organization of a formidable group to oppose construction of the proposed Homestead-Lewiston water grade railroad line, favored by the Idaho and Washington public utility commissions, were taken here this morning when delegates from The Dalles, Pendleton, Baker, Union, Cove and La Grande chambers of commerce met in the city hall at 11 o'clock.

The problem will be thoroughly studied from every angle before more definite action is taken but the consensus of the meeting this morning was that the project would be a detriment to all Eastern Oregon now connected with the U. P. main line.

The Dalles and La Grande have already committed themselves as opposing the extension plans. Pendleton, Union and Cove, while not appearing to an observer to have any inclination to favor the project, are not yet ready to take a definite stand, preferring to gather more data before reaching a decision.

Baker's Situation

Baker county is in a situation all its own. Baker and the west half of the county is mostly opposed to the plan but the eastern part, around the Homestead country, favors the construction plan.

H. E. Coolidge, president of the local chamber of commerce, was elected chairman of the meeting and Earl Reynolds was elected secretary.

Mr. Coolidge, after telling of a recent meeting held in Portland, and explaining the project in general, called upon Edward C. Pease,

LOADING ZONES EXPLAINED BY CITY MANAGER

A misunderstanding as to the uses of the new five-minute loading zones, now being laid out in the business section, was cleared up today by City Manager W. C. Cress, who announces that the zones are for the convenience of the motoring public. Stores both and on the alleys, he announced, and will not use these zones for freight.

He urges that all using the zones, when the regular "stalls" are filled, drive in parallel and drive to the end of the zone, so that two cars can utilize the space. Drive directly out with the traffic instead of backing, he urged.

No double parking will be allowed on the streets for unloading passengers or freight. He urges all to take advantage of the new zones which, he said, will eliminate danger of accident.

HOW MANY HOMES IN LA GRANDE?

People who have distributed food samples from house to house throughout the city say that between sixteen and eighteen hundred packages are required to do the job. The Observer distributes over 1700 copies in La Grande every evening through its carrier system and over 300 additional copies through the mail in the immediate vicinity of the city. Stages take bundles of papers in every direction each evening to smaller towns—and a total of over 2000 families in this trading area read The Observer regularly, the highest mark in the paper's history.

In no other way can a manufacturer or business man so completely cover this territory at such a low cost per reader as in The Observer's advertising columns. And there is no substitute for Observer reader-interest.

Stat[illegible]ntion Program[illegible] Memorial Add[illegible]s. H. S. Brownto[illegible]

Pleasant weather favored the opening day of the 16th annual state P. E. O. convention in session May 23, 24 and 25 at Wallowa lake with Chapter R of Enterprise acting as hostess.

Approximately 100 members, including delegates from the state at large as well as from the Enterprise and La Grande chapters, are in attendance.

Registration took the greater part of Monday's program. The first official assembly met Monday evening when a program including welcoming addresses by Mrs. Alice Scott, president of the supreme chapter and Mrs. E. Maybelle Simpkins, state president, was held. Talks were also made by former state presidents, including Mrs. Ella Herman, the first president of the Oregon organization. An informal reception followed this program with the Enterprise chapter in charge.

Memorial Service

Today's program featured a memorial service for those members who passed away during the year. Mrs. H. S. Brownton of this city delivered the memorial address and Mrs. A. L. Richardson, also of La Grande, sang two numbers with Mrs. Edward Holmes as accompanist.

This evening a cowboy supper with the visiting men participating will be held. A number of La Grande men left this afternoon to join their wives for the evening.

Donations For Flood Refugees Still Coming In

Even though La Grande's quota toward the Mississippi valley relief fund has been more than doubled, donations are still being received by Mrs. C. N. Palmer, chairman of the local Red Cross chapter, and by the Salvation Army.

Early last week a check showed that La Grande had already sent about $1116.45 to the stricken area, $1066.45 of which was sent through the Red Cross chapter and the Salvation Army and the remainder through lodges and other organizations.

Since then the local Knights of Pythias lodge made a donation through Mrs. Palmer of $50, the Pythian Sisters donated $10, the Altar society of the Catholic church, $25, the mothers of the senior class of the high school $3.55, the amount being left after the entertainment for the senior students on commencement night, and the Carnation club, $15.

Total Now $1112

The Salvation Army has also received $2 more from Chapter I of P. E. O., which with that received by the Red Cross chapter brings the total amount raised by the two organizations in La Grande to $1112.

To help increase the fund the local B. P. O. Elks lodge will sell on all painting, painted by Mrs. Harry F. Meyers. The picture is now on display in the window of Cliff's Clothiery.

Mark Broom Lands In Prison Again

EUGENE, May 24 (AP).—Mark Broom is back in jail, after being a fugitive from the Marion county jail at Salem since last December. Broom was not very talkative as to his whereabouts since escaping jail at Salem, but admitted he had often been in Eugene, and has frequently sighted Lane officers while here. He has written a poem about his escape from the Marion county, and he recited the poem to officers here today. He showed no signs of chagrin at his capture today.

Whether Broom will be returned to Salem to complete his sentence there, or will start one of his other two sentences here has not been determined.

SENTENCED TO PEN

MEDFORD, May 24 (AP)—Roy Coward of Ashland who ten days ago with E. H. Suttickle alias William Allen, still a fugitive escaped from the county jail, indicted with George Bowman for the burglary of the Swift company packing house at Ashland, yesterday afternoon, entered a plea of guilty, and was sentenced to two years in the state prison by Circuit Judge C. M. Thomas. Bowman entered a similar plea and received the same sentence.

Baptists Gather In La Grande In Convention Today

Delegates from Many Eastern Oregon Points Present—Official Welcome Tonight.

With delegates in attendance from Ontario, Burns, Haines, Baker and other Baker and Union county points, the annual meeting of Grande Ronde Baptist association began this afternoon at [illegible] o'clock. The meeting started with a devotional led by the Rev. Mr. Mauger, of Haines, which was followed by the reading of the church letters.

At 2:30 o'clock the delegates divided, the World Wide guild having a separate program.

To Name Committees.

The appointment of committees and a round-table discussion on associational needs was scheduled to take place during the session of association proper.

Miss Louise Hunderup, of Portland, was to have charge of the World Wide guild meeting.

This evening at 7:15 o'clock the address of welcome will be given by the Rev. G. A. Pollard, pastor of the First Baptist church here, and the response will be given by the Rev. A. O. Broyles, moderatory, of Ontario.

To Give Pageant

At 7:30 o'clock members of the World Wide guild will present a missionary pageant, to which the public is invited.

The annual sermon will be heard following the pageant. This will be given by the Rev. Mr. Rossier, of Baker.

All delegates and visitors to the association will be the guests of the local church at dinner this evening at 5:30 o'clock in the church basement. The World Wide guild members will be seated at an especially arranged table and will have as their honor guest Miss Hunderup. The Chumbo bowl, won by the local guild from guilds over all the northwest at the annual W. W. G. house party last year, will be a centerpiece for the table.

L.H.S. Orchestra Plays at Hot Lake

Much favorable comment is being heard today on the work of the 46-piece high school band which, under the direction of W. W. Nusbaum, made its first formal appearance last evening at Hot Lake.

During the hour's program the group played eleven selections, including waltzes, marches and overtures. The overture "Fortuna" by Zamerick was one of the most popular numbers.

The band has been practicing for just two weeks and most of the members have had their instruments only two months. Considering this the young players have made remarkable strides under Mr. Nusbaum's direction, it is said. The enthusiasm of the players is evidenced by the rapid growth in numbers and by the fact that practices will be continued during the summer.

According to musicians and lovers of music of the city the organization gives promise of becoming a real source of pride both in school and city.

Origin of Practice of Wearing Red Poppy For Dead Heroes Is Explained

"The idea of wearing the poppy in memory of all who died in the World war was presented to the American Legion by one, who, from all information obtainable, was the first in America to wear the poppy—Miss Monia Michael, of Athens, Ga." Mrs. H. E. Brady, of the American Legion Ladies' auxiliary poppy committee, declared today in an interview concerning the history and purposes of "Poppy Day."

"The greater part of the following was taken from her history of its adoption," she continued. "It was on one morning in 1918 while she was serving on the staff of the Y. M. C. A. overseas headquarters at Hamilton hall, Columbia university, N. Y., that a soldier placed in the hands of Miss Monia Michael a copy of the Ladies' Home Journal with Col. John McCrae's 'We Shall Not Sleep' illustrated in it.

"Alone in her office, Miss Michael read and reread this beautiful verse which immortalized the poppy. She caught the message and as she had dedicated herself to the service of her country on the night war was declared, she at that time made a second dedication—'To Keep the Faith'—and always wear a poppy of Flanders Fields as a sign of remembrance of the sacrifices made by those who fell."

In speaking of the poem "In Flanders Fields", which was published in yesterday's issue of The Observer, Mrs. Brady gave the following answer pen[illegible] by Miss Michael:

Oh you who [illegible]
Fields
Sleep sweet [illegible]
We caught the Torch [illegible]
And holding high, we keep the Faith
With all who died!

We cherish, too, the poppy red
That grows on fields were valor led;
It seems to signal to the skies
That blood of heroes never dies,
And lends a luster to the red
Of the flowers that bloom above the dead
In Flanders Fields!

And now the Torch and Poppy red
We wear in honor of your dead.
Fear not that ye have died for naught;
We've learned the lesson that ye taught.
In Flanders Fields!

"As she was penning the last line of this dedication, a committee from the 25th conference of the Y. M. C. A. which was meeting there at that time brought her a check for $10 in appreciation of her efforts to make an attractive Hostess house at headquarters," Mrs. Brady continued. "How strange that you should bring me this gift at this time and I shall buy with it bright poppies—Flanders Fields poppies. Do you know why?' and she showed the men the poem and her answer. They were so impressed that they asked the privilege of presenting the idea to the 25th conference then meeting upstairs.

The conference was also impressed and that afternoon Miss Michael bought silk poppies and, at adjournment of the conference, the men came downstairs and asked for poppies to wear—the first scene in America of wearing the poppy for all who have died."

Poppy day in La Grande this year will be Friday and Saturday, May 27-28.

NO DRY SPOT TO BE LEFT IN BIG 'BOWL'

Break in Levee at McCrea Threatens Last of Louisiana Cane Land

80,000 PERSONS MAY BE AFFECTED

Crevasse Is Expected to Give Mississippi Flood Waters Outlet to Five More Parishes.

NEW ORLEANS, May 24, (AP)—The last dry spot in the famous Louisiana "sugar bowl," an area approximately 150 miles north of New Orleans on the west bank of the Mississippi, was threatened with immediate inundation today through a break in the levee at McCrae, 30 miles below Old river on the east bank of the Atchafalaya.

Two thousand men, augmented early today by an additional thousand, saw their work go for naught when the pent up waters rushed through at 3:30 a. m. Parts of five parishes were in the path of the flood.

Information of the break reached the flood relief director, John M. Parker from the sheriff of Pointe Coupee parish, whose son was at work in the levee when the crevasse occurred. Secretary of Commerce Hoover was immediately informed.

1500 Leave District

Warned of the danger, 1500 persons had been evacuated from the area.

Officials had estimated that a break at McCrea would affect 80,000 persons, flooding 1,142,000 acres of rich cane lands between the Atchafalaya and the western levee of the Mississippi.

No lives were lost when the crevasse occurred.

The break is expected to give the floodwaters an outlet to five additional parishes of the "sugar bowl" but it could not have found the flood relief organization better prepared for immediate functioning said Mr. Parker.

Flyer Brings Report

A naval aviator immediately sent to the scene reported the gap was 400 feet wide at 7 o'clock.

Central Oregon Highway Project Receives Favor

Years of Constant Effort Result in State Board Giving Encouragement to Dayville Route.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 24 (AP)—After many years of constant effort, boosters for the proposed Mitchell-Dayville state highway in Central Oregon, received encouragement today.

The highway commissioners informed a delegation that contracts would be let next fall for work on the road, work to start as early next spring as weather will permit. This road will make another short-cut in Central Oregon.

After half an hour's discussion with the Douglas county court, the commission unanimously voted down the court's proposal to change the survey of the Roosevelt highway through the town of Winchester Bay.

A delegation from Harney county was promised that if the engineer's report is favorable the state will cooperate on gravel-surfacing the Central Oregon highway from Sage Hen summit to Burns.

No bids were received for proposed slips for the Gold Beach-Wedderburn ferry in Curry county.

BRITISH MAY OUST SOVIET DELEGATION

Unless House Disapproves of Course, Will Recall Moscow Mission

MOVE RESULT OF RAID IN LONDON

Agents of Russian Government Believed to Have Stolen Important Government Papers.

LONDON, May 24, (AP)—Premier Baldwin told the house of commons today that Great Britain would terminate her trade agreement with Russia on Thursday and require withdrawal of the trade delegation and soviet mission from London unless the house should express disapproval of this course.

The premier added that Great Britain, if the house approved, also would recall her mission from Moscow.

Premier Baldwin, answering a question by J. R. Clynes, laborite, as to whether he could now make a full statement regarding the raid on soviet house and the result of the search, replied, "Yes, sir," to the accompaniment of loud conservative cheers.

Tells of Raid

The premier said that for many months the police in collaboration with the military authorities, have been investigating the activities of a group of secret agents engaged in an attempt to obtain highly confidential documents relating to the armed forces of Great Britain.

The premier said that from information received and evidence obtained as a result of these investigations, it becomes increasingly difficult to resist the conclusion that the afents were working in behalf of the soviet government and had obtained their instructions from members of the Russian trade delegation at soviet house who arranged for the conveyance to Moscow of photographs or copies of the documents obtained.

Suspicions Confirmed.

Premier Baldwin continued that these suspicions were confirmed when early this year a British subject, employed by the air force, was convicted of stealing two such documents. These documents were recovered and the individual is now undergoing imprisonment. The identity of the secret organization on behalf of which this man had obtained the documents and its connection with a similar Russian organization had been established.

The premier said further that a document of official and highly confidential character, and so marked, recently had been found to be missing and from information and documentary evidence, it became clear it had been conveyed to soviet house and there reproduced by a photostatic process.

Hastily Burns Papers

During the raid on soviet house, the premier said, a locked room
