AT THE THEATERS

Buffalo Bill Jr. In Western At The Star

In accord with the policy of booking only the very best in Western screen dramas, the Star theater is offering today and Wednesday, Buffalo Bill Jr. in his latest production, a comedy-melodrama which bears the graphic title, "Bad Man's Bluff," and is claimed by those who have seen it to be something far above the usual run of Westerns.

This said to contain more of the real spirit of fast riding, curious fighting and tense situations, and in addition, it contains a splendid tender romance and also a most side-splitting type. The cast is a most capable one headed, as it is by Molly Malone in the role of Alice Hardy, the lovely owner of Verde Ranch, to which the hero comes in his desperate fight—where he comes in his entire worldly goods, Frank Watson and Wilbur McGaughey as a pair of villains, and most witty schemers they are.

Robert McKenna is seen in one of his intangible comedy roles, this time as a movie-struck cook, and it is said that this role gives him his greatest opportunity to show his splendid talent. Alvin J. Neitz directed from the magazine story by Paul Hahn. "Bad Man's Bluff" is a Lester F. Scott, Jr. production, and this a itself should be sufficient guarantee of its high standard.

"Stop bookums," is the comedy showing.

"The Magician" Coming To Arcade Tomorrow

"The Magician," which will have its first showing at the Arcade theater Wednesday, is the first Rex Ingram production for Metro-Goldwyn since his widely discussed and highly successful screen version of "The Sign of the Cross" (Mare Nostrum, for short).

The story of "The Magician" is that of a girl caught between the forces of a Magician, whom she is unable to resist, and the love for a young man who has saved her from being a helpless cripple by performing a delicate operation on her spine, which started the magical world.

Ingram has taken the Somerset Maugham story and with his usual brilliance in the handling of such a delicate subject, has developed a powerful romantic drama.

Allen Terry anchors the part of Margaret Daumery, the young sculptress and gives one of the finest performances she has ever registered on the screen.

Paul Wegener has the title role and his noted German character appears to give a better advantage than he did in "The Golden," which created a sensation when released in the United States several years ago.

Ivan Petrovich, a young Serbian actor, plays opposite Miss Terry and Fritzi Greiner, the famous French actor and stage director, makes a most important character part.

The entire production was made in Europe on the original locations described by the author in his book.

The Mack Bennett, Allen Day comedy "Dance the Dimples," will also be shown.

In freezing the end side of a cake the thick side is spread first with a thin side of powdered sugar and water. When this is dry it is frosted over to make the icing smooth.

Marie Prevost In Comedy "Almost a Lady"

Marie Prevost's new Metropolitan comedy production "Almost a Lady," which comes to the Sherry theater tonight only, provides Miss Prevost, the star, with a splendid opportunity for pathos and the colorful roles in which she is at her best. Her supporting cast includes Harrison Ford, George K. Arthur, Harvey Glimmer, Teala Prizana and John Miljan.

"Almost a Lady" is based upon Frank Adams' story, "Skin Deep," and has as its central theme the tribulations of a poor model's model and the social indignities of a newly-rich Irish couple. Marie Prevost, as the model, is asked by the Irish climber to impersonate a celebrated authoress who failed to appear at her first reception. Harrison Ford is mistaken for a duke. Complications, full of humor and drama, mark the denouement.

The comic situations are in the clever hands of Trilby Frizana as the newly wealthy matron and her beer-drinking, life-loving, simple husband, Harvey Glimmer. The story was adapted for the screen by P. McGraw Willis. E. Mason Howard directed.
